To the greatest little town on earth:

I, Dian Tally and Teri Thompson wish to send you all our thanks to show our appreciation and gratitude for your concern when we had our car accident on May 24, 1970.

The other two girls are doing fine, my head is better, and Teri's walking around in high spirits and lots of smiles. She's going to be able to finish her schooling and pretty soon will be running around twice as fast as before.

Thanks again to the Gunderson's and the Nuttings. I'm sorry I had to shatter your Sunday morning with such a horrible sight. God was certainly with us.

Our families wish to thank Van Winkle's Motel, The Northwestern, The Wagon Wheel, the flower shop, Ford's Garage, Rex-all Drug Store, Gray's Station — you name it — we stopped there for your assistance.

Special thanks from Teri and I to the great hospital staff that nursed us through that long week. Teri missed you all when she left and you know she didn't mind us even half as well as she minded you girls. Teri also wants Dr. Tibbles to know that she does not have a dirty face anymore. She's still a pretty little girl. Teri says the hospital engineer, Bob Lowe was just great to her.

Also Dr. Tibbles, my head's in great shape—I'm hard-headed and back to normal, and my hair's even growing back pretty fast, so I guess I'll forgive you for cutting my hair.

Thanks so much Dr. Wolff for being our doctor and putting up with some onry girls. We were very glad to have you as the attending physician.

Our thanks to the many visitors we had, from Pendleton, Athens, Heppner, and other surrounding towns — The Dennis O'Donnell's, Tom and Donna Pointer, Dee Gribble, Paul Hisler, Jr., Mrs. Gunderson, Mrs. Nutting, and the three girls who didn't even know Teri and brought her a gift. Thanks so much, too, to all of you who sent your wishes and inquired so much about us.

Everyone was so beautiful and really treated us wonderful. We can't thank you enough for all your kindness and care.

We loved your little town and we hope to see you all during the Morrow County Fair and Rodeo. We'll come in quietly this time!!!

With all our love,
Dian Tally
Teri Thompson

P.S. Could we please have a copy of this paper sent to us? Thanks.

Dear Editor:

Many are complaining about the way the weather has been treating us. Do we realize that God in heaven is in control of the elements of nature? They move at His command. "The earth is the Lord's." Everything must bow to the creator. In view of this fact, we ought to do some serious thinking. Is God trying to speak to us through the many catastrophes that occur today?

God sought to speak to man in the days of Noah, but man would not listen. God had to bring destruction upon the human race, because the thought of man were on evil continual. Only the righteous were saved. God said "My Spirit shall not always strive with man."

Now as we approach the end of time itself, we see a similar picture. 2 Timothy 3:1-5 (Amplified translation) says "But understand this, that in the last days there will set in perilous times of great stress and trouble-hard to deal with and hard to bear. For people will be lovers of self and selfcentered, lovers of money . . . They will be abusive, disobedient to parents, ungrateful, unholy and profane. They will be . . . intemperate and loose in morals and conduct, uncontrolled and fierce, haters of good . . . lovers of sensual pleasures and vain amusements more than and rather than lovers of God. For although they hold a form of piety (true religion) they deny and reject and are strangers to the power of it—their conduct belies the genuineness of their profession . . . It takes more than the efforts of men and women to right this condition. Only God, through His son Jesus Christ, can change the heart of man from evil to righteousness."

2 Chron. 7:13-14 says "If I shut up heaven that there be no rain, or if I command the locusts to devour the land, or if I send pestilence among my people; if my People, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

How will we respond?
Sincerely,
Floyd Everhart, Pastor
Church of the Nazarene

Notes from Linda

Putney, Vermont
June 22, 1970
Dear Mom and all:
This place is fascinating. All of the girls are from everywhere and the teachers are natives of Germany, Austria, Spain, Greece, Russia, etc. This, in itself, is quite an experience.

I have two roommates. Becky is from Cedar Rapids, Iowa and Annie is from Washington, D.C. Across the hall is Darlene from Trenton, N. J. Angela from Tallahassee, Betsy from Concord and so it goes on. Each person has a different family, a different background, and a different personality. It is an education that I'm so glad to get.

I'm so tired but there's so much to see and do, that I know I won't get to bed before 12 again. — You really would not believe Putney. Two guys at the general store are really nuts. It was one of their 6 month birthday, so everyone sang Happy Birthday for him. After "crashing several different "Na-tionalties" campfires, we all decided it was time to get ready for bed. Shock — we got clean linen today. What is really funny is that everyone around here says they are going to bed early, yet hardly anyone makes it.

Last Sunday Darlene and I walked to Putney to church. There are two churches, one Catholic and one Presbyterian. I hope to get to attend both. — At eight I went to the skits put on by the groups that leave for their countries today. Each group does a skit the night before they leave. Since we are the last group to leave, we shouldn't have too much trouble.

The Debacle in the Stock Market

When President Nixon said, "If I had money I would buy stock today," he exposed his immaturity in fiscal matters. Remember, that Nixon and many of the men who surround him were still green behind their ears in the 30's. They were not nurtured to meet the present situation. When the investment counselors in advising the investors to fill their portfolios with blue chips, they have cut their support of confidence from under hundreds of small stock companies. They, in a way, are being thrown to the wolves, and some of them will be devoured. When the counselors run away from everything but blue chip—they are boxed in.

Vacation in Owyhee Country

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Kircher are home from vacation which they spent roaming the Owyhee country south and east of Jordan Valley. This is old Paiute country and they found quite a few Indian artifacts . . . and sunburn. They went down by way of Burns and McDermott. Enroute home they swung by French Glen, Traci and Teddy stayed with their grandparents at Florence.

Young Couple Write Marriage Vows

Ione United Church of Christ was the setting for the wedding ceremony which joined in marriage Miss Berniece Matthews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace (Mike) Matthews of Ione and Patrick Thornton, son of Mrs. Rex Thornton and the late Mr. Thornton of The Dalles. Vows that had been written by the couple were exchanged on Sunday, June 14, at 2:00 p.m. ceremony.

The double ring service was performed by the Rev. Don Johnson of the First Christian Church of Heppner, in a setting of branched candleabras and large baskets of yellow gladiolus, white stock, and Esther Reed daisies. White stock and white mums in brass vases were on the altar. The pews were marked with bows of white satin, blue net and yellow rosebuds. The windows of the church were decorated with arrangements of yellow mums.

Mrs. Darrell James sang, "Till", "The Wedding Prayer", and "Whither Thou Goest", accompanied by Mr. Darrell James. The professional, "Love Theme from Romeo and Juliet" and recessional, "Trumpets Triumphant" were also played by Mr. James.

The bride escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents, wore a floor length empire style gown of white crepe trimmed with crystal beads and pearls. It was fashioned with a high neckline and long sleeves. The train of her dress was chapel length. Her chapel length veil was held in place by a lace beaded Juliet cap and attached were two elbow length blusher veils. She carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations and yellow rosebuds with streamers of white stephanotis on a family Bible that had belonged to her great, great grandmother. She also wore the traditional blue garter, a gift from Mrs. Eugene Dockter, and she wore a penny in her shoe minted the year of her birth and placed there by her father. She carried a handkerchief belonging to the bridegroom's mother.

Deniece Matthews, twin sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Michael Thornton of The Dalles and Miss Amy Wilson of Salem. Tammie Jo Dockter of Ione was a junior bridesmaid. All wore identical floor length gowns of sapphire blue, empire style with puff sleeves and matching flower trim. Headpieces were of the same material as dress with short illusion veil attached. They carried colonial nosegays of yellow carnations and blue rosebuds.

David Moore of Coos Bay was best man and ushers were Dave Thompson of The Dalles and Virgil Morgan of Ione, cousin of the bride.

Candlelighters were Debra and Donna Palmer of Ione. Ramona Akers of Pine Ridge, S. D. was flower girl and ring bearer was Craig Rea of Ione.

Brides' Mothers
For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Matthews wore a beige linen dress with pink and beige accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a green linen dress with green and beige accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of pink rosebuds.

Following the ceremony the reception was held in the social room of the church with 170 guests attending. After the first piece of the four-tiered cake, topped with white satin bells, was cut by the couple, it was cut and served by Mrs. Franklin Ely, Mrs. Elvin Ely of Boardman, and Mrs. Joe Matthews of Roseburg, aunts of the bride. They were assisted by Mrs. Walt Roberts, Mrs. Eugene Dockter, and Mrs. Francis Ely of Salem. Mrs. Robert Tjomsland of Roseburg, Mrs. Archie Munkers, Lexington and Mrs. Mary Holtz presided at the punch bowl while Mrs. George Johnson, Winlock, Wn., Mrs. Robert Barker, The Dalles, aunt of the bridegroom and Mrs. Ida Coleman served coffee.

Verina French was in charge of guest book, Barbara Bishop, Mrs. Larry Steinke and Karen Nelson were at the gift table. Barbara Palmer passed the scrolls and rice bags. Grooms cake was given out by Anita Palmer.

In charge of the reception was Mrs. Marion Palmer, assisted by Mrs. Helen McCabe, Mrs. Harold Sherer, Mrs. Paul Pettyjohn, Sr., Mrs. Lee Palmer, Mrs. Lewis Halvorsen and Mrs. Clell Rea. Mrs. Milton Morgan was in charge of church decorations.

Going Away
For her going away ensemble, the bride wore a Navy blue dress and hat, trimmed in red and white with red accessories. Her corsage was red carnations.

The bride is a graduate of Ione High school and has attended Oregon College of Education for three years. The groom is a graduate of The Dalles High School and has also attended OCE for three years. After a trip to the coast, the couple are at home at Monmouth attending summer school. In September they will be in-tern teaching in Astoria.

Out of town guests attended from Roseburg, Prineville, Winlock, Wn., Medford, Heppner, Lexington, Echo, The Dalles, Salem, Boardman, Portland and Hermiston.

Preceding the wedding rehearsal the parents of the couple were hosts for a buffet dinner for 30 guests at the Matthews home.

Along the Red Front

By DONALD L. MILLER

When several hundred thousand demonstrators poured into Washington, D. C. to protest the Vietnam War last Nov. 15, it was obvious someone had organized the efforts.

The umbrella organization involved was the New Mobilization Committee, or New Mobe. Its activist leaders have included a wide spectrum of followers of Lenin or Trotsky. Among them are Arnold Johnson of the Communist Party, USA; Fred Halsted, of Socialist Workers Party; Gene Tournour of W.E.B. DuBois Clubs; Carol Lipman, of Young Socialist Alliance.

Despite the mass show of power which New Mobe generated, last November's antiwar protest rally was a failure. Its lack of success has forced New Mobe to a new strategy. Many issues and many places have replaced the concentration of force in one place.

So far this year there have been the inconclusive anti-draft demonstrations of March 16-22; the tax non-payment demonstrations, April 15; the environmental teach-ins, April 22, and the disruptions of defense industry stockholder meetings later in April.

All fit into a campaign of withdrawal. The way to break down any system, after all, is to overtax its capabilities and withdraw its resources.

Applied to a person, this formula involves demanding more than a person can do and withdrawing the help with which he has to do it. Anyone in this bind obviously is headed for a heart attack or a mental breakdown.

As applied to national defense, such a campaign includes demands for withdrawal of U. S. forces from overseas bases; of youth support for the draft; and research material, financial and moral support from the Armed Forces.

New Mobe members, as a group and as individuals, have been giving leadership to these destructive movements. The New Mobe's February, 1970, manual on "Organizing for Civil Disobedience" is an example.

On the expectation that the March 16-22 anti-draft events would lead to civil disobedience, the 15-page "CD" manual details all necessary procedures.

Included are instructions on deciding the form of obstruction to be used, formulation of a timetable, recruiting and organizing the civil disobedience team, arranging for friendly legal aid, providing bail bond money in advance, handling the news media and collecting news clippings.

Detailed instructions are given the civil disobedience team on behavior during and after arrest and for debriefing after release from jail. Team members are advised to rehearse confrontations with police so they will know how to handle each possible situation.

The switch in strategy may be deceptive. While demonstrations now appear smaller and more scattered, participants are becoming more professional and more radical cadres are being trained.

Since New Mobe leaders suffer no penalties for the guidance they give, activities can be expected to escalate in all segments of our society in the next six months — VFW Magazine.

Worth Repeating

Livestock are animals that are bred and raised to keep the producer broke, the commission man confused and the buyer crazy. They are born in the spring, pastured in summer, mortgaged in the fall and given away in the winter.

They vary in size, color, weight and market grade. The man who can guess nearest their weight and market grade is called a livestock buyer by the public, a robber by the rancher, and a poor business man by his banker.

In talking to buyers and sellers, some say the market will go up, some say it will go down. What actually happens is that it goes up after you've sold, and down after you've bought. When you have light cattle, buyers want heavy ones; when you have heavy ones, they want light ones; when they should be fat; and when they're fat, the tallow market goes to hell.

There's only one thing you can depend on: The Commission man will always say, "You should have been here yesterday".

Services at Cutsforth Park this Sunday

There will be a joint worship service of Hope, Heppner, Valley, Ione and Condon Lutheran Churches at Cutsforth Park this Sunday. Services will begin at 11 a.m. Pastor Rudy Mensch will speak on "Your Choice" to be followed by special guest speaker, Mike Sweeney. Mike will speak on "Campus Life" and will give a student's insight on student activities at the University. A brief discussion will follow.

Mike is a member of the ASUO senate; chairman of ASUO student lobby and state legislation; member of the Public Relations bureau and committee of higher education. He will present some very fine points concerning the campus at the University that everyone should hear.

Adon Hamlett will sing accompanied by his son, Richard Hamlett on his trumpet.

There will be a potluck Fellowship dinner and picnic following the worship. The public is cordially invited.

In case of inclement weather, the services and picnic will be held at Hope Lutheran in Heppner.

Put your dollars to work at home—trade in Morrow county.

DOT'S JOTS

m-m several people mentioned there were "no Dot's Jots" last week. Moving and two grandsons for the last two weeks left me no time for "jotting!"

But here's a real fun one! There were four sets of twins taking part in the Berniece Matthews-Patrick Thornton wedding. Deniece was maid of honor for Berniece. Then there were Debra and Donna Palmer, Mrs. Lewis (Carmelita) Halvorsen and Mrs. Archie (Manuelita) Munkers, Mrs. Ruby Johnson and Mrs. Ruth Tjomsland.

Everyone knows Mrs. Halvorsen and Mrs. Munkers as Dot and Dimple. Their mother had read a book and got the name Manuelita for the expected baby; then unexpectedly there were two so they chose Carmelita for the second one. Finally after all the conversation was over and the babies named, their father said, "I'm going to call them Dot and Dimple." Never have they used their lovely names and most people don't know their real names!

Roy Jones who graduated this year from Blue Mountain College, has been working as a broadcaster for KUMA in Pendleton. He will leave shortly for employment with KJDY, the station in John Day.
