Summer Sandwich Specialty

Here's a tasty version of the ever popular cheese-bacon-tomato sandwich with crisp waffles as the bases of the colorful open-face sandwiches. By using the convenient frozen waffles that you simply heat in toaster or oven, you get the special golden goodness of waffles, but spend less time in the kitchen — an important consideration during hot summer weather.

Topped with cheese, tomato and bacon slices and a chilled sour cream-mayonnaise sauce flavored with onion, the waffles can become your own luncheon specialty. Treat the family soon.

BACON 'N' TOMATO WAFFLE SANDWICHES

Makes 6 servings

Sauce:
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1/4 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1/4 teaspoon salt

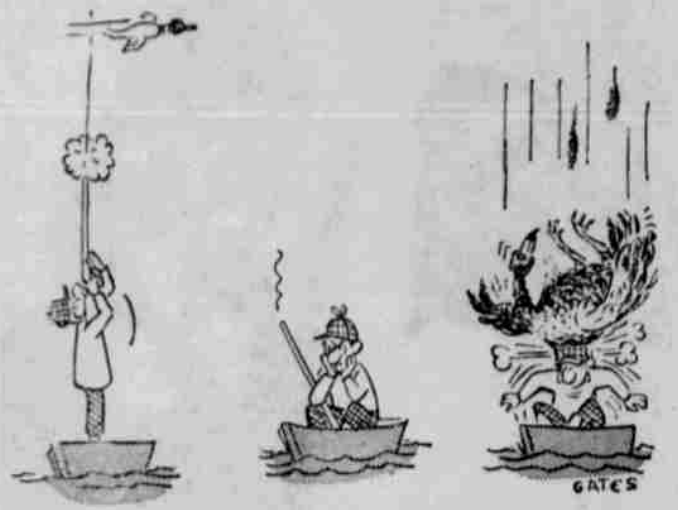

Sandwiches:
12 bacon slices
One 9-oz. pkg. frozen waffles
12 tomato slices
8 American cheese slices (approx. 4 inches square)

For sauce, place sour cream, mayonnaise, onion and salt in small bowl; blend well. Cover and refrigerate until ready to use.

Heat oven to hot (400°F.). Place bacon on rack in shallow pan and bake about 15 minutes; drain on absorbent paper. Prepare waffles in oven according to package directions.

Place a tomato slice on each hot waffle. Top each of 8 waffles with a cheese slice. Trim cheese slices along one side to fit waffles. For each of last 4 waffles, use 2 pieces of cheese trimmed from whole slices. Cut bacon slices in half and crisscross 2 halves on top of cheese. Bake in preheated oven (400°F.) 4 to 5 minutes or until cheese is melted.

For each serving, place 2 waffles on a plate. Top each waffle with a tablespoon of chilled sauce.

Milton B. Scott, partner in a general store in Pinetops, North Carolina, is also president of the board of Edgecombe-Martin County Electric Membership Corporation at Tarboro.

Jack Zavadt, editor of the weekly newspaper at Humphrey, Nebraska, is a member of the board and treasurer of the Cornhusker Public Power District at Columbus.

These six consumers are the kind of people who own and operate America's Rural Electric Systems. They are typical of the rural people who found it necessary to join with their neighbors, borrow money from the Rural Electrification Administration, and build their own electric power systems to get electricity.

The REA doesn't own or operate a mile of line. It acts only as a banker whose job it is to make and collect loans and interest. Ownership of America's 1,000 rural electric systems rests solidly with the five million families—the 20 million people they serve. They're as local as your newspaper and as private as your signature.
