There were 250 entries in this year's horse show, making it like most other parts of the Morrow County Fair, the biggest in years. Judge for the show was Lyman Nash from Enterprise. Mr. Nash commented several times on the excellent quality of the horses he was judging and the accomplishment of the riders.

The Wranglers' Riding Club is deeply appreciative of the prize donations from local merchants and businessmen and the excellent support they receive from Morrow County residents. Not only were there many entries, the grandstand was also nearly filled with spectators.

FAIR FUNNIES

Kids were seen sleeping all over the place which is sheer proof that the Morrow County Fair is a "family fair". The strangest place was to find them asleep in one of the pig stalls. Two kids were missing and that was where they were found. One was asleep and the other one almost with the translator going full blast!

Then there was the pig wearing the wig and dark glasses. We're not saying who belonged to the wig and the dark glasses... but they looked great on the pig too!

Ed Clark of Hermiston, a former resident of Heppner stopped by last week with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stevens from Long Beach, Calif. The Stevens are traveling to Washington to visit relatives before returning home.

RON DANIELS, Morrow County's superintendent of schools, is shown receiving a dividend check for $1200 from Lee Robert, son of the State Accident Insurance Fund. This is part of a $10 1/2 million dividend returned to Oregon employers by SAIF this year.

Evaluation of 1971 Way Over Last Year

Initial reports from the evaluator from the Fair Commission have been most encouraging for the people who work so hard to make the Fair better and better.

The Fair has been rated higher than last year. Additional points over last year were earned by charging admission. Even though the admission charge was nominal, the Heppner High School Cheer Leaders who manned the gates earned considerably more than they had anticipated. They got 50% of the gate receipts.

Conditions are rated 1 to 10. The theme "Typically Western" received full 10 points. Noted for additional points over last year were the addition of flower beds and grass.

The evaluator had very favorable comments for the inside of the main building which had been completely repainted which made the room much lighter this year. The legs on the tables had been painted so that paper didn't have to go around the base of the table. He was impressed with the number and quality of the booths, the entries in cooking and sewing as well as the others. He was amazed at all the livestock entries and no place to put them.

Ten points were also given on the restrooms with the addition of the new ones for this year. He went down town and noted the lack of signs directing people to the Fairgrounds.

Top priority are the new wash racks before the next Fair and in the not too distant future a new barn which will probably be an L shaped barn beyond the Dairy barn.

Three Floats For Sweepstakes

Several organizations and individuals pocketed a bit of jingling following the Morrow County Fair Parade Saturday. It was watched by spectators on both sides of Main St., with the most on the shady side of the street!

Sweepstakes winner was the Heppner Rainbow Girls. Their theme: A Western Girls' Oasis showed their traditional rainbow coming from snow mountain peaks to the desert with its sagebrush and sand. Riding on the float were Mary Kay Hughes, worthy advisor, Linda Baker, Carol Hughes, Diane Mills and Liz Abrams. They won first in the Juvenile Division for $25 and Sweepstakes added $50 more.

Morrow County Jaycees

In the adult organizations, Morrow County Jaycees won first place. Their typical western scene showed the old time wash tub doubling as the bath tub with Archie Ball giving himself a brisk back scrub. Already at a Saturday fun fest at the local tavern were the two barmaids, Judy Osmin and Marie Struthers, Bartender, Ed Struthers and at the typical round table were Reggie Pascal, Fred Breeding, Frank Osmin, Pat Wosner.

The Heppner Soroptimist Club won second prize in Adult organizations. They depicted a scene from the new history book of Morrow County, "Homesteads and Heritages". The pages of the over-sized book were in the act of being turned by Arlene and Susan Gray dressed in patchwork granny dresses and big sunhats.

A real live sheepherder, Shorty Roy Knighten, sat on a rock amongst the sagebrush and grass and with his pet sheep.

Best Float out of County

Hermiston Chamber of Commerce with their Sweetheart float won 1st and $15 in Out of County floats. Umattilla Ordinance Depot 2nd, Cub Scouts Pack No. 645 Hermiston 3rd and U. S. Navy Recruiting 4th.

Best Riding Club

Union Blue Sage Riders won 1st and $25 for the Best Riding Riders were 2nd and $15.

Bob Van Scholacks were the Best Mounted Family group. Best Mounted Cowgirl was Donna Peterson, lovely chaperone of the 1971 Fair and Rodeo court. Roy Quackenbush was the Best Mounted cowboy.

Duane Reichart, the clown from the rodeo, was judged the best comic. Ethel Merriman who began riding in parades in the 1930's was the oldest cowgirl and Harold Erwin was the oldest cowboy.

Heppner High School was the first and only band in the parade.

Pendleton Round-Up had quite a delegation over for the parade. The Pendleton Round-Up Court with Queen Patti Healy and Princess Jeri Krebs, both from Morrow County won 1st in the Queens and Courts.

Old Cars

There were quite a few old cars entered in the parade. Bob Harrison won the blue ribbon and $10 with his 1928 Model A

Ford Truck. Glenn Rohde won second and $7.50 driving a very fancy 1919 Oldsmobile Opera coupe and third and $5 went to Ray Stever. He drove a Model T Ford Roadster.

Sureys

The Elgin Stagecoach took first in the Sureys. Floyd Hutchins and his grandchildren in an old surrey that Hutch built himself won second. Prince usually a placid horse lived up to the excitement of the day and was stepping lively. Hutch is a long time horse trader and lover. He started breaking horses when he was 13 years old when they first moved to McMinnville.

Juvenile Division

The Brannon Family won first prize in the Childs floats. The train engine float built on a windshield box on top of a wagon was pulled by Karmin and Russell Brannon and Kellie Jo and Marty rode in the cab. Big boxes tied together formed the engine bright with black and yellow paint.

The Two Trackers won 1st prize for Riding Clubs.

Costumes

Shelley and Angie Frazier and Jackie Anderson won first prize in the costume division. They wore cowboys and Indians outfits from burlap. Dan McGill was second and Andy Gorman was 3rd.

Amy Murray was the youngest cowgirl and Dewayne Ball was the youngest cowboy. In bicycles Jodi Padberg won first and Shane Laughlin 2nd. Tricycles Glenda Jessmer 1st and Jay Keithley 2nd. Ricky Carr wore the best Juvenile Cowboy Costume and Dee Dee Rood, the best Juvenile Cowgirl costume.

Help on Its Way For Sheriff's Dept.

Morrow County has made application for two full time and one part time employee for the Sheriff's Department. This is under the Governor's Committee to aid unemployment in the state.

The County Court put together the application which had to be submitted for approval first to the five mayors of the county and then to the newly formed Eastern Central Oregon Association of Counties. From here it was to go to CAMPS, Cooperative Area Man Power Committee State of Oregon and then to the Seattle office by Sept. 9.

With only the Sheriff and one deputy it is difficult to patrol the county as large as it is. Top priority to be among those employed are disabled veterans, veterans and/or others who are either unemployed or under employed.

Barbara McCarl Wins Reserve Champion on Poncho at State

The Extension office received word Monday that Barbara McCarl had won reserve Champion at State Fair on her knitting. She made a brown plaid ponche with beige knit binding.
