John Cole Stars In Service Games

On Nov. 23, the USS Enterprise's 11 man tackle football team completed their season with a 28-6 win over the Fort Eustis team in the annual Drumstick Bowl game. The Atoms finished their highly successful season with a record of 10 wins and 1 loss giving them the Service League Championship.

Playing on the Atoms was a 1964 graduate of Heppner High School, MMI John F. Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Clark, La Grande. John did not join the team until Oct. 27 due to injuries; he immediately took over starting Tailback spot on offense and starting Halfback spot on Defense, also elected as a Co-Captain of the team. John's best effort was in the final game against the Fort Eustis team. He was voted the Most Valuable Player for the game and presented a trophy by Captain R. S. Peterson of the USS Enterprise.

Guidelines Set For Consultations

At a meeting held on Nov. 17, the following consultation guidelines and meeting dates were mutually agreed to by both the School Board and the Professional Economics Committee of Morrow County School District R-1.

- The School Board and the Professional Economics Committee will each select a three member team for the actual consultation process. One member of each three man team will be appointed to serve as spokesman for that group. The other members of both groups will be present at the meetings. This will keep all members informed on the progress being made and have them available for a special caucus at any time.
- Press release statements will be prepared following each meeting. The statements will be a progress report and will be approved by the spokesman for each group. The initial press release regarding the teachers' requests will be prepared by the Professional Economics Committee and edited by the School Board. All sessions will be taped.
- All meetings will begin at 7:30 p.m., and will adjourn at approximately 9:30 p.m.
- Meeting schedule:
 - December 9, 1969—7:30 p.m., Heppner High, Continue discussions.
 - January 6, 1970—7:30 p.m., Lexington, Continue discussions.
 - January 20, 1970—7:30 p.m., Boardman, Reach agreement or declare persistent disagreement.
 Additional meetings could be scheduled in December or January if needed. If a persistent disagreement is declared the calendar is then established by law.

In that game he completed 13 of 21 passes for 207 yards and 2 TD's, carried the ball 19 times for 114 yards and 2 TD's, returned 2 kickoffs for 31 yards and 5 punts for 63 yards. From his defensive halfback spot he intercepted 4 Blue Lightning passes for 28 yards and made numerous unassisted tackles.

For the 5 games in which he participated he completed 40 of 64 passes, 7 for TD's, carried the ball 43 times for 334 yards and 8 TD's, returned 8 kickoffs for 152 yards and 12 punts for 237 yards. He intercepted 9 passes and only had 2 of his intercepted.

John was given the game ball in the last league game but he did not keep it. After getting it signed by the team he sent it to his 1-year-old nephew David Clark in memory of his Foster brother, David Clark, who was killed in Vietnam August 25, 1967.

John is a fine young man and a person that his home town and high school can be very proud of. (By Coach White).

Sheepmen to Hear Of Development

A pattern of change which can mean "a whole new industry" will be outlined for sheepmen from West Coast states in Portland Dec. 3-5.

The sixth and final regional seminar to consider the Sheep Industry Development Program (SIDP) will be held at the Imperial Hotel, reports Dr. John R. Landers, Jr., Oregon State University extension animal scientist, with representatives from Oregon, Washington, California, Alaska and Hawaii attending.

The Oregon Sheepgrowers Association has scheduled its annual meeting for Portland at the same time.

The development program has been in the making for two years, Landers notes, under the joint sponsorship of the American Sheep Producers Council and the Federal Extension Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Landers has served as West Coast representative on the program's planning committee.

Actually, the Portland meeting is near the end of the first phase of the development effort, the specialist explains. The first phase was marketing and production research. The second phase, now ready to begin, is the development of production and management systems which can be adapted by Oregon and the nation's sheep producers.

Small Schools Ask For Re-Run of Press Parley

Newspaper and yearbook staff members and advisors from eight Central Oregon High schools participated in the first annual Small Schools Publications Conference, sponsored by Heppner High last Saturday. Sixty people took part in the six-hour conference.

Journalism students from Heppner High conducted 11 workshop sessions, making presentations on topics of concern to newspaper and yearbook staffs. Round table discussions followed the presentations.

The Heppner Chapter of Quill and Scroll, national journalism honorary, were general chairmen for the conference. They presided over the noon luncheon in the cafeteria, prepared and served by Mrs. Bob Jepsen and Mrs. Bud Peck.

Guests at the luncheon were Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Heard, new editors and publishers of the Heppner Gazette-Times.

Karla Weatherford introduced members of Quill and Scroll and gave a short description of requirements for membership. Mrs. Rachel Dick, Heppner High publications advisor, talked on "Sidelights to Journalism," mentioning scholarship opportunities for both students and advisors, and carryover values of journalism training.

Quill and Scroll members who were in charge of the conference arrangements included Bob Peck, Susan Jepsen, Greg Sweek, Valerie Boyer, Pat Kilkenny and Karla Weatherford.

John Harris, Kevin Dick, Dave Gunderson, Phil Ayres, Bill Greenup, Michelle Miller, Vicky Steagall, Shella Healy, Judy Gentry and Judy Barclay were other Heppner High students who planned and participated in the conference.

Student and advisor representatives from Lone, Echo, Arlington, Riverside, Spray, Ukiah, and Culver attended the day's session. A number of other schools in the area had been invited but were unable to send representatives due to conflicts.

Participants were asked for written evaluations of the sessions, to be used to plan future conferences. All asked that the workshops be presented next year, because the type of basic information provided is needed by small schools. "Other conferences, geared necessarily also to needs of the larger high schools, assume journalism training has been received by staff members and advisors, and that journalism is included in the schools' curriculum," explained Mrs. Dick.

Lights for Hospital Parking Area OK'd

Additional lights for the parking lots of the front and rear entrances of the Pioneer Hospital were voted at the annual meeting last Thursday. Additional cost was estimated to be $900.

Present for the meeting were chairman Clarence Rosewall, Faye Munkers, Harriet Evans and Margaret Troedson, all board members; W. L. O'Hara, hospital administrator; Joan S. Gray, superintendent of nurses; Dr. W. H. Wolff, Judge Paul Jones, Herman W. Winter, district attorney and Mrs. Charles Heard of the Gazette-Times.

The group reviewed the audit reports made by Witherell, Witherell & Morrison of Pendleton. The gross income for the current year decreased while the operating expenses increased resulting in an increased loss of $8,650 over the previous year for a total loss of $14,703 for 1968-69.

Accounts receivable $58,855.36 is the amount currently due from patients, medicare and insurance companies for services rendered. Accounts receivable in the amount of $17,154.04 comprising about 29% of the current accounts were confirmed by the auditors by direct correspondence with the debtors. Of the accounts circularized no protests as to the correctness of the amount were received.

In general comments the auditors said: "We found your records to be in good order with all supporting data available for examination. Internal controls appear to be adequate and are functioning properly. We note that again some of the minutes of hospital board meetings were not signed by both the secretary and the chairman of the board."

"We wish to thank your hospital administrator and his staff as well as the county officials and employees for the courtesy, cooperation and assistance extended to us throughout the course of this examination."

Annual Report Given
In his annual report, Mr. O'Hara emphasized the need to form a local Hospital planning commission with a broad membership to include a cross section of the people in the area served by the hospital. The group would work out details for a long range improvement program for the hospital.

Such a program would include: remodeling ob, lab, x-ray, emergency offices, PT rooms, laundry, building, nursing home rooms, Physicians and Dentist offices, public health offices as an attraction to bring new physicians to the area.

He stressed the need for community involvement in recruiting Volunteer Ambulance drivers and provide measures to increase occupancy and decrease expenses. He noted the state fire marshal is asking for 100% sprinkling of the building.

Ambulance Rules
Explicit rules and regulations for the Operation of the Morrow County Ambulance Service operated by the Pioneer Memorial Hospital were studied.

The duties of the RN on duty and the Administrator, the driver responsibility, attendant responsibility are all spelled out.
