Boardman News

By MARY LEE MARLOW

BOARDMAN—Postmaster Carl Moen has announced that all members of the community are invited to visit their local post office July 1 and enjoy the hospitality of the men and women who comprise the new United States Postal Service which is being inaugurated that day. It will be celebrated in Washington, D. C., and in every post office across the country.

Visitors to the post office will be given a souvenir envelope imprinted with the old and new insignia of the Postal Service. This envelope will also be made available in limited numbers as a first day cancellation—for just the cost of an 8¢ stamp—by stamping and cancelling half of the souvenir envelopes in advance. This will be the first time First Day Covers have been available in all U. S. post offices.

A photographic display of modern Postal Service jobs and functions will help visitors learn more about the men and women of the Postal Service and how each mail user can help them to serve the community better.

Another new item that will be added to the Postal Service Day is the historic stamp poster issue. Four large posters have been designed, each containing 7-12 blow-ups of historical U. S. postage stamps in full color on a black background. The posters each have themes: History, Transportation, Environment and Space. The posters will be used as part of the decoration scheme for Postal Service Day, but they will also be available to the public on special order. Local post offices will not be responsible for distribution. Blanks for ordering will be furnished and orders will be filled by the Philatelic Sales Unit in Washington, D. C.

Coffee and cookies will be served throughout the day.

Deadlines Listed Oregon College

Have you put off the decision about entering college this fall? About transferring to another school? There is still time—but not much.

Some 1,540 openings still remain in Oregon colleges and universities for late-deciding freshmen and 11th hour transfer students, according to a June survey conducted by the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education (WICHE).

According to the WICHE study, application deadlines for the fall semester range from Aug. 1 to Oct. 8 at 25 Oregon higher education institutions.

College officials point out, however, that vacancies are open only to students who meet the individual college's entrance requirements. And if a student has already applied to a college or university and has been turned down, he should not reapply.

The WICHE study, which canvassed 458 undergraduate institutions throughout the 13 western states, reports that approximately 49,000 vacancies are still available for entering freshmen and transfer students. A total of 263 western institutions responded to the survey, with 233 reporting vacancies for come-lately applicants.

The following two-year colleges in Oregon have openings for commuting and dormitory freshmen and transfer students: Clatsop Community College, Astoria, deadline Sept. 25; Concordia College, Portland, Aug. 15; Mt. Hood Community College, Gresham, Sept. 1; Oregon Technical Institute, Klamath Falls, Sept. 1; and Treasure Valley Community College, Ontario, Sept. 21. Vacancies for commuting freshmen and transfer students are at: Clackamas Community College, Oregon City, deadline Sept. 1; Lane Community College, Eugene, Sept. 27; Linn-Benton Community College, Albany, Oct. 8; Portland Community College, Oct. 1; and Umpqua Community College, Roseburg, Sept. 20.

The following four-year universities have openings for commuting and dormitory freshmen and transfer students: Eastern Oregon College, La Grande, Aug. 15 deadline; Marylhurst College (women only), Aug. 15; Mount Angel College, Sept. 1; Northwest Christian College, Eugene, Sept. 25; Oregon State University, Corvallis, Aug. 15; University of Oregon, Eugene, Aug. 15; Pacific University, Forest Grove, Aug. 15; Southern Oregon College, Ashland, Aug. 15; Warner Pacific College, Portland, Sept. 27; and Western Baptist Bible College, Salem, Aug. 1. Vacancies for dormitory freshmen and transfer students are at: George Fox College, Newberg, deadline Aug. 15; and Linfield College (no freshmen women), McMinnville, Aug. 1. Vacancies for commuting freshmen and transfer students at Portland State University, Aug. 27; and for commuting and dormitory freshmen at University of Portland, Aug. 27.

Details on vacancies in colleges and universities throughout the 13 western states are available from: College Vacancy Survey, WICHE, P. O. Drawer P, Boulder, Colo. 80302.

WICHE is a public agency which helps the 13 western states work together to increase educational opportunities for western youth, to improve programs of universities and colleges, to expand the supply of specialized manpower, and to inform the public of higher education needs.

Norman Everson Passes in Portland

Word was received of the death of Norman L. Everson of Portland on June 16. Memorial services were held June 21 in Portland with interment at the Willamette National Cemetery. Norman was born to Frank and Bessie Everson on July 23, 1913 at Ione. He spent most his youth here graduating from Ione School in May of 1932. He married Helen Ralph of Salem, who taught school here for many years. They have lived in Portland since 1938. They have one son, Gary, who also lives in Portland. Besides his wife, and son, he is survived by his mother, Mrs. O. C. Danskin; one sister, Eleanor Ricker; two brothers, Thomas R. and Robert L. Everson. Those attending the services from here were Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Connor, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carlson.

Shelley Wolff to WSU Summer Camp

Shelley Wolff, of Heppner, has enrolled for the annual high school summer camp at Washington State University which opens June 20.

Instruction in music, fine arts, journalism, drama, speech, debate and radio and television is offered at the Summer Camp, second oldest in the nation and currently observing its 40th year of operation.

The Heppner student will have an opportunity to participate in many formal and informal activities such as concerts, recitals, plays, speech tournaments, art exhibits, radio and television programs and a recreation program. The camp is open to all high school students who will be incoming college freshmen next fall and other graduating seniors.

The Port of Morrow budget has been adopted at a recent meeting for the fiscal year 1971-72. The total budget is $121,204, and the amount to be levied is $29,750.

In other action the Port entered into an audit contract with A. E. "Earl" Glidewell, CPA, of Hermiston.

There were four tables of pinocle in play at the card party held last Tuesday at the Greenfield Grange hall, sponsored by the Women's Activity Committee of the grange. Mrs. Arthur Allen was hostess.

High prize was won by Mrs. Albert Warnock and low went to Mrs. Verne Minnich. Mrs. Minnich and Maybelle Wetherell of Arlington received the traveling pinocle prizes.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Tye and daughters Rose Marie, Rhonda, Roberta and Ruth of Enterprise were recent visitors at the home of Mrs. Tye's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Sechafer. Renee, Loretta, Joe and John Tye returned home with their parents after visiting here several days with their grandparents.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Frank Marlow were her sisters and brother, Mrs. Life Smith of Toledo and Harold Harle and Mrs. Clarence Thomas of Pendleton. Other guests were Mrs. Roy Marlow, Mrs. Laura Hadley and Darrell Hadley of Umatilla.

State Grange Master Takes Dim View of Revenue Sharing Plan

A dim view of revenue sharing as proposed by the National Administration and an even dimmer view of breaking up the United States Department of Agriculture and handing its functions over to other departments was voiced by Oregon State Grange Master, Ted Sims, in his annual report to delegates attending the 98th annual session of the State Grange at Roseburg on June 15.

Sims delivered his report the second day of the five-day session which opened officially at the Douglas County Fairgrounds in Roseburg Monday morning, June 14.

Regarding revenue sharing, Sims pointed out that, in order to be eligible a state is required to file a plan that is acceptable. "There is no guarantee that any of the present programs can be included in the plan," Sims stated. "In the case of the Federal Cooperative Extension program," he noted, "revenue sharing might be used to substitute for state matching money. Since there would be no more federal funds, the program could be cut in half in many states and greatly reduced in Oregon."

Because the principals of distribution would be based largely on population, Sims pointed out, three counties in Oregon—Marion, Washington and Multnomah—would be ineligible for funds. Several other Oregon counties, he maintained, would become ineligible within a matter of a few years.

Regarding the Department of Agriculture, the State Master contended that the USDA should remain intact because rural American farmers and agri-business, plus many classes of environmentalists and conservationists and even urban groups, need national focus and spokesmen.

"To break up the USDA," he declared, "is like forcing a person to take the old tin lizzy six different places to get it repaired rather than taking her to one garage and having several jobs done."

Sims urged the Grange to stay on the alert and to insist on maintaining a strong USDA.

Eight Morrow County residents represented their granges at the session. Attending for Willows Grange were Mrs. Mary Lindsay, Lewis and Dot Halvorsen, and Beryl and Margaret Akers; Oscar Peterson represented Rhea Creek; and Nate and Margaret Thorpe represented Greenfield Grange.

Next year's session will be held in Beaverton the third Monday in June.

Last Retail Sale at Umatilla Army Depot

A retail sale of surplus government property scheduled at Umatilla Army Depot on Tuesday, June 22, will be the last such sale until further notice, according to James Asai, disposal officer for the installation. He cited depletion of categories of items on hand suitable for store-type sale and also personnel turnover in his department to result from a depot-wide reduction in force at the end of June as reasons for the decision.

Public retail sales have been held regularly at UAD since December in addition to scheduled spot bid sales. Asai stated it is planned to continue holding the spot bid sales at least once a month on dates to be announced.

Lex Rebekahs Initiate Two

By DELPHA JONES

LEXINGTON — A lovely candlelight initiation was held Thursday night at Holly Rebekah Lodge for Betty Ann Henderson and Linda Cooper.

The work was conducted by ladies in pastel colored formals, with talbeaus in ladies in all white. Soloist for the evening was Mrs. Alonzo Henderson, a member from Hood River. Following the initiation the regular meeting of the evening was conducted at which time the new members were presented membership pins, as was Mrs. Irene Padberg who has been a member a short time. Mrs. Dorothy Burcham NG was presented a pin in appreciation of her work the past year. Mrs. Ed Hunt the Convention chairman of District 20 was present to ask the group for various things for the convention to be held Oct. 29 in Heppner. Lexington Holly and Ione Bunchgrass will meet jointly that same evening for a special meeting at Lexington. Refreshments were served honoring the newly initiated members, and those having birthdays the last quarter. Mrs. C. C. Jones served the cake which was a lovely green with writing in darker green and pink sugar daisies. Mrs. Henderson, mother of Betty, poured as did Mrs. June Field, mother of Linda. The rooms were beautifully decorated with bouquets of roses and dutch irises, arranged by Mrs. Wm. J. VanWinkle.

Family Dinner
A family get together and dinner was enjoyed Saturday at the Kenneth Palmer home honoring their daughter Janet Crabtree and son Scott of Juneau, Alaska. Empire Builders 4-H Exchange

Morrow County Empire Builders are buzzing with plans in anticipation of an exchange visit from 4-H members from Denver, Colo.

Fifteen older 4-H members and their chaperones will arrive by bus in Pendleton Sunday, June 27 to spend a week with host families here. Next summer our 4-H'ers will return the visit.

While here the members will be visiting at the homes of the following families: Roland Bergstroms, Louis Carlsons, Gene Cutsforth, Lloyd Howtons, Howard Pettyjohns, Grace Drakes, Wallace Wolff, Dick McElligotts and Bernard Doherty.

Special fun activities are planned for the week, as well as educational tours and events. Exchanges are providing new interests for the older 4-H members. They are intended to be educational, giving members opportunities to know and understand others, develop responsibility, widen and enrich the viewpoints of members and promote better understanding and appreciation of all America.

We hope all Morrow County will take time to say "Hello" and "Welcome" to our county and state.

AGRICULTURAL EMPLOYERS

Workmen's Compensation Requirements
Have Been Expanded by Law
Effective July 1, 1971

Farmers and other agricultural employers must now have workmen's compensation coverage for all workmen employed.

THE EXCEPTION for employers with less than $1,500 payroll in the preceding year has been taken out of the law.

EXCEPTIONS for farm workmen are no longer permitted by the Oregon Workmen's Compensation law.

Farm and other agricultural employment is subject to workmen's compensation insurance requirements the same as any other trade, business or profession. You have a choice of insuring with private companies or the State Accident Insurance Fund. Be sure your insurance is workmen's compensation coverage. Employer's liability coverage is not the same.
