

Early Adjournment Marks Board Meet

regular board meeting on Nov. 9.

The cost of the present pump and pipe installations at the Morrow County Fairgrounds has run about $5900-$6000. The school districts share was to be half the cost. The district has already advanced $2000 with a balance of approximately $1000 to be paid. As the November board meeting was advanced a week, this will allow members of the board an opportunity to meet with the Fair Board at their regular meeting on Nov. 16 to learn specifically the school boards responsibility.

The board approved the policy on free and reduced price lunches. Letters of explanation will be sent out to explain the policy with application forms.

Fire Marshal's Visit

Dr. Wolff and Irvin Rauch accompanied Supt. Ron Daniels on the tour of Heppner schools. Prime area was under the high school. This was referring to a storage area. This area is to be sealed overhead or have access openings 20 sq. in. every 50 feet or sprinklers.

Supt. Daniels said it appeared the problems at the Elementary School can be resolved without too much expense. Much of the work can be done by the district employees prior to next year. A few sprinkler heads will be installed.

The board approved the request of Stan Addison, Chemistry-Physics teacher at HHS to attend a Regional Science teachers conference at Phoenix, Ariz., early in November. He asked to have Thursday and Friday off with no travel expense. Dr. Wolff suggested that if possible he report on the conference to the district science teachers. The meeting adjourned at 9:35 for an executive session.

Red Cross Reps Here to Help Morrow County

John P. Schag, Red Cross Field representative; Herb Ayers, director of Community Service and Mrs. Homer J. Hartmann, volunteer consultant for Disaster Services were in Heppner Monday. They work out of the Inland Empire Division of the American Red Cross at Spokane. Their visit was a living example of the new Red Cross policy of decentralization. The purpose of the 1968 decentralization of the Red Cross was to have closer administrative headquarters to serve communities. This advantage includes a larger field staff of volunteers and career people who can assist in training. They can provide training for disaster, service to military families, workshops in community programs, First Aid and Water Safety, Nursing and Blood programs.

Each community Red Cross chapter has a congressional representative to assist military families and to be prepared to help in time of disaster. This

Heppner Extension Has Seafood Lunch

Mrs. Vern Keithley reminded the Heppner Home Extension group last Monday that "Seafoods provide nutrients you need every day for good health".

During the lesson the women learned that fresh fish is perishable. It should never be ozy or smelly on your hands. As fishery products are among the more economical foods, they can be used to help balance your food budget. Do Not Overcook is the most important rule in preparing fish and shell fish. Cook only until the flesh flakes easily. Mrs. Ola Ruggles assisted with the lesson.

The next meeting will be Nov. 9 at the home of Mrs. Frank Connor. The lesson will be on "Leaders and Teachers Training". Members are to bring Christmas candy recipes and samples.

The October meeting was held at Mrs. Ruggles' home. The products of the lesson were served at the noon luncheon. The menu included Northwest Clipping over rice Crabburgers, Shrimp and cabbage salad.

Pilot Rock Wins One

Junior varsity football action for the current season came to a close for Heppner High School Monday evening dropping an 8-0 decision at Pilot Rock. The Jaycees ended the season with a 3-2 record.

The JV's played excellent defense throughout three and one-half quarters but finally submitted to a powerful single-wing attack to allow Pilot Rock a lone TD with four minutes left to play. Cited for outstanding defensive play were Ted Bellamy, Rick Drake, Bill Jepsen and Kirk Robinson.

Heppner was stopped cold defensively but did manage an 82-yard kickoff return for a touchdown by Dale Hedman only to have it nullified by a penalty. SCORING: HEPPNER 0 0 0 0-0 PILOT ROCK 0 0 0 8-8

SDA Church Plans Area Study Group

A community Bible Seminar and Study Group is being formed by Pastor Don Hall. It is being organized for those interested in a thorough, contextual study of the Bible, book by book.

It has been requested that the group begin with the books of Daniel and Revelation. If Daniel and Revelation have always seemed a mystery, you will not want to miss this opportunity of studying them in this seminar. The study material will be the Bible, a concordance, and a dictionary. The idea is to let the Bible interpret itself.

The first meeting was held Oct. 15.

The study group will meet each Thursday evening at 7:30, at the Hall residence, 740 E. Barrett. Anyone interested in participating, actively or just listening in, is invited to come. For more information please call 676-9433.
