

George Miller Shows Rock Punch at Meet At Pieper Home

Amazing things were done with rocks and glass by George Miller at the Morrow County Gem and Mineral Club meeting Saturday evening in the McMurry Bldg. He demonstrated the piece of equipment with which he makes holes through rocks. A piece of copper tubing is used as a bit and the compound used in a rock tumbler is used as the abrasive. Just for fun Mr. Miller and Pete McMurry put a hole through the bottom side of a pop bottle.

There were 18 members present. To help increase the membership, Walt Edger, president, will donate a prize at the end of the year for the member attending the most meetings. Mr. and Mrs. McMurry will give a small tumbler as a door prize soon. Anyone interested in joining the Rock Club is asked to call the president or the treasurer, Mrs. E. E. Gonty. Annual dues are $2.50. This includes admittance to the Christmas dinner and party. Paul Miller, field trip chairman, announced plans for a trip to Richland on March 8 to the Columbia Basin Gem and Mineral Show at 400 George Washington Way. Show days are Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Anyone wishing to attend the show may call Mr. Miller or Mr. Edger.

CowBelles Seek Father of Year

All youth and adult organizations are being asked to submit entries for the 1970 Father of the Year program, sponsored by the Oregon CowBelles and the Oregon Beef Council, according to Catherine Fine, State Chairman.

Any group can obtain applications from their local CowBelle group, or their county extension office, Mrs. Fine stated. She went on to say that this program has met with approval throughout the State of Oregon and the selections made in the past years have truly been outstanding. The winner will receive an all-expense trip to Portland, press conferences, TV appearances, $100 worth of Beef Certificates, and in addition will be hosted by a number of Portland's civic clubs.

Beef promotion is one of the objectives of the program, along with recognizing one of Oregon's outstanding fathers. Applications must be submitted by May 1, Mrs. Fine concluded. Dick McElligott was Morrow County's 1969 Father of the Year.

Help with things like balancing your checkbook.

Choosing the right savings program.

Or maybe just getting change for your parking meter.

Why would we like to get to know you?

Because it gives us a chance to do those extra little things that make your banking, and our work, a lot nicer."
