ice," "Julius Caesar," "Richard the Second," "The Comedy of Errors," and Moliere's "The Imaginary Invalid." The season, which opened June 26, runs through September 13.

A Typical Judge And A Typical Day

A foods judge must have a differentiating taste bud, a strong stomach and a sense of humor in addition to her "know-how". Mrs. Frank (Bunny) Dyer of Mayville has all of these. As a typical judge she judged Food contests with a sense of enjoyment. She went through the Measuring contest; tasted, poked and smelled all the muffins, the cakes, the breads, the 2-course meals and the 3-course meals. She commented on each participants efforts. Pointing out ways to improve for next year's show.

Born at Albany, she graduated from Oregon State in Home Ec. She was in the Home Extension Service for four years and taught at Condon, Fossil, and in California.

To keep her finger in the pie since her marriage, she has been judging. She often judges clothing but here, she says, she misses the contact with the kids that she has when she is judging foods.

This is her second year to judge at the Morrow County Fair. The Dyers have a son, Jim, who will be a year old Sept. 8.

TOPS Club Says 'Think Thin'

The newly organized TOPS Club is meeting every Tuesday night at 8 p.m. at the Neighborhood Center. The inspiration for the week was given by Marie Struthers who says to "think thin".

There was a 5 1/2 pound loss and 5 pound gain among the members since the last meeting.

The group voted to have men as well as women in the club. Anyone who would like to lose weight is invited to attend a meeting for more information.

Marie Struthers was Queen for the month of August with the greatest weight loss. Two of the members had to take home a bib with a pig on it because of having gained weight.

The group would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. John Dallman of the Heppner Hotel for the use of the Cafe for the Aug. 25 meeting.
