

FFA Sends Soil Judging Team To Hood River

A soil judging contest at Hood River Valley High school was attended Sept. 25 by six members of the Heppner FFA. Three different judging pits were set up at various sites around the Odell area about four miles south of Hood River.

With eight chapters participating, Heppner placed seventh in the contest.

The contest was held under extremely wet conditions but as Carl King says, "We can't hold that against the Hood River Valley Chapter who served as great hosts."

Members participating from Heppner were Gary Hunt, Carl King, Barry Munkers, Rick Pettyjohn, Kyle Robinson, Don Wilson. They were accompanied by their advisor, Hal Whitaker.

Patricia Van Schoiack Back in School

Patricia Van Schoiack, freshman at Heppner High, is back in school on a part-time basis after an unfortunate experience with a horse that bucked.

She was thrown from her horse while rounding up cattle on upper Swale Creek early in October. Earlier she and her dad had traded horses and she was riding his horse when the accident occurred. Loggers camped near took her down to their camp and later when her dad came in, he took her into Pioneer Memorial where she stayed for a week. Later she was taken to St. Anthony for surgery. She received a break in the left upper arm. She has it taped to her body. She goes in Friday for a change and expects to wear it for about two more weeks.

She came from the hospital on Oct. 26 and went back to school part time last Wednesday.

It's A Great Grandson

Mrs. Archie D. McMurdo announces the arrival of her first great grandson who is a first grandson for Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. McMurdo. Dr. and Mrs. Walter Gould of Portland are the parents of a son born Oct. 31. The little goblin weighed 7½ pounds and has been named Don Chase.

The other grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Don Gould of Powell, Wyo. He is also their first grandchild.

4-H Members May Reap Double Harvest

In a generous mood, Mother Nature is showering her bounty on 187,000 4-H'ers enrolled in the national 4-H horticultural program again this year.

The young people grow fruits and vegetables, plan and plant their home grounds and care for ornamental plants for the house, yard and garden. And they learn from practical experience and educational materials provided by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Of all seasons, late and early fall is the most colorful and fruitful time of the year. It also is the time when 4-H horticulturists can reap a double harvest. Not only do they use and enjoy what they have grown, but many earn recognition for their good work.

Teaming up with Mother Nature in the bountiful harvest is Allis-Chalmers, sponsor of the 4-H horticultural program for 25 years. The company provides top 4-H achievers with awards at county, state and national levels.

Topping the list are eight $600 national scholarships. The state winner receives an expense-paid trip to National 4-H Congress to be held in Chicago, Nov. 29-Dec. 3. County awards are medals of honor. This year more than 6,500 young horticulturists are expected to receive such recognition.

In announcing the awards given by Allis-Chalmers, the National 4-H Service Committee notes that all young people from 9-19 years of age are eligible to participate in the 4-H horticultural program.

Enrollments are being accepted now at county extension offices across the country.

Rummage Sale Has Successful Turnout

The Heppner Civic League Rummage Sale held Oct. 30 and 31 had a gratifying turnout and as a result, the sale was an overwhelming success.

A popular attraction which might be considered collector's items. Bids were submitted for the shoes and they sold rapidly. Very little merchandise was left; however, remaining items were donated to the Neighborhood Center and Lois Winchester.

The Bake Sale was another popular feature and the ladies' efforts were rewarded by the total receipts. Profits from both sales will go to the Kindergarten Fund which is off to a good start this year.

Mrs. Pat Jensen, president of the club expressed appreciation to the community for their generosity and support which made the sale successful beyond expectation. Marlene Gray was chairman of the event and was assisted by all the members who worked very hard to attain their goal.

Plans are being formed for the next sale which will occur sometime this spring. They will begin taking items anytime as they now have adequate storage space.

A creative touch will be added to the next sale by chairman Judy Laughlin. A Sidewalk Arts and Crafts show is planned to display the wares of local artists. Further details will be discussed at the next meeting, Nov. 16.

Marine Lands Here

Phil Ayres is home on leave visiting with his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ayres. He has completed his basic infantry training at Camp Pendleton. He reports back to Camp Pendleton on Nov. 16 for a West Pacific assignment.

Marvin R. Wightman was up from Annapolis, Calif., visiting his dad, John Wightman and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Graham.

Mrs. Frank Richey of Milton-Freewater came over Sunday to handle some business at the Morrow County Courthouse. While here she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Campbell of Lexington.

IONE vs. ECHO

The Ione Junior High Cardinals played their last game Oct. 22 against Echo to win 50 to 12. Coach Jerry Martin is enthusiastic about his team efforts. Everybody got to play in this game. He says, "They're the best blockers I've had!" Some of them have played on the team for three years and all have received football basics. They will go on to play on the high school team.

Those making touchdowns in the final game were Paul Peterson 1, Tom Gates 2, Charlie McElligott 1, Rick Peterson 1, Aaron Klingler 2. All of them are 8th graders and played their last game for the Junior High.

CAUTION

NOT TO BE TAKEN INTERNALLY

This warning still applies to many of Oregon's rivers and streams—even though we've come a long way in our clean water programs.

The fact remains that 81 Oregon communities will need new or improved facilities to meet the minimum standards for disposal of waste in 1975. And it's going to cost $175,000,000 over the next five years to get this done.

That's a lot of money. And you'll have to help provide it—by supporting programs and tax measures that will make the funds available.

If that bothers you, look at it this way; you can't afford the alternative.
