Idle Hands vs. Idle Machines

Both the Morrow County School system and Blue Mountain Community College can be pleased with the vote Monday night on their budgets. The vote was quite overwhelmingly in favor.

We go along 100% with Dale Farnell, Supt. of Public Instruction in believing that the Community Colleges should never lose sight of their reason of existence to serve the community with emphasis on their vocational training.

It's like our press. If it isn't running, it isn't making any money for us. That vocational training equipment needs to be kept running from dawn to dusk. When they run out of college kids to train, take in a few high school students who may be bored with the requirements of Senior English but come to life while working on a car. This has proven in other areas to cut down on drop outs.

Help Wanted — Please

The City of Heppner is most anxious to have those Shobe flood questionnaires returned to the City Hall as soon as possible. These questionnaires were distributed by the city crews a few weeks ago and were relative to the Shobe floods, the amount of damage and the dates of the floods.

About 5% of the questionnaires have been returned. There are 35 that have not been returned. In order to make up a complete picture for the Corps of Engineers, these questionnaires are most vital.

If you have not turned yours in, because you get another one, give the City Hall a ring, they'll see that you get another one.

The Corps will evaluate the cost of a flood control project on Shobe Creek against the amount of damage that has been sustained in previous floods and the number of times when flooding has occurred.

Flood dates turned in so far were in the years of 1918, 1947, 1949, 1963 and 1969.

PLEASE PLEASE HELP!!

A showing of black and white photographs taken locally is set up in the Bank of Eastern Oregon. Alan Martin, Heppner Elementary principal, has selected some of his best work for this show. The prints reflect a wide range of moods and interests. Most are reflective, restful, contemplative. There are some studies in texture and shadowing. The balance are random selections.

Mr. Martin began using a 35mm camera about 8 years ago. He started with a rather simple camera and learned the basic techniques of composition, exposure, shutter speed, lighting and so forth. Last year he was able to purchase a much more advanced camera, extra lens, filters, closeup equipment, and the like. Since then he has devoted much more time to photography. In the past few months he learned the techniques of developing and printing black and white film. Since then, he hardly uses color film at all because of the great flexibility of black and white film.

His basic philosophy about photography is that the photographer creates the moment much in the same way a painter creates a moment. The camera can do much more than record an image, hardly art. The camera has the potential for creation of moods, impressions, senses of time, and even distortions. By varying the film type, the development, and the printing a photographer can create the message he wants.

He believes that anyone can take good pictures if they really want to. All a person needs is a camera handy and loaded with film, a real desire to learn the basic principles, and be always on the look-out for a possible picture. He knows that pictures are everywhere and the best ones are nearby.

To ERR is human, to really foul up requires a computer.

REMEMBER THIS? REMINISCENCE!

FORTY YEARS AGO

April 10, 1930
Doris Kilinger, seventh grade pupil of Strawberry school, won the silver loving cup donated by the Heppner Lions Club as first prize in the county spelling contest held in Heppner. Cleo Duncan, seventh grade pupil from Heppner won second place and Clifford Yarnell, of Ione, also seventh grade pupil, took third place honors.

Dr. D. V. Poling of Corvallis, who will deliver the commencement address for Heppner High School, will also give the Memorial Day address here, May 30.

A group of young people were entertained Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Owen Leathers at Hardman. Card playing occupied part of the evening entertainment.

A Rhode Island Red egg weighing a quarter of a pound and measuring 8 1/2 inches around the long way and 7 inches around the other way was found in a nest at the Oscar Keithley farm. Inside of it was a fully developed egg, enclosed in another shell, measuring 5 1/2 inches in circumference one way and 5 1/2 inches the other direction.

To correct a menace to school children caused by existing traffic conditions at the corner of Main and Baltimore streets, the city council ordered the marking off of a lane straight across from the Tum-A-Lum Lumber

Co. corner, which school children will be asked to follow.

Funeral services for Charles Perriem Mallory, 72, early resident of Oregon, were held Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Mallory was struck and instantly killed by an automobile at Olympia, Wn., on March 27.

"Watch Your Step, Wilton," a three-act comedy will be presented by the senior class of Lexington high school, April 26.

Noah Clark of Eight Mile, who has purchased a tractor, states this is the best way of plowing on a wheat ranch. He finished plowing a week ago, getting through much quicker than he could have with teams.

TO THE EDITOR. . .

Dear Editors: It isn't every Easter that flowers are cabled from England to a florist here for delivery. The day before Easter I received a beautiful potted plant cabled from England from the niece of English Frank Hale — Barbara Creek, Diana Clarke and Jacqueline Gibbs.

It was indeed a great surprise to receive flowers from "Your English Family." I was thrilled no end.

Sincerely
Josephine Mahoney Baker

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT COZAD (Sheila Luciani). (Throckmorton photo).

Wedding Bells Ring For Sheila Luciani

Sheila Kay Luciani, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Luciani of Butter Creek became the bride of Robert Dykes Cozad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Cozad of Huntington Beach, Calif., on March 22 at 2 p.m. at Trinity Lutheran Church in Hermiston. The Rev. Samuel Goldenman read the ceremony.

The bride given in marriage by her parents wore a full length gown of Alencon lace made on empire lines with flowing skirt and cage train. Her tulle veil was held in place with a headpiece of lace and satin flowers. She carried a nosegay of pink rosebuds and white carnations.

Patty Luciani, sister of the bride was maid of honor. Another sister, Mrs. Douglas Anderson and Merri Lee Jacobs of Moses Lake and Paula Siewert, friends of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore gowns of green dotted Swiss over taffeta and carried nosegays of pink rosebuds and white carnations. Their headpieces were of green dotted Swiss with green bows tipped with pink flowerets.

Best man for the bridegroom was his brother, Jeff Cozad of Huntington Beach and ushers were Jim Routt, Portland fraternity brother of the bridegroom, Hoot Haugsten, Beaverton, friend of the bridegroom and Douglas Anderson, brother-in-law of the bride.

John Henry Luciani, brother of the bride and Vernon Weber lighted the candles. Pink hydrangea plants decorated the altar and pink and white carnation bouquets were tied on the candleabra. Pew bows were white satin ribbons.

Tim Robinson, Hermiston, sang "One Heart, One Hand" accompanied by Mrs. Joe Pitzer, who also played the nuptial music.

Reception Follows
A reception for the young couple was held in the Civic Recreation Center in Hermiston. The bride's table was centered with a four-tiered cake decorated with pink and white rosebuds and topped with wedding bells and lily of the valley tied with pink. After the cutting of the first piece by the bride and bridegroom, the cake was served by Pat McMullen, Cyndi Herrick and Sandi Smick.

Mrs. John Luciani, grandmother of the bride poured coffee and Marlan Hibbard, Pendleton, aunt of the bride served punch. Mrs. Robert Grinsell of Portland, cousin of the bride arranged the gift table and Mrs. Ray Williams, La Grande, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book. Lori Rhea passed wheat bags and groom's cake.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Luciani wore a pink silk coat dress with matching accessories and her corsage was of pale pink rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother chose a two-piece dress of beige silk with matching accessories. Her corsage was of deep pink rosebuds.

Assisting about the rooms at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Weber, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fackler, all of Hermiston; Mr. and Mrs. Ferdie Hudeman of Stanfield; Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Correa and Mr. and Mrs. Blair Coleman of Echo. Out-of-town guests came from La Grande, Portland, Spokane, Klamath Falls, Grants Pass, Stanfield, Ione, Heppner and Echo. Honored guests were Mrs. Joseph Drinkwater, aunt of the bridegroom from Klamath Falls, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Potts, Grants Pass, friends of the bridegroom's parents.

Sheila was a 1958 graduate of Heppner High School. Robert was a 1966 graduate of Sunset High School in Portland.

The bridegroom's parents hosted a dinner at the Caravan Broiler for 19 guests following the rehearsal Saturday evening.

For Traveling
For traveling the bride chose an aqua sheath dress trimmed in brown suede with matching accessories and wore an orange camellia corsage. The couple spent several days skiing at Bogus Basin near Boise before returning to Corvallis. The bridegroom is a senior in math and the bride is a sophomore in business at OSU.

Sans Souci Donates To Heppner Library

Sans Souci Rebekah Lodge No. 33 met April 3. Noble Grand Esther Bergstrom noted the list that were ill. Cheer cards were signed to be sent to a good many of those absent.

Vera Boutelle of Pearl R. L. No. 107 of Prosser, Wn., served as chaplain. A long time member of Sans Souci, Tena Scott from Hermiston was welcomed by the Noble Grand. A contribution was made to the Heppner Library as a memorial to the late Frank McDaniel.

Lodge decreed that Rebekah Lodges observe the birthday anniversary. Excerpts from the life of Schuyler Colfax, Founder of the Degree were read by Opal Cook. He was born in 1823. He was recognized as a great writer and orator. He was also involved in politics serving two terms as Speaker of the House and was elected on the first ballot in 1868 to vice president of the United States under Grant. His fraternal work in Odd Fellowship also was of the highest serving well in all branches of the Order as organizing and establishing the Rebekah Degree.

Mrs. Cook also tentatively planned a money making project per capita tax is due in June. Each member should check official receipts and be assured of good standing. The Sovereign Grand Lodge is to be hosted in Portland in 1975. All Oregon lodges are carrying an extra assessment to prepare for this huge delegation.

Betty Rood served refreshments after closing of the lodge. Next meeting April 17.

OSU Sheep, Wool Day April 18
Animal health will be spotlighted during the annual Sheep and Wool Day at Oregon State University Saturday, April 18, according to Dr. John Landers, OSU extension animal scientist.

Much of this year's program also parallels the goals of the new Sheep Industry Development Program which was launched last fall by the nation's sheepmen. Landers adds, Registration will begin at 9 a.m. in Withycombe Hall on the OSU campus and the program proper will start at 9:30.

Soroptimists Date Senior Tea

May 17 has been set by the Soroptimists for their annual tea honoring the girls of the Senior Class. Event will be at the home of Mrs. Wavel Wilkinson.

At their Thursday meeting the group voted $25 toward Linda's travel fund. Group hopes to hear an account of her travels next fall.

Serving on the nominating committee are Joyce Johnson, Madge Thompson and Daisy Collins. They will report on April 16.

Mrs. Glenn Smith is chairman of the Senior Girls' Tea. Also on the committee are Marilyn Phegley, Bettie Doherty, Alice Soward, Justine Weatherford, Olive Hughes, Joyce Kitch, Wavel Wilkinson, Marlene Bergstrom, Dorothy Heard and Vi Lanham. The group was to meet April 8.

The "Hair Do" project at the Nursing Home has made a fantastic change in some of the women. Every woman knows the therapeutic value of a hair do. It was reported that the women are now watching TV. Some have bought new clothes and are even talking fashions. The project will continue each Saturday. Ida Farra who is not a Soroptimist has offered to help. Anyone wishing to help even occasionally is asked to call Mrs. Doherty at 6-5566.

Reservations have been sent to the Regional Convention in Yakima for five members. Going are Elaine George, Etta Parker, Eleanor Gonty and Vi Lanham.

Sandy Matheny and Debby Warren last year's delegates to Girls State, will report at the Apr. 9 meeting. Sandy will accompany members as they practice singing for the Regional Conference.

Mrs. Howard Pettyjohn and Mrs. Charlie Heard will provide the casserole and salads for the May 7 meeting.

New Soroptimist Club

Several members planned to go to Pendleton Saturday evening for a no-host dinner at the Tapadera. La Grande members asked Heppner to join with them in helping form a Soroptimist Club in Pendleton. They reported there were 30 women interested in organizing.

Birthday greetings were sung for Elaine George, Helen Sherman and Marlene Bergstrom. Members enjoyed birthday cake for dessert.

BICYCLES

City regulations prohibit riding bicycles on sidewalks on Main Street in Heppner, and on any other sidewalk when occupied by pedestrians. Bicycle riders on streets and highways are subject to the same traffic regulations as motorists, except those regulations which, by their nature, cannot apply to bicycles.

These rules also apply to any person who rides, drives or leads an animal on a street or highway.

Violation of the bicycle laws may result in your bike being confiscated.

Chief of Police, Heppner.
