Of Interest to Women

DOT'S JOTS

Went off on a four-day trip recently. I got to do the three things . . . that I wanted to be sure to do.

I wanted to hike down to the water at Crater Lake, although Charlie said he'd take anybody's word for it that it was water! The second thing I wanted to do was to attend the Merchant of Venice at the Shakespearean Theatre in Ashland and then stop at old Camp White to see one our printers.

We met my sister, Cheslah Young, at Bend and went on to have breakfast at Sunriver which was good and wasn't as expensive as we had expected.

The Ranger at Crater Lake told us it was 1.1 miles down to the water and 11 miles up. It wasn't all that bad. But we'll have to go that trail again because due to high waves on the lake, the last launch trip to Wizard Island was cancelled. But the water looks just as blue at the waters edge as at the edge of the rim.

We thoroughly enjoyed the play but would like sometime to see a play in the outside theatre. We visited our daughter Judy and her family at Ashland also.

It was great to see our old printer, George Huntington Curry. He still has a full head of curly hair and walks with the help of a cane but just as sharp and interested in newspapers as ever. He has owned some of the weeklies in Oregon. He told us how he'd bought the old Boardman Mirror and combined it with the Arlington Bulletin in his early days. He worked for us in Joseph and Milton-Freewater both. He's had to give up all his vices, he says, but he still rolls his own occasionally. He'll be 78 his next birthday.

YOU CAN TAKE IT WITH YOU . . . Don't Litter!
