KOOKY COOKS 4-H CLUB

On Jan. 27 we held our 6th meeting at the home of our leader, Mrs. Mel Allyn. Anita Davidson and Kay Schoonover were absent.

Mrs. Allyn showed us the difference between whole tomatoes and stewed tomatoes, also the difference between vacuum packed, whole kernel and creamed sweet corn. Stewed tomatoes and vacuum packed corn are to be used in the Beef-Corn Dandy the first year girls are making. Then she demonstrated making scrambled eggs, which the second year girls are to do.

Members will be notified when the next meeting will be held. Betty Fae Green, reporter

Bronate Is Available From Paul Pettyjohn Company

Your Shell Oil and Chemical Distributor

Please Call 422-7254

Serving the Heppner, Ione, Lexington and Arlington Areas

OUR COMPETITION RECOMMENDS BRONATE.

Our competitors think so highly of Bronate as a broad-leaf weed killer in wheat and other grain crops that they want you to tank mix their products with Bronate.

While we appreciate the compliment, we don't necessarily go along with the recommendation.

Because while the addition of less effective herbicides to Bronate may help the other herbicides, it doesn't help Bronate. Matter of fact, it can hurt Bronate.

Unlike many other herbicides, Bronate kills your weeds without damaging your wheat. And tank-mixing reduces Bronate's high degree of selectivity.

Also, unlike other herbicides, Bronate isn't restricted to any particular soil type or condition. And tank-mixing limits Bronate's wide range of application.

Use Bronate alone if your weed problems include Tarweed, Gromwell, Henbit, Dogfennell, Crowfoot, Purple Mustard, and the rest of the Mustard family. Or any of the 23 other kinds of weeds listed on the Bronate label.

Our experience has shown that Bronate used alone has increased productivity for Northwest wheat farmers by as much as 20 bushels per acre.

Is it any wonder our competitors recommend Bronate?

For more information on how Bronate can help you, see your supplier or write Mr. R. P. Rich, Rhodia/Chipman Division, 120 Jersey Avenue, New Brunswick, N.J. 08903.
