

Show Them The Way To the Kitchen

The future homemakers class in the corner was devoted to those entering the canning division and the candy division. Premiums were $1.25 for a blue ribbon; 75c for a red ribbon and 25c for a white ribbon.

Canning
There were Sub-divisions made up in each of the three categories, and in the canning division, it was broken down to vegetables, berries, fruit, jam, jelly and pickles. Of these foods, tell me which is a child's favorite to eat. If you said pickles, you're right. This was the only class entered. Jay Sullivan of Irrigon placed second with his pickles, Valerie Sullivan of Irrigon placed third and Barbara Devine had the only other entry.

Yeast and Flour
Theresa Proctor of Irrigon had the only entry in the yeast breads division. She'll tell you what practice makes perfect to receive a blue ribbon.

Tammie Tucker of Ione likes to make nut and fruit bread. Wait till Christmas to use your talents Tammie. She received a blue ribbon. Receiving the second place ribbon was Jill Hobbs of Irrigon and Cinda Griffith of Heppner placed third.

The Palmer family has probably eaten practice muffins for at least 1 month before the fair. Don't worry Mom and Dad, cause fairs over and Donna

Kinzua, First Home Of David A. Knights

KINZUA — The Kinzua Community Church was the scene Friday evening for the eight o'clock wedding of Miss Wanda Joyce Smiley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smiley to David A. Knight, son of Mrs. Betty Knight of Portland. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Edwin Derrick before the altar decorated with tall candelabra with white tapers.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a gown of white lace, fashioned with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt forming a self train. The scalloped neckline was trimmed with seed pearls. Her elbow length veil was held in place with white flowers and seed pearls. She carried a nosegay of white carnations. Maid of Honor was Miss Karen Mortimore who wore a floor length dress of orange lace over taffeta with a yellow belt and yellow net headpiece. She carried a nosegay of orange and yellow carnations. Best man for his brother was Mike Knight of Fossil with Truman Smiley, brother of the bride and Phil Britt of Portland as ushers and candlelighters. Mrs. Smiley chose to wear a green knit dress with Mrs. Knight wearing aqua and both having white carnation corsages.

Mrs. Troy Day accompanied herself when she sang, "We've Only Just Begun" and "For All We Know". The Wedding marches were played by Mrs. Robert Kelso.

Miss Vicki Wham of Portland was in charge of the guest book with Miss Kathy Nelson attending the gift table.

Immediately after the service, a reception was held in the church annex where a three-tiered cake, decorated in yellow and white, and topped with a bride and groom centered the serving table. After the young couple cut and shared the first slice of cake, it was cut and served by Mrs. John Weaver and Mrs. Truman Smiley.

Coffee was served by Mrs. Clyde Britt, grandmother of the groom with Mrs. Mike Knight serving the punch. The gift table was covered with a white lace cloth over yellow. The new Mrs. Knight is a graduate of Wheeler High School with Mr. Knight having attended school in Portland. They left for a wedding trip to the Oregon Coast and will make their home in Kinzua where David is employed by Kinzua Corporation.

There are highs and lows for both men and women given at each party. Refreshments will be served at the end of each evening.

Little Ole Candy Makers
Anita Palmer and Becky Hobbs love fudge and fudge making. Both must have made several practice batches before entering their first and second place winners. (Anita, first and Becky second).

Jill Hobbs received a red ribbon in her divinity candy. Surprising enough there were no entries in the taffy division. Maybe mother had something to do with changing their minds about pulling of the taffy.

In the catch-all candy class, Donna Palmer of Ione placed first, Debora Palmer placed second and Karmin Brannon placed third. Also entering in this division was Anita Palmer of Irrigon.

PRIZE WINNERS at the Oregon State Fair were Cynthia Matthews and Pamela Schmeder.
