WHAT'S COOKING?

Mrs. Lee Pettyjohn is quite professional in her candy making. Here is her recipe for peanut brittle. She says to stretch it. The thinner it is the better it is. The object in flipping it over is to keep the peanuts from coming to the top.

- 3 cups white sugar
- 1 1/2 cups white corn syrup
- 1 cup water
- 1/2 cup butter
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. soda
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1 pound raw Spanish peanuts or 2 3/4 cups.

Measure all ingredients and have them ready. Marble slab should be dry and room temperature, oiled or buttered.

Put the sugar, syrup, water in 3 qt. straight side kettle. Stir until dissolved and bring to boil and wash sides of kettle down. Put thermometer in batch. While it's cooking, mix salt, soda and vanilla together in a small dish and set aside to be used at the end of the cook. When the thermometer registers 240 degrees, add the peanuts. Do not stir again until the batch begins to boil. Do not touch the sides of the kettle above the surface of the batch as you stir.

Cook and stir until the thermometer reaches 320. Add the butter. Remove from the fire. Add the salt, soda, vanilla mixture. Spread as thin as possible on the marble slab. Insert a spatula underneath the brittle to let air between the candy and the slab.

Then if you want to be real professional, put on clean white gloves, and grasp the candy from the back side and flip it over and spread it again as thin as possible.

If you don't have a marble slab, butter a cookie sheet and set over another cookie sheet filled with ice cubes covered with a towel. To stretch it, the candy may be transferred to a counter top.

MMI John F. Cole Promoted

On April 8, MMI Cole was promoted to Chief Reactor Auxiliary Operator. This promotion is the result of many extra hours of study and hard work on petty officer Cole's part. To achieve this promotion he was required to take a comprehensive test covering all areas of reactor control, operation and maintenance. He received a 3.92 on this test. He was then required to pass several oral boards designed to determine not only the amount of knowledge he has but to also find how he would react under stress due to a reactor casualty or emergency.

As a Chief Reactor Auxiliary Operator his job will be to supervise the watch section in operation of the Pressurized Water Nuclear Reactor and its associated systems. He will supervise the performance of routine mechanical maintenance, tests and inspections for the reactor and its associated fluid systems. He will perform major mechanical maintenance, and is the most technically qualified watchstander in the area of reactor fluid systems. He has the position of the Senior Reactor Mechanical Watchstander in the propulsion plant.

Petty Officer Cole is a 1964 graduate of Heppner High School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde R. Cole, Portland and the foster son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Clark, La Grande. (By G. W. Davis, Jr., Reactor Officer).

Farm Credit Bank Sets Record in Loans

The Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Spokane reports a new high of loans outstanding of more than $405 million through its Production Credit Associations, according to Wm. F. Barratt, president of the Bank. "It took over 35 years — from March, 1923 through June, 1958 — to achieve our first $100 million mark," Mr. Barratt pointed out, "and that was the toughest one. Eight years later — by May, 1966 — the $200 million milestone was reached. Only three years were required to reach the $300 million, on June 30, 1969 . . . and the jump to $400 million took just 13 months."

Mr. Barratt attributed the new high level of loan volume to several factors: An increase in the size of many agricultural operations, which requires more operating capital, and increasing pressure of high costs and inflation.

Blustery Easter Marks Thrills on Speedway

Auto racers were sure the Easter Bunny had left some points at the Umatilla Speedway and set out to find as many as competition would permit. Due to the windy overcast weather the track seemed more crowded than the grandstand.

Edie Jonas 36, set fast time for the sportsmen but couldn't get his car to complete a full lap thereafter. Dash finish was 1st Bonner 16; 2nd Dickman 40; 3rd Johnston 77; 4th, Jonas 36. First heat went to Edwards 7 and Heater 99. Second heat went to Bonner 17 and Dickman 40.

In the 40 lap main, McKinstry showed how it should be done as he came from his 6th place starting position to take an early lead. After Dickman went out on the 30th lap Ron practically coasted the McBride Body Shop Chev to the checkered flag. Finish was 1st, McKinstry 1; 2nd Edwards 7; 3rd, Bittrick 27; 4th Johnston 77; 5th E. Brown 27; 6th R. Brown 72; 7th Kelly 60.

Two Morrow County men made the Figure 8 trophy dash but finished 3rd and 4th. Lugauer 82 received the trophy from pretty Jackie Knight. Second Tompkins 08, Rauch 4; McKinstry 83.

The figure eight heat was a crowd pleaser with Rauch twice taking the lead from Lugauer to lose it again. Lugauer blew a head gasket in winning. Newcomer, Ted Toll, in a new car, showed much of the polished driving displayed a few years ago by his brother. 2nd Rauch 4; 3rd Badoux 59; 4th Crow 38; 5th Tomkins 08; 6th Durbin 15; 7th Simmons 7; 8th Toll 14.

In the figure eight main Rauch came from the rear to take the lead on the 1st lap but when he lost a wheel in the 12th it left McKinstry to Badoux. With near contact at every crossing of the intersection, finish was 1st Badoux 59;

2nd McKinstry 83; 3rd Tompkins 08; 4th Crow 38; 5th Durbin 15; 6th Simmons 64; 7th Sweeney 3; 8th B. Tomkins 20. After the second race, point standings are:
