The bride, escorted to the altar by her brother-in-law, James Cloud of Portland, wore a slim gown of white satin with a full length panel of white lace and long lace sleeves. The gown was fashioned with a pleat in the back accented with a bow at the waist. Her fingertip veil of tulle was held in place with a rhinestone tiara and she carried a bouquet of white roses on a white lace-covered Bible.

All the attendants wore street length dresses of cotton blue brocade with A-line skirts. Their head pieces were flat bows of the blue brocade with shoulder length veils of net with applied flowers. The candles were lighted by Raymond Mabe and Bill Hoover of Fossil.

DOT'S JOTS

Our apology to Linda Jo Tate. We had the right gal but the wrong guy in the head of last week's story of the announcement of her engagement. For this we will send her a gift subscription of the Gazette-Times for a wedding present!

The highlight of last week was a ride out to the Jim West's for a visit at their lambing operations on Rhea Creek. Babies are fun and lambs are close to the top. They jump around stiff legged and bob their tails. It looks like in ecstasy, while they are getting their dinner.

It was a real treat to see the Basques working with the sheep and hear them speak in their very musical language. It hurt me to see them carry the lambs by the leg but they assured me it didn't hurt.

The warm friendliness and hospitality of the Wests made us feel good as did the delicious hot coffee and cookies enjoyed at their round table. The earthenware mugs of blue and grey matched the terry cloth cover on the table. Mrs. West likes to refinish furniture and so do I. She has several pieces in oak to refinish so we had a real hey-day.

One time our son-in-law said I was the most "gonna-do" person he knew. Refinishing furniture is full of "gonna-dos". It takes time, energy and patience because the fun is in the doing.

Another guest at the Wests is a young deer that goes and comes as it wishes. It may be gone two or three days at a time. When it's around, it likes to eat with the sheep. Mrs. West calls her sons to the house with a special whistle. The deer comes on the run when it hears it. During hunting season, Mrs. West puts a bell around the deer's neck and made a red vest for it to wear.

We're looking forward to a return when the "quints" get a little bigger.

Proctor-Pourier Vows Repeated at Irrigon

Brenda Pourier, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Pourier, became the bride of Clarence Proctor, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Proctor, all of Irrigon. Ernest Jorgensen, Justice of the Peace, performed the marriage ceremony at his home, on Feb. 7. The reception was at the Lion's Club Building.

The bride wore a yellow dress with empire waist and white trim. She wore a corsage of yellow roses. The maid of honor was Sally Bunten, of Hermiston, a cousin of the groom. The best man was Phillip Casser of Irrigon.

The bride's mother wore a blue two piece suit with white accessories and a yellow carnation corsage. The groom's mother wore a navy blue dress with black accessories and a yellow carnation corsage.

At the reception the three tiered wedding cake trimmed with yellow roses, was served by the bride's sister, Roberta Pourier. The cake was made by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bayer of Hermiston. Patti Proctor, sister of the groom served coffee, while Dena Pourier, sister-in-law of the bride served punch. The bride's sister Marilyn Pourier was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Rose Mesteth was at the gift table.

The young couple are making their home south of Irrigon.

Small Appliances Training Feb. 26

Project leader training will be given Feb. 26 at the Methodist Church basement from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on "Small Appliances". Particular emphasis will be given to use of blenders in this lesson. Molly Saul, Home Economist for Morrow and Umatilla counties will be present to give the training. Two leader-teachers from each unit will receive this training and give it to their units at March meetings.

Units in Morrow County enjoyed "agent taught" and "free choice meeting" during January and February. A variety of free choice meetings were selected by the groups, among the chosen subjects were Home Beautification, and Hobbies, a Japanese cookery lesson, and a tour. Molly Saul or Naomi Davis visited units here and gave lesson on "Food Fads" on the alternate meeting dates from the "free-choice" studies.

Pruning Demo At Ione Garden Club

Despite the cold, damp weather, 25 men and women witnessed an instructive and entertaining demonstration on pruning roses, shrubs, trees and fruit trees by Tom Zinn, Gilliam County Agent at the Feb. 11 meeting of the Ione Garden Club at Willows Grange. During the first hour Mr. Zinn gave information on the growth of trees and shrubs before giving basic pruning instructions. He said that trees grow longer or taller only from the tip of the bud. The tree does not grow taller from the base of the trunk. He demonstrated rose pruning at the Ed Bistow home, dwarf apple tree pruning at the Herb Ekstrom, Jr. home, and shrub pruning at the Ione UCC parsonage and Carl Bergstrom home.

Morrow County Agent, Harold Kerr, gave eight gardening products as door prizes. The agents prepared a fine display of gardening supplies and pruning equipment from Rietmann's Hardware Store.

Prior to a potluck luncheon at noon, the club, under the leadership of president, Mrs. Willard French held a regular business meeting. Roll call was answered by 13 members who told of the watering, feeding, and spraying care for their chosen flower.

Mrs. French reported that the nursing home patients were very appreciative of the paper flower arrangements that the members made at the January meeting. Mrs. French and Mrs. Kenneth Palmer delivered the gifts and found this experience most gratifying.

Mrs. Ernest Christopherson is chairman of the annual plant sale to be held in April.

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Garry Tullis and Mrs. French.

"Planting to Please", a landscaping study, will be the topic for the March 11 meeting at the home of Mrs. F. T. Martin, with Mrs. Kenneth Klinger and Mrs. Tom Huston as hostesses. Mrs. H. S. Huber is program chairman. Any non-member interested in attending this meeting is to contact Mrs. Martin or the hostesses.
