DOT'S JOTS

Sorry about leaving one of young Michael Paul McBride's great grandmothers out of last week's story. She is Mrs. D. C. Rogers of Walla Walla.

Just when I was about ready to climb the walls, Al Martin came to my rescue on the polaroid. I had never used my light meter with any camera except the polaroid. After I used it with the Rollicord, I forgot to change the ASA reading. So simple, Al tells me it has one of the best lenses made. Nice to know it was the photographer and not the camera!

Then I went to another expert on the Rollicord. This little switch has to be on X and not M because if it is on M the shutter opens AFTER the flash which explains why I was getting blank! This gentleman told me the Rollicord was one of the best cameras made and would take the abuse that a newspaper camera has to take.

Now with all of that help, can anyone explain how come my picture of Mabel Allen modeling her 3-piece pants suit shows only the top half. She was most gracious about changing her clothes so I could get the picture at the Achievement Day program.

Lt. Erickson Here

Lt. Kermit A. Erickson arrived Saturday from Vietnam to visit here with friends. He is staying at the Louis Carlson ranch. While he was going to college he worked on the Carlson ranch and for many of the other ranches in the area. His home is in North Dakota. After school is out he and Lynn Bowman, Home Ec instructor at Lone, will be married at Bowman, N. D. They will make their home in Oklahoma where Lt. Erickson will be stationed.

eon was absolutely out of this world. Salads and desserts were of so many kinds. I took a second dip of those delicious chicken and noodles made by the Pine City unit instead of having dessert.

My work is always interfering with my pleasure so I didn't get to stay for the program but there was a big crowd and everyone was so relaxed and having a good time.

I just happened to sit across the table from Mary Lee Marlow, the Gazette-Times correspondent from Boardman. I enjoyed meeting her and she tells me she will soon have written news for the GT. I believe it was 15 years!

Soroptimists Enjoy Hawaiian Luau

A Hawaiian Luau was one of the highlights for last week's 52nd Soroptimist Regional Conference in Yakima. More than 400 were entertained in Hawaiian style. Heppner members dressed in mums who enjoyed the weekend were Mrs. Conley Latham, Mrs. Glenn Smith, Mrs. Etta Parker, Mrs. Elaine George, and Mrs. E. E. Gonty.

Mrs. George served on the elections committee. The elections were exciting and a second balloting was required in the election for Regional Governor which saw Miss Peggy Cause of Bremerton the winner and the district offices with Mrs. Irene Hollenbeck of Ashland being elected district director for Dist. No. 2 and Mrs. Margaret Strobe of Klamath Falls as secretary. Mrs. Dorothy Berry of Portland was elected regional secretary and Mrs. Alice Rasmussen of Hood River, regional treasurer.

The theme of the convention "Knowledge Is the Key" was followed in reports and sessions on Education and Understanding, Service Objectives, Scholarships, Sister Clubs, Public Affairs and a resume of the work on drugs and narcotics.
