Football Players Identified

Three people called to identify the lone football players of 1929. Charles O'Connor, Barton Clark and Darrell Padberg. Of the group, three of the players and the coach have died. The Elwayne Lieuallen on the team is none other than the Chancellor of the State Board of Higher Education known today as Roy E. Lieuallen.

There were several injuries that year. Kenneth Smouse broke his leg, Norman Swanson broke his collar bone and there were several head injuries.

Middle row, Norton Lundell, Ivin Ritchie (south paw center says Barton), Harold Kincaid, Milton Morgan and Norman Everson.

NYOKA ANDERSON and James Anderson who are teaching this year at Lone. They come from Texas.

Texans Like Oregon's Wide Open Spaces

The Texas drawl came to Lone High School with the arrival of James and Nyoka Anderson from Corpus Christi, Texas. Mr. Anderson teaches 5th grade and Mrs. Anderson Business Ed and English. They are both from the South with Mr. Anderson designating Texas as his home state and Georgia by Mrs. Anderson. They met at Justin, Texas, where they were both teaching. This is their first year in the north-west.

What brought them? They had taught with Franklin McAllister in Texas and they learned from him about Heppner and its beautiful, dry, sunny weather. They love the area. They especially enjoy the openness of the country and the uncrowded feeling.

They were fortunate to find a place to live just across the street from the lone school in the Lindstrom house.

Mrs. Anderson has an unusual type of sport that requires a great deal of practice and skill. She was the Georgia State Champion TWIRLER. She also excelled in folk dancing. She is using this to good advantage in helping the other cheer leaders and the pep squad at Lone High School.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Anderson like music. They hope to learn to ski and in the same breath they said "if we can take out that kind of insurance".

They both like to read. His students think that Mr. Anderson's first love is "to correct papers".

From the first week they marveled at the type of student they had here as compared with those they had had in the large cities in the south of Texas. They said "The kids really work". They seem so eager to learn. The Andersons said they felt the children were so fortunate to have the surroundings they do and the favorable family and parent relations that are evident by the type of up-

Lone's Junior Highs Split with Umatilla

Lone's Junior High B-team lost its game with Umatilla 23-25. LeRoy Bea was high pointer for lone with 9 points.

The A-team won its game 44 to 59. Coach Jerry Martin said this was the best offensive game so far. Joe Rietmann was outstanding in defense and rebounding and was high point man with 15. Others scoring were Kim Gutierrez 8, Todd Peterson 7, John Ekstrom 6, Skye Krebs 5.

The Junior High teams will play at Arlington on Jan. 6.

Baker's Sons Have Service Leaves

Ken and Bill Baker have been granted leaves to visit their parents, the Clarence Bakers. Bill left on Sunday night to return to Bien Hoa, Vietnam. He is working there with the army security forces. Ken arrived home for a 14 day Christmas leave on Saturday night. He is in basic training in San Diego.

Tom Cutsforth, Lex, Has Chance To Go To West Point

Congressman Al Ullman of Oregon's 2nd District lists Thomas W. Cutsforth, Lexington, son of Mrs. Lucia Cutsforth, as one of six candidates for two vacancies at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

The candidates must compete for the appointments by taking a College Entrance Board examination and a physical examination.

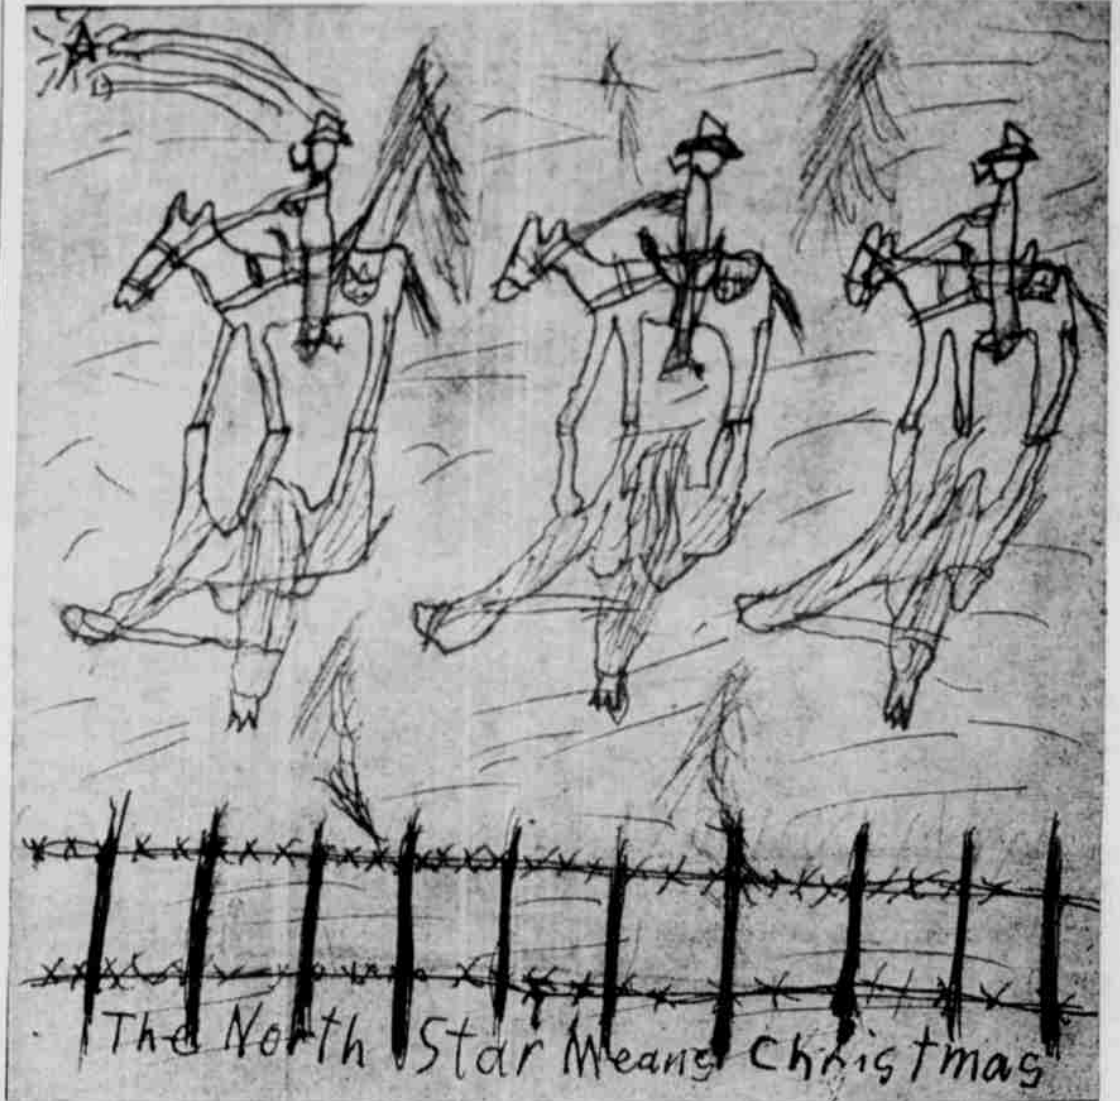

They will then be carefully considered on the basis of these competitive examinations and on the recommendations of school officials.

Jim Schaffitz Home

Pfc Jim Schaffitz is home on Christmas leave from Ft. Eustis, Va. After completing his basic training at Fort Ord, he was transferred to Virginia. He is studying reciprocating aircraft engine repair.
