

THE GAZETTE-TIMES in the midst of cleaning out some old boxes have found some old cuts that need identification. Anyone who can identify the women in this group are asked to call the Gazette-Times at 676-9228.

Shades of the Past

THESE OLDIES passed in review in the County Fair parade. Sleek and shiny and elegant is this 1919 Oldsmobile Opera coupe owned and driven by Glen Rhoda.

GLEAMING BRASS headlights and solid rubber tires are the standouts of this 1907 International Autowagon owned and driven by Harold K. Peck. He and his wife are dressed in the apparel that the well-dressed Sunday driver would have worn in those days. The brass headlights are carbide and the smaller ones are kerosene. Note the righthand driving position. Riding with the Pecks are their three grandchildren, Danita, Tamara and Mike Hardy of Jefferson.

Judge Henry Kaye wrote in a memorandum last week that Mr. Schlichting had a right to present his case in court in the Schlichting-Bergstrom case.

Wayne Schwarzin arrived home before Christmas to spend the holidays with his parents,

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Schwarzin. On Jan. 10, he will go back to Alameda. He recently returned from aircraft electronics school at Memphis. He found the weather very rainy. He is due to go out on an aircraft carrier when he reports back in January.
