Car Crash Claims Residents' Aunt

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Dick Chinnock of Portland as the result of a head-on car collision which occurred in Portland April 4. Her husband remains in the hospital in serious condition.

Her several nieces and nephews include local residents, Mrs. Randall Martin, Mrs. Alvin Wagenblast and David McLeod who, along with Mrs. McLeod, plan to attend the April 8 services in Portland.

LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. Roger Germundson (Vesta Kilkenny) was here from Lake Oswego last week for a short visit. She said her son, Pat Kilkenny had been quite ill and was taking college classes in Portland on a part time basis.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Babb have returned home to Heppner after spending the winter in Apache Junction, Ariz. The Babbs have spent about 14 winters down in the southland.

Wallace Turner and his son Paul were up from Portland on business last weekend and took the opportunity to visit his mother, Mrs. Iva Booker, too.

Mrs. Delsie Chapel accompanied by her daughters, Cassy Chapel and Mrs. Joe Engelman and Frankie were in Portland for fun shopping during spring vacation. They stayed at the Sheraton.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Weatherford have received word from the Bill Weatherfords III. They are settled in San Diego at 3726 Madison Ave., Apt. 6, San Diego, Calif. 92116. Bill expected to ship out on a "shake down" any day.

Dick McElligott, Ione, and Bill Weatherford, Heppner, looked at some business property near Dillon, Mont., early last week. Bill returned on Wednesday, but Dick stayed in Montana to visit his son Joe at Carroll College at Helena and to attend the smoker in which Joe hoped to participate with the Carroll College boxing squad.

Joe, however, developed pneumonia and was bedded down in his dormitory at the time of the smoker. His mother reports he is hoping to be up again soon.

Joe's friends voted him the most inspirational team member and brought a most inspirational trophy to him.

His father, Dick, attended the smoker and enjoyed it thoroughly, especially noting a boxer named Greenup who participated in the junior high flyweight division.

As Bill Weatherford drove home on Wednesday he enjoyed the company of three students from Umatilla County all the way from Helena to the boys' homes. Dick McElligott returned home Saturday night pleased to report that Dillon, Mont., is a beautiful spot and that Joe was awarded a beautiful trophy.

Grain Prices to Hold Until 1971 Harvest

Reviews of the latest economic information affecting grain, cattle and grass seed markets is contained in the spring Oregon Farm and Market Outlook circular just published by the Oregon State University Cooperative Extension Service, reports Harold Kerr, Morrow County Extension Agent.

Oregon cash grain prices are likely to hold at or near present levels until the 1971 harvest gets underway, but trends in feed grain prices will be influenced by the size of the 1971 national corn crop, reports Stephen C. Marks, OSU extension agricultural economist.

Market prospects for beef cattle this spring point to somewhat larger U. S. supplies of feeder cattle than a year ago, about the same supply of fed cattle, more hogs and fewer lambs, Marks observes.

Marketing costs between the farm gate and the dinner table will continue to claim a large part of the consumer's retail meat dollar, he adds.

Turning to supply and demand for meat, Marks expects Oregon cattle prices to no more than match last year's April-June quarter. Hogs and lambs probably will average lower than they did a year earlier.

Turning to grass seeds, Marks notes that the relative stability of U. S. turf seed production and supplies since 1967 is a major factor in the sharp advances in turf seed prices earlier in the current marketing season in the face of increased demand from domestic and foreign buyers.

Although the nation's economy is expected to gain this year in terms of real growth and success against excessive inflation and unemployment, the farm economy appears to face a bleaker future, observes Robert Coppedge, OSU extension agricultural economist. An upturn in gross income is forecast for late 1971, but despite forecaster gains for the whole, net farm income is expected to decline due to continued increases in production costs.

Copies of the Outlook circular are available from county extension offices or from the OSU Bulletin Clerk, Corvallis 97331.

Edgar Alberts Home

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Albert flew into Portland April Fool's day after spending the winter months in Florida. They visited Mr. Albert's brother, Harold Albert at Ormand Beach. He recently retired and was free to enjoy seeing Florida with them. Edgar had been there in 1928. He says it has built up and there's too many people.

They visited many points of interest all over Florida, the Bush Gardens, the Cypress Gardens. They did some fishing in the Halifax river where they caught ocean trout.

They went to the Bahamas. It was while they were there that Florida had the freeze that injured their citrus crop. The ship was their "home away from home" while they toured the islands. The food was exceptionally good. After the boat was offshore from the United States it became a gambling casino. The islands themselves are wide open for gambling. Although the islands are traditionally British, the black policemen speak Spanish.

The temperatures in the 60's during the winter were up to 83 degrees when they left.

They were held up on their reservations out of Florida and if they hadn't come when they did, they couldn't have made it until after Easter.

The ocean water was 65 degrees when they left and the beaches were becoming crowded but only a small fraction of the number that will be there Easter when the students come down for the weekend.

Bob Runion, now of Pendleton, has been at the U of O Medical School for treatment of a serious eye condition. He's not yet out of the woods with that eye and may lose his sight in that eye.
