Lonerock Antiques Bring Many Buyers

LONEROCK—In spite of unexpected and heavy snowfall which delayed the auctioneer, the sale of Mrs. Edith Perry's home on Saturday brought many antique buyers to Lonerock. Some had to leave before the sale started owing to bad weather, several others afraid of being snowed in got part way up the grade when they met the auctioneer and came back.

Mrs. Lloyd Rogers, Mrs. Pete Campbell and Patsy Campbell served a delicious lunch of hamburgers, chili beans, salads, cookies and coffee. The sale started after lunch.

A number of buyers including Bonnie Culp, Heppner, Birdine Tullis and Pat Pettyjohn, Ione, Nancy Miller, Olex, Mr. Nickolis, Portland, Jim and Shirley Heidenger, Pete Peterson, Condon and Lee Spitzer joined many local people at the sale.

The buyers were pleased to get so many antiques, some of which had been in the Perry and Maidment families for over 100 years.

Mrs. Perry will be greatly missed at Lonerock. She left on Sunday with her brother, Charley Maidment for a new home at Winlock.

Five Inches of Snow

Two inches of snow fell Friday night and it kept falling all day Saturday until it reached the depth of 5 inches. The mail carrier got as far as Thirty Mile and had to turn back but came in later with a 4-wheel drive.

Lee Spitzer who bought Mrs. Perry's property came from San Francisco by plane to Portland then took a car to Lonerock but had to put on chains at Morrow and needed them all the way to town.

The elk hunting went on as usual this weekend. Jim Heidenger killed a 4-point but that is the only one reported so far.

Guests at H. E. Davises are Mr. Read, and several others from Hermiston. Howard Bradfield stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Mattson Hicks. Carroll Davis' hunters are Jim Heaton and Dennis Adair from Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendal from Walla Walla spent the weekend at their home here. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Christensen have moved to Walla Walla for winter.

Road for Kinzua Has Snowy Start

Charles Johnston of Land Management Services of Eugene is in the area building a road on the Elkhorn Timber Sale for Kinzua. They have 9½ miles of main road to build and 16 miles of spur with completion in two years. The 12-16 inches of snow on top of Coalmine Hill and the 6-8 inches where they are working has hampered their operations. His crew includes Debby Heim, a 110 pound gal who does a great job of running the cat. Others on his crew are Scott Phillips, Tom Marshall, Dale Fanley and Rex Kropf.
