Lions Club Sees Antarctic Pics

Steve Lindstrom showed his overseas pictures of Samoa, New Zealand and the Antarctic at the Lions Club annual Ladies' night dinner Monday at The Elks. Seabee Lindstrom had some seldom seen shots of the Antarctic. While he was stationed there they had one of the warmest times on the little known continent. The 40 degree temperature melted snow and broke up ice in the bay. There's no vegetation but there were big areas of bare ground, quite rocky. The foot hills were bare but there was snow on the mountains.

His ship stopped off in Samoa and New Zealand enroute to Antarctica and Steve got some outstanding pictures of these places also. Larry Prock, Lions Club president, welcomed the 37 guests of members and their wives.

Two of the Heppner boys at Elks Mountain Community College are Kevin Dick and Matt Wagner. Matt will attend part-time and keep his job at the Gazette-Times part-time.

Any weed is a problem weed ...if you wait to kill it.

Igran doesn't have to wait.

Igran® is the one wheat herbicide that's safe to apply the day you seed. Even right from the drill, as shown.

Getting Igran on early, doesn't give the weeds it controls a bit of a chance to compete with your wheat for moisture or nutrients. Plus it's your best bet for suppressing cheat-grass.

That's why getting Igran on early, grows you more wheat. Ask your own county extension service how much more. Then see if the difference doesn't make it worth your while to use Igran on more of your acres. More than just the wheat with "problem" weeds.

After all, any weed is a problem as long as it's growing. No matter how easy-to-kill it may be later. But with Igran, you don't have to let weeds grow at all.

Prove it yourself. Use Igran this fall ... early.
