Clothing, Needlework And Knitting In Childrens Corner

Its great that young girls love to sew, only if little items, so why not have a place for them to exhibit their goods and compete for ribbons.

Premiums are $1.25 for first place, 75c for second place and 25c for third place.

The childrens corner has such a division. All children between the ages of 6 and 14 may enter items in the childrens corner. Three main lots were devised for clothing, needlework and knitting. Here are the results.

For a simple but handy kitchen apron, Linda Keithley of Heppner placed first. Donna Palmer of Ione placed second and Tracie Boner of Heppner placed third. Also entering her apron was Debra Palmer of Ione.

Sally Sumner of Heppner was the only exhibitor of a blouse or shirt. Sally acquired a blue ribbon for her sewing efforts.

Erin Evans of Heppner won a blue ribbon on her skirt. Joan Warren won a red ribbon and Linda Keithley of Heppner won a white. Also entering skirt in this class were Lisa Martin of Ione and Sally Sumner of Heppner.

Church Overflows at Gene Cutsforth Rite

Memorial services for Gene W. Cutsforth, 42, Lexington, who died in his car after colliding with a log loader Friday night, were held Monday afternoon at Hope Lutheran Church, Heppner.

Rev. Rudolph Mensch gave a personalized tribute to Gene who had been a very active member of the Hope Lutheran congregation. He had helped build the church, served on many boards there, and worked with young people. Mrs. Paul Tews served as organist and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Marquardt sang duets, "My Faith Looks Up To Thee" and "Beautiful Saviour".

Many Friends Attend
The church was completely filled, main floor, loft, and basement, and many stood out on the lawn. Amplifiers carried the music and message to all. Many out-of-town friends joined in the large group which went on to the concluding services at the Heppner Masonic Cemetery. Active casket bearers were: Gene Majeske, Irvin Rauch, Gene Orwick, Fred Rugg, Lyle Cox, Jack Edmondson. Honorary bearers were: Ralph Kincaid, Alton Yarnell, Richard Beardsley, Herman Blottel, Norman Nelson, Darrell Padberg, Sweeney Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Gene Was Active in County
Gene Watson Cutsforth was born at Heppner Oct. 31, 1928. He attended school in Lexington and was graduated from Heppner High School. Gene had further schooling at Kemper Military Academy at Columbia, Mo., at Oregon State University, and at a diesel school in Portland. While he was at diesel school he met Lucia Mess from Roseburg. They were married on Oct. 15, 1949 in Portland.

Gene has been active in the Lexington Grange, the Farm Bureau, Heppner Elks Lodge

358, and the Hope Lutheran Church. He has operated his farm near Lexington through some poor years and a few better years, like this year.

Survivors are the widow, Lucia; daughter Diana, 19; sons Tom, 18, Jim, 16, and Curtis, 15, all at home. His parents, Heppner, Orville W. Cutsforth, Sr., and Mrs. Alta Cutsforth; brothers, Orville Cutsforth, Jr. (Fritz), and Kenneth, Heppner, and Pat of Lexington; sisters, Vesta Germondson, Gresham; Dorothy Shopmeyer, Beaverton, Faye Olsen, Pasco, Wn.; and half-sisters, Sharon Gorman, Lisa and Donna Cutsforth, Heppner; a stepbrother, Gene Heliker, Seattle, Wn., and a stepmother, Mrs. Orville W. Cutsforth, Sr. (Barbara) of Heppner.

After the memorial services about 200 persons were served dinner at the Orville Cutsforth home. The Lutheran women took charge and food was provided by many friends and by the Holly Rebekah Lodge.

Memorial contributions are being made in Gene's name to the Hope Lutheran Memorial Fund.

Slippers for Coming Winter

Rosanna Marlatt of Heppner knitted the first place slippers and Joyce Lynn Thorpe of Heppner knitted the second place slippers. Both pairs should be very comforting in the cool evenings.

Slippers for Coming Winter
Linda Keithley of Heppner knitted the first place winning headgear and Becky Hobbs of Irigon placed third with her knitting.

Whatever, Knitting Division

In the miscellaneous articles of knitting, Laurie Malcom of Heppner received a blue ribbon for her time and effort spent on her knitting article, Judy Ledbetter received a red ribbon and Rosanna Marlatt placed with a white ribbon. Also entering in this division were Jyl Hobbs of Irigon, Beck Hobbs of Irigon and Paula Palmer of Heppner. To all of these girls I'm sure knitting is a fun way to spend time and effort for a really worthwhile project.
