Housing Problem
The influx of people to town for the school year, starting next Tuesday has brought the most serious housing problem Heppner has experienced in many years. Real estate offices are facing a constant demand for living quarters, while numerous transactions have been reported. Daily people are asking "Where can I get a house?"

Wettest August of Record. 2.07
.85 inch fell Tuesday to give Harvellers trouble. Heppner's curbs ran full of water within a short time Tuesday afternoon when Jupiter Pluvius spilled .85 inch of moisture to give the city one of its wettest days in history and bring the record for August well above that for any August shown on the charts. Heppner was not alone in receiving the drenching which proved less welcome to those wheat farms having the remaining fourth of the county's bumper wheat crop still standing. The downpour reached cloud-burst proportions in spots, with damage to summer fallow, fences and roads. No material loss of grain has been reported.

Antelope Tags
Tags are still available to hunters, the bag limit is one antelope of either sex, and tags cost $1 each for resident or non-resident hunters. This fee is in addition to the regular hunting license fee.

Lively Good Prices, Ram Sale
Strong condition of the sheep and wool market was reflected in the Oregon Woolgrowers association ram sale at Pendleton last Friday. More than 700 head of animals were sold at prices almost double a year ago, a strong demand being shown for all types. One pen of Hampshires brought the top market at $65 per head, while a Suffolk stud brought a high individual price, $250.

Prices and Costs Up As Big Crops Stored
Material increases in both farm prices and farm cost and further indications of a total U. S. output of farm products approaching record proportions are outstanding among the facts included in a review of the agricultural situation and outlook just issued by the Oregon State college extension service. The report gives particular attention to the market outlook for wheat from the crop to the planted this fall and next spring. The sharp uptrend in prices for farm products is attributed to strong consumer purchasing power and other factors associated with the war and the defense program. Farm prices have gone up despite prospects for agricultural production of record proportions.

Weekly Recreation Report

Heppner Ranger District Roads:
Forest roads are dry and dusty. Wide load log trucks are hauling on weekdays between Ant Hill and the Kinzua Mill. Construction work being done on a 1/2 mile segment of the Coal Mine Hill Road S-422 above Cutsforth Park.

Trails:
Are open.
Campgrounds, Resorts:
Bull Prairie is a L&WCF charge. Camping and picnic facility is running about 40% full this year. A lovely cool spot to camp and relax.

Hunting, Fishing, Berries:
Fishing at Bull Prairie Lake is fair for Rainbow and Brook trout. Should improve as water cools off this month.

Fire Danger, Hazards:
Very high at this writing. Cooler nights are helping to bring up forest fuels moisture. We have had no rain for a month. Use extreme caution with open fires.

Weather:
Temperatures have been very high this month. We expect cooler nights now. Night time temperature at Bull Prairie has been in the 40's.

Special Items:
Forestry crews have reported sighting of wild turkeys again this year. One brood of young turkeys sighted this month.

Ukiah Ranger District Roads:
Construction on the Ukiah-Granite Road is progressing rapidly. For your convenience and the contractor's, please do not use the road on weekdays.

Trails:
No report.

Campgrounds, Resorts:
Now is the time to arrange for group camping permits for Labor Day Weekend. Club and family-reunion organizers should contact district Ranger offices for permits. At this time we will try to direct groups to good locations for camping. Write District Ranger, Box 158, Ukiah, Ore. 97880. (Reservations cannot be made for campsites.)

Hunting, Fishing, Berries:
Huckleberry pickers got to the writer's favorite patch first, so it is hard to judge how good the crop is this year around the head of Pearson Creek. Also, the cattle are in that pasture at present. A third problem is a leaf blight on many plants.
Fire Danger, Hazards:
Fire hazard is approaching the "extreme" category.
Weather:
Hot and dry. Cool nights.

Womans Lib Comes To the Fair Parade

Marjorie Clark Ridings who will be Morrow County Fair Parade Grand Marshal is the first woman to act in that capacity. She grew up in Heppner. Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Clark. They had a grocery store between Thomson and First National Bank. She graduated from Heppner High School with the class of 1927. She was never fond of horseback riding in those days. She has one older sister, Mary. Their old home was the first house north of the Courthouse in those days.

Mrs. Ridings and her party which will include her sister and brother-in-law and others will be here. Marlene Bergstrom has turned her house over to them while they are here.

Fellow classmates and old friends are hoping to be the welcoming committee. They are Happy Wightman Graham, Ruth Bergstrom, Nellie Jones, Jim Thomson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bucknum, Ebb Hughes, Paul and Kathleen Hisler and Jerry Brosnan to name a few.

Harold Erwin, Grand Parade Marshal for the Westward Ho Parade is also numbered among her classmates. So it will be one Grand Parade Marshal visiting with another Grand Parade Marshal!

Friends plan to take her to the Wranglers Cowboy Breakfast Sunday morning at the Park where friends may enjoy meeting her again.

Jerry Martins to Iowa

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Martin, Cindy, Lisa and Scott of Ione took a trip to Iowa this summer. They experienced the usual Iowa high humidity and temperatures. They visited Mr. Martin's mother, Mrs. Harry Martin and his grandfather, Lester Reed who live near Oelien.

There's to be a tremendous corn crop. Ranchers have been without rain for quite a long period. They like to harvest their corn late autumn after an Indian summer before the winter rains. Early winter rains hamper the harvest.

The Martins also enjoyed a salmon fishing trip this summer, too.

Irrigon Pays For Building

By FRANCES ROSE WILSON

IRRIGON — Mayor Chester Wilson announced this week that the final payment has been made on the City service building. The building located on the highway at Ordance Road, was formerly a service station, and is presently used to service city equipment.

Dale Slusher, regional manager for Pacific N. W. Bell has informed Mayor Chester Wilson that the engineering study by the telephone company for the Irrigon community is continuing. Progress is being made and several alternate plans are being evaluated in seeking the most feasible way to meet the areas needs.

The community is now being served by multi-party lines under the Umatilla exchange. It is often difficult for parties calling from distant points to locate Irrigon in a phone directory.

A Sectional Women's Missionary Council Rally, has been announced for Tuesday, Aug. 31, from 10:30 a.m. until 2:00 p.m., at the Irrigon Assembly of God Church, on 8th St. Missionary guest speaker will be Charlotte Rodgers, missionary evangelist to the Philippine Islands.

A salad luncheon will be served at noon. Everyone is welcome to attend.

The Rev. Wesley Cronk, pastor of the Irrigon Assembly of God church, was featured as a gospel singer at Pinehurst, Idaho, in the Sunday morning service. In Irrigon the Rev. Ed Skultety, of Hermiston filled the pulpit at the Assembly of God.

Missionary Dale Parker and his family were guests on Thursday evening at the church, showing colored slides of his showing in Alaska.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee LeBlanc have received many favorable comments on the appearance of their establishment, Lee's Texaco and Groceries. They recently refinished the store front with a colorful rock facing.

Recent visitors at the E. A. Stephens home were their daughter and grandson, Mrs. Ray Purtyman (Jean) of Phoenix, Ariz., and Roger Wiley Benefiel, of Spokane, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ferger of Richland, Wash., spent several days visiting her mother, Mrs. Lee LeBlanc. Bob Ferger teaches in Richland.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Berg and Ronald of Vancouver, Wash. visited his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Al Partlow.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Wilson of Echo visited with Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Stephens on Sunday.

The Irrigon Lions Club participated in the Umatilla County Fair. They operated a hamburger stand, and were in the parade on Saturday.
