

MR. AND MRS. Edward Anthony Tarnasky who were married Sept. 5 in St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

Six Pence of Ireland Is Good Luck Coin For Tarnasky-Wyman Rites

Heppner's St. Patrick's Catholic Church was the scene of two weddings on Sept. 5. Father Raymond H. Beard performed the ceremony at 6 o'clock in the evening when Sheridan Wyman, daughter of Irene Kilkenny Wyman of Heppner and Lester T. Wyman of Ukiah was married to Edward Anthony Tarnasky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Tarnasky of Portland.

The bride given in marriage by her brother, Robert J. Laughlin, wore a mantilla veil with her bridal gown of delustered satin. She wore a necklace belonging to the bridegroom's grandmother. Her father placed a six pence in her shoe that had come from Ireland. Her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Kilkenny, had brought the coin from County Limerick where her grandfather, the late John Kilkenny was born. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade of yellow roses, daisies and ivy.

Maid of honor was Sue Ellen Greenup, cousin of the bride. Bridesmaids were Gay Tarnasky, Mrs. Robert Laughlin and Jean Marie Healy. Tammi Brannon was junior bridesmaid. The attendants wore dresses of apricot and yellow daisy printed voile fashioned empire style with full sleeves. They wore white straw picture hats trimmed with daisies and carried white baskets with baby breath, daisies, daisy mums and ivy.

Lottie Lynn Laughlin, niece of the bride was flower girl and Shane Laughlin, her nephew was ring bearer; candle lighters were Russell Kilkenny and Gregory Greenup, cousins of the bride.

Gary Booth of Portland was best man. Groomsmen were George Tarnasky, brother of the bridegroom, Burl M. Mattson and Bill Greenup.

Bill Kenny sang "Ave Maria" accompanied by Marguerite Glavey who played the wedding music. The altar flowers were white glads, white and yellow dahlias and daisies.

Reception Follows

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wyman wore a Belgian print in soft green, yellow and brown with light brown accessories and a green orchid corsage. Mrs. Tarnasky wore a yellow brocade and yellow orchids.

Mrs. T. J. Wyman, grandmother of the bride and Mrs. Anna Summer, great grandmother of Prineville were also in attendance.

The orange and yellow was carried out in the reception held at the Parish Hall with floral arrangements of orange and yellow dahlias. The four tier wedding cake was decorated with apricot and yellow daisies topped with a Chi Rho. It was made and decorated by Mrs. Vern Evans of Irrigon. Mrs. Harry O'Donnell was in charge of the reception.

Cutting the cake were Gloria Williams, Dorothy Tweed and Miss Pam McCabe. Pouring were Mrs. Mitchell Ashbeck of Echo and Sherri Lynn O'Brien. Serving at the punch bowl were Mrs. Gary Booth and Maryann Greenup. Arranging the gift table was Kelly Kilkenny. Jodi Tarnasky and Carol Ann Mattson were in charge of the guest book.

Hostesses for the reception were Mrs. Jerry Sweeney, Mrs. Paul Hisler, Mrs. Glen Ward, Mrs. James Prock, Mrs. Ted Palmateer and Mrs. Dee Sather.

Going Away

For going away the bride wore a royal blue pants suit with red accessories.

After a wedding trip to the Oregon coast, the couple will reside at 2525 Monroe St. Milwaukie.

The bride was a graduate of Heppner High School and attended Marylhurst. She was a June graduate of Emmanuel School of Nursing. The bridegroom is a graduate of Cleveland High School, Portland. He has completed his tour of military duty in Korea and will attend Portland State this fall. Mrs. Tarnasky will be working at Emmanuel Hospital in surgery.

Buffet Supper

Following the reception a buffet dinner was held for family and close friends at the Robert J. Laughlin home. The young couple finished opening their gifts before leaving for the Oregon coast.

Rehearsal Supper

Following the rehearsal, dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Greenup for members of the wedding party and parents of the bride and bridegroom.

Heppner Women Named as 'Women of America'

Mrs. Clyde Allstott and Mrs. Verne Keithley have been selected as Outstanding Young Women of America for 1970 and will appear in the annual biographical compilation, Outstanding Young Women of America.

Mrs. Allstott

Jacqueline Mae Schmidt Allstott, better known to her friends as "Jackie" combines her work as bookkeeper at First National Bank, Heppner branch, with family activities and supporting her husband's Jaycee activities.

She has lived in Heppner since 1953 and found the PTA brought her a closer contact with her children and school. She served as president and treasurer and various chairmanships. She feels that as much as a person takes part in any organization, they benefit. She says presently there seems to be no lack of school information here and unless the PTA is founded on another need, it may be dropped for awhile to spring up again when the need arises.

She is involved in the activities of Barbara Lynn 16, Cyde Marie 14 and David Earl, 11.

The Heppner Jaycee Wives are not organized but act as a group to support their husbands' endeavors. They worked on the float which took first place this year in the Morrow County Rodeo parade. They arranged the booth which commemorated the 50th Anniversary of Jaycees. They help man the concession stands at the Morrow County Rodeo and the College Rodeo.

During the time her daughters were Blue Bird age, she was a leader of a Blue Bird group in the Camp Fire program.

This family has fun together, bowling, fishing, hunting, picnicking and attending church.

Mrs. Keithley

Virginia Claire Schwarzin Keithley is known to her friends as Ginger. Just as ginger adds zest to the pumpkin pie, so does Ginger add spice to her activities.

She works happily with children and adults. As a leader she is starting her third daughter in the two-year Blue Bird program. She finds this a worthwhile and satisfying activity. She says, "Girls need to know someone besides their mother and teacher." More little girls could be in this program if more leaders could be found. She says the 3rd grade especially needs leaders. Anyone interested in devoting one evening after school a week to these girls, is asked to call her at 676-5576.

Teaching Sunday School at the Christian Church is another one of her activities. She thinks the small ones are great and teaches the Nursery through First grade. Last year she was Superintendent of the Sunday school.

She is a fan of Home Extension. She has served as vice chairman and chairman of the Heppner Day Unit and is now serving her 2nd year in the three-year term on the Advisory committee. She finds this satisfying because "it fills a part of my life that needs it. Makes me more aware of my surroundings and teaches me new things". She recalls with a sparkling the pointers she learned in the Paint Products program of last year.

The Keithleys have four children: Ruth Ann 12, Linda Lou, 10, Suzanne 7 and Jay S. Mr. Keithley works at Kinross. They like to camp and picnic. They are about to become a bowling family as the two older girls are starting to bowl with their parents.

The girls were nominated to this honor by the Jaycee Wives group.

About the Program

Outstanding Young Women of America is a program designed to recognize the abilities of young women between the ages of 21 and 35 throughout the country.

Now in its sixth year, the Outstanding Young Women of America program was conceived by the leaders of the nation's major women's organizations. This program recognizes those young women who contribute to the betterment of their communities, professions, and country. Serving on the program's Board of Advisors are the national presidents of women's clubs, headed by Mrs. Dexter Otis Arnold, Honorary President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Each year over 6,000 young women are nominated as Outstanding Young Women of America by leading women's organizations, college alumni associations, and churches across the country. These young women's complete biographical sketches are featured in the national awards volume, "Outstanding Young Women of America".

From among the young women included in "Outstanding Young Women of America", fifty are selected each year—one from each state—for their state's Outstanding Young Women of the Year Award.

NBC news correspondent, Nancy H. Dickerson, who wrote the LONEROCK CITY JAIL was built in 1891. It stands in the middle of Lonerock surrounded by weeds and a crik-rock fence. It's safe to guess that mice are the only inmates!

DOT'S JOTS

There were so many weddings on Sept. 5 that we almost forgot it was our own wedding anniversary. The next day we went on a little jaunt that was most delightful. We stopped at Ruggs, took pictures of the Baby by Buffalo that isn't a baby anymore, then to Eightmile where we took the back road to Lonerock. We followed Edna Bailey and Maida Britt as they were making a long-promised-to-each-other trip to Lonerock, too.

This is a place we'd been wanting to go for a long time. Pop Huddleston, whom we knew in Pilot Rock reared his family there and was chairman of the school board. The school, all boarded up and looking sad and desolate, is huge. There must have been a fair-sized enrollment. Besides that I just learned that our own county clerk, Sadie Parrish, is Pop Huddleston's daughter!

We got a picture of the "lone rock" and it is all alone and is bigger than some houses. Saw the old jail built in 1891 where Jantzen posed their models wearing their new swim suit line this summer. Understand some of them look like those worn in that era.

Then we went on a "backer" road to Camp 5. The houses had all just been repainted and they all looked so nice. That is a beautiful lake right at their back door. Then to Kinross where we had been wanting to go since Kenny and Casey Keeling were there years ago.

We arrived at Fossil in time to just miss the County Fair parade. We went over to see the exhibits. Saw clever thing in the flower arrangements. Someone had taken a lid and lifter from an old cook stove and used it as base for a kitchen bouquet.

Stopped at Condon to visit Jean Gilliam who works for the Condon Globe Times. Then to introduitory message for last year's edition, said, "The young women honored by recognition in this book have made a good start . . . They can recognize the new acceptance they have and go forward to contribute even more in a more meaningful way than in the past, and hopefully enable a world which is so much more in need of their talents than ever before."

Guidelines for selection include unselfish service to others, charitable activities, community service and civic and professional recognition.

Although the Nazarene Church is sponsoring the Center, it should be noted that this is not a church oriented project. It is merely a non-profit service to the community which the Nazarene Church will provide. The Day Care Center will be held in the educational unit of the church.

The Day Care Center will soon receive State Certification. In order to meet the requirements for certification, it is required to have adequate facilities and equipment for the children, a safe playground area and a doctor on call.

The location of the Center is advantageous in as much as it is both close to the hospital and the school. A mother could instruct her youngster to wait at the Center after school if it is necessary to be gone longer

Day Care Center Defined

The planned Child Day Care Center held its open house on Sept. 12 and extended it for a week. The public was invited to view the facilities. Anyone still wishing to see the Center, may do so by arranging it with Mrs. Everhart, 676-5529.

The purpose of the Day Care Center is to enable mothers to leave their children under responsible supervision for a very minimum charge. The hours will be from 6:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Unlike a nursery school, the Day Care Center does not require the mothers to leave their children for set hours. The facility is available for any length of time whether it is a half an hour for an errand or all day within the opening hours of the Center.

For further information regarding the Day Care Center, please call Mrs. Everhart at 676-5529. If no answer, call 676-5512.

Friends are invited to call and help Mrs. Parker celebrate her 90th birthday. It is requested that there be no gifts.
