Coyotes find Spring Lambs Juicy Morsel

Shirley Rugg who has her winter sheep camp on Six Mile Canyon on the Columbia says they are all through lambing and have all but one band of sheep out on grass on land leased from Boeing. They will start marking lambs the second week of April.

Coyotes a Problem
They are losing lambs to the coyotes every day. The herders have been instructed to carry guns to protect the lambs.

Shirley expects to start the sheep back to the mountains in May where she summers at Parker's Mill. When the fawns are small the coyotes leave the lambs for awhile and go after the fawns. After the fawns get too big, the coyotes come back after the lambs.

The lamb crop has been good and usually hits 140%. Until they complete the final tally, they won't know what the percentage is for this year's lamb production. They strive continually by careful selection of bucks and breeding practices to increase the number of multiple births. They had about 2 2/3 twins this year. They usually don't have time to bother with the 3's and 5's and select the strongest for twins.

Shirley has the same crew as last year except for one herder. All are contract Basques.

Brainard Services Held in Boardman

Funeral services were to be held Tuesday for Allen Leslie Brainard, 63, who died at the Umatilla Hospital April 3 after a week's illness. He had been a resident of Boardman the past four years and was a carpenter by trade.

Mr. Brainard was born Dec. 11, 1907 at Sweet, Idaho, the son of Alfred H. and Dorothy Brainard. He left Idaho as a young boy and lived in Portland. Most of his life was spent in Oregon and Montana until he entered the U. S. Navy during World War II. After his discharge he lived in California about ten years before coming to Boardman to live.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Clyde (Gladys) Robinson of Boardman. Another sister and brother preceded him in death.

Services were to be Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. at the Boardman Community Church conducted by Pastor Neil King, with burial at Boardman Riverview Cemetery. Burns Mortuary was in charge.

Big Band Thrills Players, Audience

The musical cultures equal to those of the big city came to Heppner Saturday evening when a 250-piece band performed at the Heppner gym under the baton of Professor Ira Lee of the University of Oregon music department.

Bands of Ione, Echo, Stanfield, Hermiston, Condon, Umatilla and Heppner had a strenuous workout together Friday and Saturday before the final concert.

Of the final two numbers, Citadel by Erickson and First Suite in E flat I Chaconne by Holst, Professor Lee said "This is big league music; you should be proud of your students for being able to play this kind of music."

They played Elegy for a Young American by Presti. On the Trail from the Grand Canyon Suite should have been familiar to all who attend Happy Canyon. In honor of the 200th anniversary of Beethoven, the greatest of all time, the band played Adagio Cantabile.

At one time during the evening, Professor Lee presented each section of the band to show what they do. The one piccoloist played the theme song from "Hogan's Heroes".

On down the scale they demonstrated their instruments: the flutes, the double reeds oboe and bassoon, the clarinets soprano, alto and bass, the saxophones alto and tenor, the brass family trumpets and trombones, French Horns, baritone horns, tubas and the final section, the percussion.

The guest conductor congratulated the young musicians and said they had probably played more the last two days than they had for a month and "I'll bet their lips are nearly hamburger."

He told about the two-week High School sessions held at the University of Oregon each summer. He said that he was offering two tuition free scholarships to each of the participating schools. He urged them to send their best musicians who would then only be responsible for their room and board.

Their final selections were Rhythm of the Winds, by Erickson, The Golden Eagle by Walters who is a personal friend of the Rev. and Mrs. Ed Cutting and The Man of La Mancha also by Erickson with a bit of tango and is a story of Don Quixote and his search to stamp out evil. For the final number Americans We by Fillmore, Professor Lee turned his baton over to Arnie Hedman, host conductor.

Professor Lee paid high tribute to the school directors and introduced Darrell James of Ione, Steven Halliday of Echo, Wayne Ball of Stanfield, Mrs. Margie Paulson of Hermiston, Jim Jamieson of Condon, Ken Taft of Umatilla and Arnie Hedman of Heppner. He said that directors' wives also were special people and thanked Mrs. Hedman for all she had done as he asked her to stand.

Snow Surveys Look Better

Next to the final snow survey was made last week by Dale Boner and Don Bellamy of the Soil Conservation Service. This new survey looks somewhat improved over the last report.

Arbuckle Snow Course showed a depth of 31 inches with a water content of 11 1/2 inches. Average water content at this station is 11.3 inches.

Lucky Strike Snow Course showed a depth of 38 inches of snow and water content of 12.4 inches. Average water content at Lucky Strike is 13.6 inches.

The final snow survey will be made the last part of April. Sadie Parrish was in the hospital here recently and then moved to Physicians and Surgeons Hospital in Portland. We understand she is much improved and staying for awhile in Lake Oswego with her son, Jack Parrish.

4-H Leather Club Enjoys Renewed Craft Interest

By BIRDINE TULLIS

Morrow Extension Aide

While 4-H leathercraft is not a new project, it has recently attracted more members in Morrow County. A visit to a busy leathercraft club gives insight and understanding of the renewed interest.

Mrs. Jerry Myers of Pine City area is a second year 4-H leathercraft leader with 18 active members from 9 to 16 years of age.

As the school bus arrives at the Myers home—the action begins. Refreshments and game time, a short business meeting to discuss a proposed group tour, followed by every member practicing their craft. John Myers and Monte Schiller, serving as Junior Leaders of the group, were kept busy demonstrating and assisting.

Leathercraft is an art requiring practice and skill. Watching the group at work, it is apparent that many beautiful articles will be shown at county fair this year. Leathercraft seems very much a part of our western heritage. It is a hobby that can be pursued and enjoyed for a lifetime.

Four-H leathercrafters are learning the joys of creating, improving skills for a lifetime hobby or possibly a career, but also enjoying fun with their friends as they learn by doing.

Chamber Hears Forester

ing is stopped? This and many other theoretical questions are typical in their studies. The five year plans are made annually. Areas are listed where there will be timber sales; growth is taken into consideration for sustained yield of timber.

In the 30,000 acres in the Round Mountain unit 4 million board feet of annual growth is represented.

The Forest Service has gone in for buffer strips of timber in recent years in order to benefit game. This may mean patches of 15 to 40 acres or so in a great number of places that will be a help to wildlife.

Ten year master plans are being developed for sales. A new management plan is now being written. At present there are no virgin timber areas being left in the plans.

In regard to the Devil's Half Acre, Orville Cutsforth requested that the Chamber seek a ten year moratorium on timber cutting in that area.

As for a priority, the Round Mountain area might be logged in five or six years when the program is made. They are now classifying lands to be logged, traded or reserved for other purposes.

Mr. Cutsforth said a number of people are interested in the upper Willow Creek area where trails are needed and an area set aside for hunting and camping.

pool. There are courses for beginner, intermediate and advanced swimmers, courses in junior and senior lifesaving and small craft classes.

A number of years ago the Morrow County Red Cross chapter purchased Resusi Annie for $400, which is used in the First Aid classes and in the Swimming classes.

The Morrow County Empire Builders, DeeAnn Pettyjohn, president, will cover Ione for the Red Cross Fund Drive.

The first contributor to the 1971 drive was $100 from Pacific Northwest Bell.

Ione Girls Tounce Heppner in Volleyball

The last game of the volleyball season for Ione on March 31 closed with a win over Heppner 33 to 19. This was their second game with Heppner which they won 30 to 28 on March 10. They won 4 and lost 3 games of their 7-game season.

High pointers for Ione were Jackie Howton and Nancy Ashurst with 10 points each to be high for the game. Other point makers were Jan Ekstrom 7, Cheryl Hams 3, Mary McElligott 2 and Anne Hoskins 1. Other players were Jane Krebs, Christine Lindstrom, Mary Pat McElligott, Mickey Hoskins, Tina Stefanl, Joan McElligott, Melissa McElligott and Kathleen McElligott. Their coach is Jackie Wagenblast.

Heppner Players
Susan Healy was high pointer for Heppner with 6 points. Others scoring for Heppner were Judy Barclay, Brenda Kerns and Judy Bennett with 4 each and Gwen Drake 1. Others playing were Jamie Smith, Shelley Wolff, Cyde Allstott, Tami Meador and Kristi Haguewood. Their coach is Dorothy Agee.
