STEPHEN BROWNFIELD, Biology teacher, Heppner High.

Meet Steve Brownfield Singing Team Comes To Sunday Service

Stephen Brownfield is the new Biology teacher at Heppner High School. His specialty is Lab Biology with special emphasis on anatomy. This is his first year of teaching and he finds it new and different and exciting.

To continue some of the work started last year in Field Biology he has started field classes. An Ecology plot not too far from town has been selected to study and record the relation between plants and animals.

He is a graduate of the University of Oregon and has done a year of graduate study. While Eugene is his home, he enjoyed Eastern Oregon so much last year when he came up hunting that he is pleased to be teaching here.

While he was in school, his wife Nancy held a job which she enjoyed very much. She was head secretary of a project Occupational Information Access System.

They both enjoy backpacking and this summer went into the high lakes around the Three-Sisters Wilderness area. He enjoys fishing and hunting and she just goes.

You will meet them this evening at the Community Welcome for the Teachers and Newcomers.

The Heppner Assembly of God Church invites all friends and neighbors to a 7:00 evening service this Sunday. Wes and Wanda Cronk are to be guests. The Cronks were formerly a traveling singing team which traveled through most of the Western States. They have made several records. Currently they are pastoring the Assembly of God Church in Irrigon.

Pastor Burwell says, "Due to Mrs. Burwell's waiting for the blessed event, Bible Club will be postponed until further notice."

Frank Turner is missing all the company he had while in the hospital. He is confined to his home and feels lonesome. Go visit Frank.

Saturday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Padberg were Mrs. Padberg's son, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Tucker of La Grande. He came over to do some hunting but was unsuccessful. Mr. Tucker is parts man for the State Highway Dept.
