

Fund Drive Aids Given at Red Cross Dinner

A Red Cross "Thank You" dinner for the fund workers and their families was held Thursday evening at the American Legion Hall. Joe Pope, chairman of the Umatilla County Fund drive was the guest speaker. During the meeting Bruce Bergstrom was projectionist for a cartoon for the children.

The Heppner fund drive was conducted during the early winter. The rest of the county will have a spring fund drive.

Because the Red Cross was so helpful following the flood, anyone who was missed in the drive and would like to contribute so that other disaster areas may be helped may give their contributions to Judy Laughlin at Heppner TV.

Mrs. Ned Sweek, Aid to Military families chairman, presented her report.

Other committee chairmen are: Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Sweeney, Disaster; Norman Clow, First Aid; Barbara Cutsforth, Flood.

Red Cross representatives are needed for Ione and Lexington. Mrs. Gunnar Skobou of Boardman and Mrs. Tommy Parsons of Irrigon are Red Cross representatives for those two towns.

They are to serve as contact persons for people in their towns who need help. This can be help for a member in the military service and his family, anyone who needs blood credits, wish to set up a First Aid Class, and help with the fund drive.

Anyone who would volunteer to be the Red Cross representative in Lexington or Ione is asked to call Mrs. Charles Heard, Chapter chairman or Mrs. Paul Heinrichs, secretary.

Prison Ways Told To Workers By WSCS

The young ones use it and the old ones push it" said Mrs. Genevieve Callaway, superintendent of the women's section of the Oregon State Prison, speaking of drugs at the meeting of the WSCS Wednesday evening at the Methodist Church. The 11

Garlic, A Friend In the Garden

Mrs. Charles Dallas, Pendleton, Director of Blue Mountain District No. 10 was honored guest at the Ione Garden Club's Mar. meeting in the home of Mrs. Clell Rea. Mrs. Dallas presented her garlic horticulture essay entitled "Ole Stinky."

"Garlic has a mind of its own—it's either feast or famine," reported Mrs. Dallas. Garlic originated from the Ily family and in ancient times, was thought to have magical powers.

She also stated that garlic will grow during the winter months under a blanket of snow. It likes non-alkali, well-drained, fertile sandy loam and it will grow from 20 to 30 inches high. Since garlic is a heavy feeder, it should be rotated in the garden. One should use shallow cultivation in harvest when the tops begin to grow.

The members were informed that garlic planted in the garden helps to repel insects and that only the onion thrips damages garlic. Mrs. Dallas, in conclusion, said that it was wise to have one special board for cutting garlic and onions.

Rev. Ed Cutting reported on the Feb. 14-16 landscape Design Study Course held at the Sweetbriar Hotel, Portland. The course covered ecology, zoning, and home landscaping.

The Blue Mountain District spring Meeting will be April 11 in Stanfield.

Ione Garden Club's annual spring plant sale will be April 26 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Ione Legion Hall. Pie and coffee will be served.

Mrs. Clell Rea was assisted with the March Garden club meeting by Mrs. Harold Huber and Mrs. Cecil Jones. Another guest present was Mrs. Monte Crum.

The next meeting will be on April 12 at 1:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Palmer. Mrs. Harold Huber will present the program using the book, The Wild Asparagus. She will inform the group of different things that one can do with way-side plants.

Teach Your Dog to Obey

Classes in Dog Obedience will be offered to adults in a ten week session by Bonnie Clow in the near future.

The day and time for the classes will be determined by those enrolling for their convenience. At least five adults are needed to constitute a class. A nominal fee will be charged for the session and the only equipment needed is a choke chain and a leather lead preferably six feet long. The dogs must be six months or older and one dog to a person.

Why is formal obedience training important? Mrs. Clow, well known dog breeder and trainer, feels it is important a dog learn to respond to the owners wishes in order to keep it under control.

Formal training is the most successful way to achieve this end, in that the dog learns what to expect by the continuity of commands. In short, emphasis is placed on the dog obeying you.

This method of training is known to make an aggressive dog easier to handle and a shy dog more aggressive.

Anyone interested in participating is asked to call Bonnie Clow at 676-9298.

Reception Honors Mrs. Lindstrom Grand Adah

Locust Chapter No. 119 of Ione will host a public reception honoring Mrs. Roy W. Lindstrom, Grand Adah of The Grand Chapter of Oregon, Order of Eastern Star, on Saturday, Mar. 18, at 8 p.m. in the Ione High School.

Grand officers, Grand Committee members, and Grand Representatives from all parts of the state will be present for the reception. Members and friends are cordially invited to attend the occasion.

A no-host buffet dinner will be served by the Ione Topic Club from 5:30 to 7:00 in the Ione Cafeteria.

Valley Women Cooperate in Day of Prayer

About 60 women from the churches of Willow Creek Valley cooperated in the observance of the 85th annual World Day of Prayer "All Joy Be Yours". The 1972 celebration was held at the United Methodist Church, and Rev. Edwin Cutting, its minister delivered the message, "Affirmation of Joy", bringing out the differences between pleasure, happiness and joy. Mrs. W. W. Weatherford served as chairman and Mrs. Charles Heard of All Saints Episcopal continued as secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Loa Taylor from the Assembly of God was musician and Mrs. John Maatta, Methodist, was song leader.

Women from each church group brought an interesting and delicious assortment of cookies which were arranged on the refreshment table by Mrs. Ida Farra, Mrs. Emma Drake and Mrs. Ola Ruggles and Mrs. Madge Bryant. Mrs. John Wood poured the tea and coffee and Mrs. Lena Kelly served the punch. Mrs. Ted Smith and Mrs. Edwin Cutting served as greeters and ushers and were assisted by Mrs. Alfred Nelson and Mrs. Walter Wright, Mrs. John Goch-nauer, of All Saints and Mrs. Earl Soward of the Christian Church read the Mar. 3, selection from the "Upper Room" which was built about the world-wide prayer service. Mrs. Heard gave a brief report of last year's observance here, of the progress of the bird sanctuary at the hospital, and of the group meeting for this year's gathering. The women accepted the recommendation of the planning committee that this year's offering be divided between continuing the hospital bird sanctuary and a contribution to inter-continental mission.

Mrs. Alfred Nelson of the Ione Church of Christ extended an invitation for the 1973 celebration to be held in Ione.

Taking parts in the service in the church sanctuary were: Mrs. Don Burwell, Mrs. Loa Taylor and Mrs. Sam Steers, Assembly of God; Mrs. Bud Marshall and Mrs. Bruce Malcom, St. Patrick's Catholic; Mrs. Clara Gertson and Mrs. Earl Soward of the Christian Churches; Mrs. Alfred Nelson and Mrs. Kenneth Smouse from the Ione Church of Christ, Mrs. Allen Hughes and Mrs. Ned Clark of All Saints Episcopal; Mrs. Paul Warren and Mrs. Dennis Cass, Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints; Mrs. Orval Matheny, Mrs. Len Ray Schwarz, Hope Lutheran; Mrs. Roger Palmer, Valley Lutheran, Mrs. Ralph Crum, Church of the Nazarene, Mrs. Vernon Wilson and Mrs. Iva Hooker, Seventh Day Adventist Church and Mrs. Effie Johnson of the United Methodist.

I get a little weary of people who say "The papers always print the bad things that kids do and never the good things". All I wish is that these same people would measure the inches in any given newspaper of the good and the bad printed about kids. I am sure that if they took time to read the "good" stories they would outweigh the other side of the so-called ledger!!!

Anyway it's double inches this week to Bruce Bergstrom who volunteered to show the film to the children of Red Cross families during the Thursday evening meeting.

He borrowed the projector, picked up the film and got it all set up. Then he helped get dinner preliminaries underway. This was really great and greatly appreciated.

We The Women

women in prison at this time are not in prison because they are users but were found in possession of or pushing drugs.

Mrs. Callaway has been at Salem for six years. She has been instrumental in having the women placed in separate buildings from the Men. The women's building is outside the big wall. She has brightened the uniforms from the ill fitting blues formerly worn. The Women's building is sadly in need of washing facilities. All of the laundry is done in the institutional laundry. She anticipates more changes in dress when the women have facilities to do their own washing.

They are in need of a new building that would provide a multipurpose room, library and reception rooms for visiting.

Many of the women are dropouts from welfare families, or had drunken parents.

The women may study to get their GED certificates. Since 1967, 84 have qualified. Arts and crafts classes are offered as well as college credit classes.

Not all the women remain in the prison during the day. Some are going to school and some work on the outside. All return at night.

Mrs. Callaway was accompanied by Elizabeth Worthington who is women's work release representative in the transition services. This release program prepares women to live on the outside. The big older house in Portland serves 14-15 comfortably. They prepare their own breakfasts and lunches. Dinners are catered from the men's division of the Milwaukee Center.

The girls are screened carefully before going out on work release and they are watched carefully especially for attitudes.

Most of their pay is held for them in trust until they fulfill their sentence or are paroled.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. John Wood.

MRS. JOHN PFEIFFER returned Sunday after a week's visiting in Seattle. She visited with her father F.O. Seymour and with other relatives. Betty flew both ways.

Mexican Cooks

Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Hal Whitaker on the Mexican Dinner at the Elks Saturday night were Mr. and Mrs. Art Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Don Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. John Goch-nauer, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Sweek, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kerr, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Turner.

Willows Grange To Meet Sunday

A regular meeting of Willows Grange, Ione, will follow a 12:30 potluck dinner, Sunday, Mar. 19. The meeting will be called to order about 2:00.

MRS. MADGE BRYANT was hostess at her home Sunday for a breakfast for Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heard, and Mrs. E.V. Stingle.

Ladies Meet

The Ladies Aid Society of Boardman Community Church met at the home of Mrs. Larry Phillips Wednesday afternoon of last week with Mrs. Frank Marlow co-hostess.

The ladies planned the breakfast that will be held on Easter morning at the church following Sunrise services.
