LONEROCK NEWS

Carolyn Davis accompanied Walla College spent the weekend at her home here. They were, Deana Harris, Marj Mc Carty and Sherry Gabuten.

Monday seems to be the unlucky day for Mr. and Mrs. Jim Heidenger. They have been spending the weekends working on the house they are building at Lonerock and when they put their car in the garage at Portland they heard their front door slam and 2 men run out on the Traffic violations: Carol Kitchstreet. They had pilfered most of the rooms and had things scattered all over the floor. A policeman was called but he was unable to find any trace of them. The Monday prior to this the house had been broken into and Mrs. Heidenger's purse contain-Mrs. Lloyd McNary under- ing important papers and some went major surgery last week money had been taken. As yet at St. Vincent's Hospital in no trace has been found of the
