Sunset Magazine Features Hardman

Sunset Magazine, in its September issue, features a news article about Hardman, describing it as a ghost town. Several folks around here believe it's mighty lively for a ghost town. For many years this mountain town, located 20 miles south of Heppner was a well known stage stop. It was well known also as a very friendly place and had, for decades, gay Saturday night dances there.

Sister Jude Maureen of Glenn Riddle, Pa., is spending this week visiting her uncles and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Healy, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Daly and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Doherty. She will be teaching at Riverside, Calif. this fall. As she grew up she used to drive truck for her uncles. She still keeps her saddle horse at the Doherty ranch. She plans to get in some horseback riding before she leaves.

Mrs. Ira Lee Edgerton, Karen and Ethan of Glendora, Calif., are here visiting with her mother, Mrs. June Fields. She will leave shortly to join her husband at Great Lakes where he has been transferred.

2 Soft Wheats Are Developed For Northwest

Two new soft white winter wheat varieties have been developed for Northwest growers. Paha, a club wheat, and Luke, a semi-dwarf wheat, were developed cooperatively by the Oregon, Washington and Idaho Agricultural Experiment Stations and the Crops Research Service, USDA, with Dr. Orville Vogel, ARS-USDA, leader of the wheat breeding project at WSU.

A limited amount of seed of the new varieties will be available this fall from Crop Improvement Association members.

Paha, most competitive with varieties grown in the 11-15 inch rainfall areas, is highly resistant to stripe rust and moderately resistant to foot rot. It is more susceptible than Omar to some mildew and flag smut and is expected to replace Omar, Elgin and Moro varieties. It will be grown in the club wheat areas of Eastern Oregon where rainfall is light.

Four to 8 inches shorter than Omar, Paha resists lodging and shattering, has good germination and is similar to Omar in winter hardiness and reaction to dwarf bunt. Since 1967, Paha has outyielded Omar 6 to 47 percent in Washington trials. It also produces flour of low viscosity and high quality. Dr. R. E. Allan, ARS-USDA, stationed at WSU, made the final selection of Paha.

Luke, a semidwarf similar to Gaines, is resistant to all known races of common and dwarf bunt. It is markedly superior to Gaines and Nugaines in resisting Cercospora foot rot, snow mold caused by Fusarium nivale and to stripe rust. It is expected to replace varieties susceptible to new races of dwarf bunt and will be grown on limited acreage in Oregon where dwarf smut is a problem.

Similar to Gaines in appearance, winter hardiness and growth, Luke is slightly less resistant than Nugaines to shattering and lodging and is more susceptible to flag smut.

Dr. C. J. Peterson, Jr., ARS-USDA plant breeder stationed at WSU, made the final selection for the Luke variety. Dr. R. J. Metzger, ARS-USDA, OSU, crossed one of the first parents.

In 16 field trials in 1969, Luke averaged 9 per cent higher yield than Gaines. However, under conditions of no disease damage, it yielded sharply less than Gaines. In milling quality, Luke is superior to Gaines and except for a slightly weaker gluten is approximately equal to it in baking qualities.

Bruce Moyer Awarded Masters

Bruce Cleon Moyer, son of Melvin Moyer, recently completed the summer session at the University of Montana. He has been awarded his master's degree in Business Administration there.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Becker, Mike and Gard of Gold Beach arrived Thursday from Ashland where they had been attending SOC summer school. They came to pick up their No. 3 son, Chris Becker, who had been visiting for two weeks with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heard.

They left Saturday for their home and Mr. and Mrs. Heard went to Portland to attend 25th wedding anniversary festivities of Mr. Heard's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rogers.
