KINZUA NEWS

Jiggs Bowman Honored

Mr. and Mrs. Jiggs Bowman were the honored guests Saturday night at a 25th wedding anniversary party at the Kinzua Golf Club. The affair was arranged by the Bowman family, Vic, Ron, Sara, Cindy, and Mike Brown. Colors of red and white were used with a four tiered wedding cake decorated in red and white on the serving table. The Bowmans received many gifts including a silver tea service from their children and a set of silver flatware. Music was furnished by Don Slinkard and Ray Cody with an assist from Al Vela of Arlington. Coming from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Espinola of Stanfield, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Murphy of Bend, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Clapper of Maupin, and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Laite of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Benson and son Ricky were business visitors to Portland over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Barzee returned home Saturday night from a two week's vacation trip to Idaho, Wyoming and various Oregon points.

Lige Long went to Fairview near Portland Friday evening and on Saturday Mrs. Long returned from a several weeks trip to California and Arizona. They returned to Kinzua on Sunday.

Mrs. Danniell Bell and daughter Jeannette and Mrs. Robert Kelso were in The Dalles Thursday afternoon to see the optometrist.

Visiting a week ago with Archie Cox were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cox and daughter Lori Ann of Roseburg.

The Green, Green Thumb of a Child

Green thumbs in children isn't an unusual sight. This year at the Morrow county fair many children with green thumbs brought in fruits and vegetables to be exhibited in the childrens corner. Anita Palmer of Ione had the only exhibit of apples or maybe she was the only one who didn't rob the apple tree before eating time. Anita received a red ribbon on her apples.

No Exhibits
There were no exhibits in the apricot, pears or peaches division. Anita Palmer was the only one to enter plums or prunes. She received a blue ribbon in the classification.

There were no berries exhibited.

Jay and Valerie Sullivan of Irrigon entered their grapes this year. Valerie placed first and Jay second.

Dennis Papineau of Lexington placed first with his string beans.

Arlene Gray of Heppner placed first with the beets she exhibited at the fair this year in the childrens corner. Dennis Papineau placed second and Pat Laugner of Heppner placed third.

No Room for Rabbits
Traci Boner of Heppner must not have a rabbit, because she still had a head of cabbage to enter. Traci placed second and Dennis Papineau placed third with the head of cabbage he entered.

Dennis Papineau must have hit the corn patch before fair time. Dennis received a red ribbon with the ear of yellow corn he entered. Dennis was also the only one to enter any Indian corn. His Indian corn brought him a blue ribbon.

Everybody loves to grow carrots. Dennis Papineau made another trip to the garden to find his carrots to exhibit for a winner of a blue ribbon. Receiving a red ribbon for a second place was Pat Laugner of Heppner and Traci Boner of Heppner receiving the white ribbon. Others entering carrots were, Arlene Gray, Cinda Griffith, Cheri Griffith and Anita Palmer.

The cucumber division was another large one. Shelley Thompson of Heppner placed first, Arlene Gray second and Dennis Papineau third. Others entering cucumbers were Donna Palmer, Wayne Huwe, Bradley Huwe, Jay Sullivan and Tracie Boner.

Dennis Papineau entered the only lemon cucumber to receive his white ribbon.

Darla Rea of Lexington received the first place given for the best Kohlrobi, Brian Thompson of Heppner received second and Debora Palmer of Ione received third. Terrell Rea also entered his Kohlrobi.

Dennis Papineau entered his potatoes to place first. He had the only entrance in the helted Gem division. In the Red Pontiac potato division, Dennis Papineau placed first, Cinda Griffith second and Cheri Griffith third. In the catch all class of potatoes, Cheri Griffith placed third.

Arlene Gray had the only entrance of green peppers, she received a blue ribbon.

All in the Family
There were three entries in the pea division (12 pods) all from the same family. Ricky, Darla and Terrell Rea of Lexington. Terrell placed first, Ricky second and Darla third.

In the squash division, Tracie Boner of Heppner placed first, Pat Schwarz placed second and Valerie Sullivan placed third. Also entering this classification were Dennis Papineau and John Killpack.

Valerie Sullivan placed first with her ripe tomatoes and Jay Sullivan placed second. Dennis Papineau wasn't far behind with his green tomato, and second place winnings.

In the small tomatoes any variety, Jay Sullivan placed first and Valerie placed second.

In the Ground cherries, Valerie Sullivan placed second and Jay Sullivan third.

Best General Exhibit
Best general exhibit went to Dennis Papineau of Lexington with a red ribbon.

Scott Barnett of Ione and Dennis Papineau had the only exhibits of freak corn.

Rita Rae Laugner, Ronnie Schwarz, Dennis Papineau, Gary Killpack and John Killpack, all entered table squash that were freak.
