On our first day here in 1969 Judge Paul Jones told us about what he felt was Morrow County's foremost resource, its young people. We note with considerable pleasure the pride with which lots of folks join him in a big pat on the back each year of the members during National 4-H Club Week. At the same time we say a big Thank You to the 4-H leaders who so generously give of their time, energy and talents to help out this fine program that is surely one of the biggest things in the entire county. As one leader put it, "Don't worry. We leaders greatly enjoy working with these fine young folks."

4-H WEEK

At agricultural exhibitions all over the country, demonstrations of youthful skills in agricultural pursuits are prominently featured. A leader in the encouragement of these skills is the 4-H club. National 4-H Week is to be observed this year from Oct. 3-9. The purpose of the week is, "To expand 4-H, gain greater public support, get more volunteer 4-H leaders, express appreciation to 4-H friends locally and nationally."

Those who have been fortunate enough to attend county or state fairs this year have seen the results of 4-H club work in animal husbandry, home economics and other fields. Any boy or girl between the ages of nine and 19 may become a 4-H member. Under the guidance of a 4-H club leader, he can begin acquiring qualities of responsible citizenship, as well as an understanding of the science of producing the food and fiber upon which life depends.

The emblem of the 4-H speaks for itself: My Head to clearer thinking, My Heart to greater loyalty, My Hands to larger service, My Health to better living, for my club, my community and my country. More than two million youthful members of 4-H clubs stand behind the high goals and principles of 4-H. 4-H Week is the one time of the year when parents and the nation can respond to the young who must carry our civilization and our country forward to a brighter future.

BELTON, TEXAS, JOURNAL AND DEMOCRAT: "From 1946 through 1969 the United States has given or loaned to foreign countries over $138 billion—that's right, $138 billion—and the figure is higher by now. Some of these countries we taxpayers never heard of, like Surinam, Botswana, Burundi, Dahomey, Lesotho, etc. And we are still borrowing more money in order to give more away. Many of the recipients of our charity have insulted Americans, stolen our property and driven us out of the country we saved and rebuilt. Have all our billions accomplished anything or bought any friends? An old saying is that 'charity begins at home'. In my opinion, more of it should stay at home."

Bored and Looking for Something To Do?

Give 4-H a try. There's some 60 different projects with 110 divisions for you to choose from. Almost every boy or girl from 9 to 19 should be able to find something of interest. Besides the 60 state-wide projects, there are more than 20 local projects ranging from rocketry to skiing that might fill the bill.

No matter what the project, the 4-H member, working with a volunteer leader, will learn by doing something interesting on a voluntary basis.

Oregon's 4-H program is growing, last year a record 43,144 young people were enrolled. Morrow County shared in the state wide increase with a total of 429 members enrolled in 1971, compared to 376 during the preceding year.

The 4-H program is basically divided into eight broad divisions: animal science, plant science, natural science, mechanical science, creative arts, home economics, leadership and community improvement projects make up these divisions.

While the emphasis of 4-H is on education, 4-H members have fun by going to camp, on tours, to fairs and many other activities which provide great opportunities to make new friends.

If you want to find that something for you, whether you're a would-be 4-H leader or member, visit the Morrow County Extension office in Heppner. The 4-H year is just beginning.

All About Horses

Carl Niles—Albuquerque, New Mexico asks—
I have a three-year-old Quarter Horse I am training for cutting. He likes to charge the cattle. He won't stay back. How can I make him stay back?

This is a common occurrence with green horses. It seems best to work with no turn-back and drive the animal to the other end of the arena. When the horse gets too close he will lose the animal and so, he must gallop back and repeat the whole performance. Each time he drives it to the other end and loses the cow or goat, make him hurry back and get it again. He will soon figure out that he must not lose it and so will begin to stay back. Don't whip or spur him for losing the animal, but make him hurry to get it back.

Glenda Hayburn—Pocatello, Idaho writes—

I went to a show in California and watched the Equitation class. In the program it said that the rider would be judged on hands, seat, and the use of the aids. Please explain what the judge was looking for and what are the aids?

The dictionary defines equitation as the act of riding on horseback. So the judge is watching the riders to see whether they sit up straight, with their shoulders back, chest out, head up, arms close to the body, hand holding the reins over the horn, and how they control the horse. The rider only is judged in this class, not the horse, as in a pleasure class. The aids are the rider's hand, leg, voice, whip if used, balance, and spurs. Anything that aids in riding the horse. The rule book defines how you must ride, dismount and mount in this class and everyone showing should study the rule book.

4-H Balloons to Fly At Ione Saturday

The Superstitchers 4-H Club of Ione is sponsoring a 4-H Balloon Fly this Saturday at 2:30 p.m. at the Ione Ball Field. Fifty 4-H balloons filled with helium will be released. Each balloon will contain the name and address of a Morrow County boy or girl. The finder of the balloon is asked to write to that person telling where the balloon was found. There will be a prize for the one whose balloon went the farthest and for the one finding it.

The deadline for the prizes is Oct. 31 but it is hoped that any balloon finders will return their messages after that date also. Just for fun. The Superstitchers appreciate the help Paul Pettyjohn has given them on this fun contest.

To sign up for a balloon boys and girls are asked to call the Superstitchers' leaders, Mrs. Ralph Crum 422-7247 and Mrs. Robert Montgomery 422-7558.

Everyone is invited to come out to watch the balloons go up.

4-H foods and nutrition projects now allow members to use mixes. The new project books are creative and in step with living today. Foods IV, new this year, teaches "international" cooking.

If you'd like some free tickets to next year's big rodeo, send in your suggestion for a theme for the parade and rodeo. Remember, the contest ends tomorrow night, Friday, Oct. 8. Just jot down your theme and sign your name, bring it to the G-T or leave at Peterson's Jewellers. Winner this year is going to win a surprise cash bonus, too. So come on and give it a try. Remember, 1972 is Heppner's Centennial Year!

Talent, like gold, is where you find it. Among other things we enjoyed at the Sunday's big event at the Ione United Church of Christ was some art work. A fine picture of the church was shown in the basement. It was painted in splendid colors by Carl Troedson.

Milton Morgan of Western Wheat Associates is soon scheduled for a big overseas trip, landing first in India. Just to make things dandy for him, he's at present "enjoying" a real oratory wisdom tooth. Enroute home from his trip, Margaret will meet him in Hawaii.

Trips like this by folks like Milt have made American grain a wanted and desirable product, improving nutrition for lots of Orientals.

TO THE EDITOR...

I noticed this in The Oregon

Churchman, September.

"The Trinity choir at St. Paul's Salem, boasts of three generations of one family as choir members."

In the choir are Mrs. George Corwin, her grandson Larry Sparks, and daughter, Mrs. Henry Stoudenmeyer.

Mrs. Stoudenmeyer's daughter Angela also sings in the Epiphany choir and daughter Janelle in the Advent choir at St. Paul's.

The Corwins are former Heppner residents. Mr. Corwin was superintendent of the Heppner Public school.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gemmill, former Heppner residents and now living in Salem are also members of St. Paul's church.

AS DAVE BAKER, Gerald Peterson and Don Peterson talk beside the truck, the giant proportions of the truck can be realized.

Barley Shipped by NFO Truck to Calif.

Two loads of Morrow County NFO barley moved last Thursday into sale position in a No. 9 warehouse in California for a block sale.

These loads were a trial run checking the feasibility of moving large quantities of barley to feedlots in California. The two trucks from the midwest are NFO farmer owned and were out here to point out the possibilities of improved prices brought about by having the capability of moving grain in any direction through a fleet of trucks both NFO farmer owned and commercially owned.

The trucks took the grain to Corning, Ca., where it is expected to be sold soon as feed in cattle feeding operations.

Yellow Rose Pudding Pleases Bookworms

Do you cook rose petals? A royal dessert, Yellow Rose Pudding, is featured in Maxine Adams Miller's book, "The Bright Blue Beads". Mrs. Lucy Peterson checked this exciting book out of the Heppner Public Library and reviewed it so interestingly for the Bookworms Club on Sept. 28 at the home of Mrs. Ted Smith.

Mrs. Miller told of living in Persia with her family and of some amazing experiences there—where business comes almost to a standstill on Friday because of the Mohammedan Holy day, on Saturday because of the Jewish sabbath, and on Sunday for the Christians. When a girl child is born, the parents are told, "May Allah be kinder to you next time!"

Especially amusing were her accounts of the preparation of an important dinner under the difficult situation in which the American hostess could not speak the language that all the servants spoke, and of the American woman's skin-tingling experiences as she attended the public bath with a Persian lady.

The author advises that if one wants to feel at home in Persia, "Remove the second hand from one's watch." Time seems not to bother the upper class—or the business people. Most stores close from 1:00 until 4:00 each day so that people can enjoy lunching and napping.

An International Emergency

The administration has declared that the Long Shoremen's strike is not a national emergency. Actually, it is worse than that. It is an international emergency. It has thrown the entire Pacific trading area out of balance, that may never be restored to its former pattern. The situation confirms my suspicion that economically we are no longer a union of fifty states, but a union of unions.

Churches Plan Released Time From School

The young people are to be released from school upon the request of parent or guardian from 2:30 to 3:30 each Monday to participate in this program. Pastor Johnson emphasized that this is not a "confirmation" type program, but will center on the Bible with youth leadership training and participation. The popular inter-denominational "Jet Cadets" program in use by many churches throughout the United States will be used.

Parent Slips Needed

The Parent Request slips, to be signed and turned in to the Elementary School office, will be distributed in the Bible School classes on Sunday, Oct. 10 in Heppner and Lexington churches. These slips may also be picked up at the office of the First Christian Church, Heppner, by any persons wishing their child to attend this program. Heppner and Lex Churches Adopt Permanent Hours

At the request of members of each congregation both the First Christian Church, Heppner, and the Church of Christ, Lexington, who share Pastor Don W. Johnson as their minister, decided to reconsider the time for their Sunday morning worship services. They have been meeting at 9:00 a.m. and 11:00 a.m. and rotating these times between the two churches every four months.

Opinion Poll Taken

The results of an opinion poll taken among those in attendance at the morning worship services during the month of September showed that the majority preferred to change to a fixed time in both churches. The choice at the Heppner church was for the early hour and at Lexington for the later hour. The Heppner congregation had earlier expressed for the service to be at 9:30 a.m. should the people want the time of service set permanently.

Beginning Oct. 17

Beginning Oct. 17, the time of services at the First Christian Church, Heppner will be: Morning Worship Service—9:30 a.m.; Bible School (with classes for all ages)—10:45 a.m. for the Church of Christ, Lexington; Bible School (also with classes for all ages)—10:00 a.m.; Morning Worship Service—11:00 a.m. The two churches combine their youth program and evening worship service, meeting at the Heppner church. Christian Youth Hour (Junior High and Senior High ages)—6:30 p.m.; Evening Worship Service—7:30 p.m.
