It's Coming... It's Coming... It's Here

Are you getting Fair and Rodeo fever? Rodeo and Fair time is coming and will be here before we know it and be over with even sooner.

Birdie Tullis' articles on the 4-H activities at the Fair should be read by everyone. They are teasers for the events that can be witnessed at the Fair.

It all starts Monday, Aug. 24 with the opening of the Children's Corner. 4-H activities fill Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Everything from food, clothing, knitting, flowers, style revue, livestock, demonstrations and showmanship contests.

If you have never seen a Showmanship Contest, plan to see one this year. A sharp 4-H and FFA member is all eyes and all hands as he keeps an eye on the judge and his animal and manipulates his animal in the manner indicated by the judge and makes him look good at all times.

Do plan to attend the 4-H Auction. There is laughter and tears. They are proud and elated. Sometimes the price bid for their animal outweighs the pangs of separation... then sometimes the tears do come at separation.

If you want to help out a 4-H'er, do your share of bidding. You can take home a choice piece of meat or mark it for resale. In this case a meat company will pay you the market price and you pay only the difference between the market price and your bid price... and you have made a 4-H'er happy!

SPECIAL — Remember the 4-H Horse Show starts at 10 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 16. SEE YOU AT THE FAIR AUG. 24-25-26-27-28. HORSE SHOW AUG. 29. RODEO AUG. 29-30.

On Main Street

Things get done... before Rodeo or after Rodeo. Rodeo seems to be a time for a bit of sprucing up and Heppner's Main St. is seeing another new paint job. Next to Hamlin's new yellow and butterscotch is Cal's Cafe with a new Tanager Green front.

A recent editorial in the Gazette-Times on placing benches on Main St. was reprinted in the Oregon Journal. There is now a bench on Main St. and that is in front of Hamlin's. Just right for a cool rest in the shade in the morning.

Hopefully there will be more benches by Rodeo Parade time!

Smart Change

The City-County law enforcement departments have co-operated on a night man on duty at the City Hall for some time. Each has paid half of his salary. Fuller use of the night man's time will be made as he is moved to the Courthouse by agreement of the Heppner City Council and the Morrow County Sheriff's Department.

It is anticipated that the same telephone number will be called as is listed in the present telephone directory. If at any time it is necessary to place someone in jail, there will be a man on duty. If there is someone lodged in jail overnight whether by a city, county or state officer, the night man is invaluable. His presence validates the insurance.

Although this is on a trial basis, we are sure that it will prove to be a wise move.

Filling The Gap

The "generation gap" may not be as wide as many people think. According to a recent authoritative opinion survey, adults and teen-agers agree on a number of important points concerning college student demonstrations. Both teen-agers and adults think that the colleges have been "too easy" on student demonstrators. Teen-agers and adults agree in the belief that the demonstrators are breaking the law. A substantial percentage of both teen-agers and adults believe that law-breaking student demonstrators should be taken to court. Both teen-agers and adults also agree to a substantial extent that demonstrations are the work of small groups of troublemakers on campus. The draft and opposition to the Vietnam war are seen by teen-agers and adults alike as primary causes of student demonstrations. Adults and teen-agers differ in the matter of whether students should have more say concerning the academic side of colleges. The majority of teen-agers would like more control over courses, examinations and so forth, while a majority of adults believe otherwise.

Perhaps the gap of understanding between youth and adult is not as wide as has been popularly assumed. The fact is that each generation faces many unknowns, and so far each has met the test and has contributed to the growing strength and well-being of the nation.

Action Speaks Louder Than Words

Pollution of man's environment has in recent months become a major topic of national debate. Hopefully, this concern will not prove to be the kind of ephemeral fad to which modern nations seem peculiarly disposed. The problem of pollution will be resolved only through patient and steady effort and by the full cooperation of everyone concerned. Pollution is a national problem, not the exclusive problem of particular individuals or groups. Involved in the pollution question are national values, science and technology, politics, industry, economic preferences of consumers and geography.

That numerous factors contribute to the pollution problem has not prevented critics of private industry from exploiting present emotion on the subject. They have latched onto the issue for the purpose of discrediting industry as a whole. Their Holy War is premised on the untenable notion that businessmen alone have created the pollution problem. It is a narrow vision, which sees private enterprise as a scapegoat.

The magnitude of the environmental pollution problem can be grasped by considering the sheer impact of the numbers of people and the unavoidable pollution that they create. Some 200 million tons of garbage are generated in private homes every year—one ton per person. Waste presently discharged into bodies of water exceed five million tons a year. Columbus Ralph de Toledano states the problem succinctly: "... every American contributes his mite even as he drives down to the corner drugstore to buy medication for the ill of pollution."

Yes, there is a pollution problem. But, to indict private industry as the culprit is to grossly misstate the issue. Indications are that industry is doing something about pollution, while some of its critics, it seems, have not progressed beyond verbal abuse.

Heppner Gazette-Times
Heppner, Oregon
Dear Sir:

This letter is to let you know that we do not wish to renew our subscription for the coming year.

We are sad to say that the Gazette-Times is just not the paper it use to be. We are not interested in reading page after page of unrelated tid bits of years gone by and column after column of gossip items. Our interest is with what is happening in Morrow County now!—NEWS WORTHY ARTICLES and MEANINGFUL EDITORIALS—not editorials reprinted from other papers or excerpts taken from minister's sermons, but editorials pertinent to Morrow County and about its problems and achievements.

A newspaper should appeal to all factions of a community but you seem to have the Gazette-Times geared towards those who like to reminisce and read gossip items. Now, this is fine if that is what you want but I feel Morrow County deserves more than that and until then we bid you farewell.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Adrian Cook
Brownsville, Oreg.

Over The Tee Cup

By MARIE McQUARRIE

The Tee Cup time again after two weeks vacation. It is always fun to go traveling, but equally as pleasant to get back to home base and also to play on our own Willow Creek Country Club.

Would you believe? — three golfing pals make really efficient fire fighters? They saw their duty Tuesday morning and fulfilled the necessary requirements. An essential burning of weeds was done on No. 7 tee-off and evidently a small breeze started the blaze again. The smoke was spotted from No. 4 fairway by Fire Chiefs Latham, Gribble and McQuarrie. When they arrived on the scene of the conflagration via playing No. 5 and 6 (these chiefs don't report as quickly as Heppner's efficient fire boys) they could see necessary measure had to be taken. As golf carts aren't equipped with fire fighting hoses and shovels, pallor bottles found in the debris of last year's flood and a fence post served the purpose. A bucket brigade to the creek with the jug was formed by Chief Latham and Gribble. Chief McQuarrie manned the fence post, digging out the burning embers and throwing dirt on the coals. A mighty welcome glass of lemonade was enjoyed, even though the fighters were smoky black and dripping wet from heat and hard work.

Another glance was made at the fire and smoke could be detected rising from the spot. Back to the brigade. The second "run" to the smoldering mess was successful and the three (experienced by this time) Chiefs continued their game of golf.

These above named were the only gals who turned out on Tuesday. A mighty close game of golf was played with Vi carding a 40 and Dee and Marie a 41. The game and fire took from 9:00 a.m. to 11:30, but a good time we all did have. Golf starts at 8:30, but we visited and waited for more golfers, so it was late when we started. Vi provided the much-enjoyed lemonade. There were no golf balls awarded — everyone just congratulated each other on the three good games and decided that was sufficient.

A barbecue was held Saturday evening at 6:00. Hazel and Phil Mahoney (with the help of Lee Gribble as the Mahoneys had to leave) and Bev and Eddie Gunderson were hosts. Blind partners were drawn after the play and the low score of each partner on each hole was used for awarding the prizes. Alladin Derrick and Eddie Gunderson came out with the low total. Alladin and Bob Derrick of Baker were guests of the Gribbles and Barbara Derrick.

McNary and Kinzua golfers are to be the guests of Willow Creek Country Club this coming Sunday, Aug. 9, with an 8:30 a.m. tee-off time. McNary and Kinzua usually turn out with a large number of players when they visit, so let's have a large number from our own club to give them a hearty welcome. Mary Lou Kelly and Marge Gardner are heading the food committee, so expect to be called on for help with the meal to be fed our guests. See you Sunday —

MR. and MRS. THEODORE THOMAS

Farrens-Thomas Repeat Vows

An early summer wedding in Milwaukie united in marriage Miss Kathryn Arlene Farrens and Theodore Hugh Thomas. Vows were exchanged at the Milwaukie Lutheran church June 26.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Norris Farrens, former Heppner residents and now of Milwaukie, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Lee L. Thomas of Eagle Point.

The bride chose the birthday of her late paternal grandmother, Mrs. Ella Sperry Farrens, as her wedding day.

The double ring candlelight ceremony was performed at 8:00 p.m. by the Reverend Lloyd F. Roholt.

Each side of the altar was decorated with brass spiral candelabra with blue candles and white bows and large brass standards of white gladioli and blue delphiniums. Pewes were decorated with aisle candelabra with blue candles and white bows.

Kisses Father
The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. Before leaving him for the altar she raised her veil and kissed him. She wore a gown made of Chantilly lace fashioned with an Empire bodice and A-line skirt with a high scalloped neckline and long bishop sleeves with scalloped cuff. It had a flowing Watteau train with a bow back and the entire gown was trimmed with seed pearls. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a headpiece of white organza rose and lilies-of-the-valley. She carried a semi-cascade of white gardenia and pink rose-

Identical Gowns
The attendants were identically gowned in full length dresses made of pink and blue crystalline fashioned with an Empire bodice and a flowing skirt with a Mandarin collar and long full sleeves with a cuff. The waist and collar were trimmed with white braid and the back was accented with a bow. The bridesmaids carried nosegays of white carnations and pink rosebuds with long white streamers. The flower girl carried a white lace basket of white carnations and pink rosebuds. The candlelighters had their nosegays of white carnations and pink rosebuds attached to the lighters. Their headpieces were styled in a floral design of pink and blue blossoms with velvet leaves and illusion veil. The matron of honor wore medium blue and the bridesmaid wore pale blue. The junior bridesmaid, flower girl and candlelighters wore pink.

The best man was Allan Mel-lot of Monmouth.

Serving as ushers were James McCoy of Corvallis, Stan Reimer of Dallas and Gary Kidder of Monmouth.

Paul Gunis, second cousin of the bride from Oregon City was the ring bearer.

During the ceremony the chosen selection "The Wedding Prayer," "The Lord's Prayer" and "I Love Thee" were sung by Adele Anderson of Portland. The organist was Mrs. Alice Kreiter, former teacher of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Farrens wore a white lace knit dress with blue trim and white accessories. Mrs. Thomas, mother of the bridegroom, chose a light pink silk brocade with matching accessories. Both wore pink rosebud corsages.

Reception Follows
After the ceremony, the bridal couple greeted their guests in the church fellowship hall. The bride's table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake, which was a banana nut cake, decorated in pale blue icing with pink roses and white lily-of-the-valley and topped with an arrangement of a cross with two wedding rings entwined, two white doves and pink rosebuds and white mums. The cake was flanked by white candles. Small tables were decorated with single pink rosebuds. After the young couple cut and shared the first slice of cake it was cut and served by Mrs. Veri Farrens of Richland, Wn., and Mrs. James Gunis, Oregon City, aunt and cousin of the bride.

Pouring tea and coffee were Mrs. Lucille Parrish, Heppner, and Mrs. Fred Belderlie, Prosser, Wash., aunt and cousin of the bride.

The young couple toasted with the Pink Batin punch and then it was poured by Mrs. Roland N. Farrens, Jr., sister-in-law of the bride of Beaverton and Mrs. Tom Fraters of Grass Valley, aunt of the bride.

Wedding programs were given to guests by Janice Belderlie. Carrying baskets filled with rice packets and scrolls and groom's cake were Jennifer and Beverly Beirle who passed them out to all the guests. All girls are second cousins of the bride and are from Prosser, Wn.

Attending the gift table was Miss Diana St. Clair of Molino, Miss Linda Moore of Boring passed the guest book. Both girls were roommates of the bride at OCE.

For Traveling
The new Mr. and Mrs. Thomas left on a short wedding trip to Vancouver, B. C., with Mrs. Thomas wearing a light blue dress with white accessories and wearing a pink rosebud and white gardenia corsage. They will make their first home at No. 6 Vets Village, Monmouth.

Both young people are seniors at OCE and will graduate after winter term. Mrs. Thomas will student teach the first grade in Independence this fall and Mr. Thomas will student teach physical education in a high school in the Monmouth area this fall.

The wedding was attended by many out-of-state and out-of-town relatives and friends, including Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Stelling of Burlington, Iowa, Mrs. Anna Young of Lake Zurich, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. William Stelling of Red Bluff, Calif., Mrs. Millie Becker of Eagle Point and Mrs. Lucille Parrish of Heppner.

Women Bowlers Asked to Meet
The Hermiston Women's Bowling Association will meet Aug. 13, 7:30 p.m., at the Eagles Hall in Hermiston. A good attendance is urged because new rules will be discussed. At least one representative from each team is asked to attend.

Mrs. Joe Carr is home from St. Anthony following major surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Rogers, Sr. of Boardman and their granddaughter, Tracy Lee Rogers, also of Boardman were in Heppner on business Monday. They recently returned from a vacation trip visiting in Oklahoma.

Mr. Rogers, who is a heavy duty mechanic, recently completed working on a construction job at Starbuck, Wn.
