Bronate: It's a simple matter of life and death.

Wheat should live.
Weeds should die.

And that's the way it would be if most companies didn't have such a difficult time making a weed killer that leaves the wheat alone.

A New Kind of Weedkiller.

The first thing we did was start out with a whole new concept.

Instead of worrying so much about killing the weeds (that would come, we knew) we worried about the wheat.

Always the wheat.

After years of experimenting and hundreds of tests we finally were satisfied that we had a general weed killer for which wheat had an unusually high tolerance. A herbicide that also took care of the important broadleaf weeds that keep popping up with your wheat.

But that wasn't where we stopped.

Because then we took special aim at the 6 specific weeds that drive wheat farmers here in the Northwest crazy.

First, we took care of Tarweed. Then Gromwell and Purple Mustard. Then — always making sure that high crop tolerance was there — we conquered Henbit and Dogfennel, and even Crowfoot.

Then, and only then, were we satisfied. Because after years of working we finally had a weed killer that not only kills the broadest range of weeds, but also gives you a much higher bushel yield per acre than you've ever had before.

Used in Real Life.

Bronate is way beyond the test stage. Bronate has been on the market now for four years. It is actually being used by hundreds of your neighboring farmers with great success.

Because with Bronate the wheat lives. And the weeds die. And that's the way it was meant to be.
