ALL OUT FIGHT FOR ALL

Princess Jeri Krebs of the Pendleton Round-Up Court was in to tell about the Court's visit to Portland Meadows last weekend. She says "we got VIP treatment". This was a real fun trip with Portland's mayor giving them the keys to the City. They toured the new Georgia Pacific building and had lunch there.

More Flooding

Mrs. Maurice Elder feels so lucky that their house on the corner of Center and Chase did not get any water in the house. She put on her boots to go out to the car to go to her daughters, Colleen Ploybar. As she waded out to the car, the water came up over her boots but she got the car out ok.

Bill Cox called the creamery and told them to board up the doors. They used heavy boards and only at one of the corners where they couldn't get it up close did the water come in. After suffering a $5000 loss the last time they feel they were very lucky this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Robinson feel very fortunate that they were out at their ranch near Hardman when the flood hit. They were living in one of the Buschke Apartments on Chase St.

They found their car which had been parked in the street, a block down the street with a flat tire and mud and water inside.

The stories told about Keith Cumutt's car are something else. His car was parked in the area in front of the bath house by the creek. "Someone" said they saw it go through the bath house, turn twice in the swimming pool and go on. Anyway it was lodged on the fire hydrant down by Dr. Tibbles' house.
