

Kooky Cooks give tea for mothers

The Kooky Cooks 4-H Cooking Club entertained their mothers at an afternoon tea Sunday at the IOOF Hall in Lexington. Mrs. Mel Allyn is the leader. The group has experimented with different kinds of cooking. They have learned from demonstrations how to grill sandwiches, make one-dish meals, simple salads and cookies.

Their leader has encouraged them to enter their foods at the fair. They are in 1st and 2nd year cooking. Birdine Tullis, from the extension office, was a special guest. Their leader offered prizes for the poster showing the best "What It Takes to be a Good Cook" which was won by Sharon McCarl and the best Menu poster prize went to Kay Schoonover for her hand drawn pictures.

The Kooky Cooks 4-H Cooking Club of Lexington enjoyed eating some of their own cooking at the tea they gave for their mothers Sunday afternoon. Beginning with Anita Davidson, Jr. leader on the left and going clockwise around the table are Kay Schoonover, her little sisters, Tami and Lauri Schoonover, Sharon McCarl, Betty Fae Green and Ella Mae Green.

The Cub Scouts will have their annual Pine Wood Derby on April 24th at 7:30 at the Elementary School. Scout Troop Committee chairman John Gochnauer issued a challenge to the three patrols of the Boy Scouts to compete with the Cub Scout winner. The losing group to provide a winner roast for the winners.

Introduced were Darrell Lachlan, Scout Master; Tom Wilson assistant scout master; Len Ray Schwarz, Cubmaster; David McLeod, exalted ruler of the sponsoring Elks lodge; Glen Ward, Elks representative; Harley Sager, scout troop treasurer. The Scout Kick-off breakfast for the Scout drive and Camp Wallowa information was announced.

An Awards Night will be held every three months. The Rainbow Girls served at the dinner.

Heppler garden club elects

The Heppler Garden Club elected Rev. Ed Cutting as president at their April meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gonty. Others elected were Mrs. Bill Rawlins, vice president; Mrs. Alice McCabe, secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Ola Ruggles, keeper of the scrapbook. Mr. Cutting outlined meeting places and programs for the next year. Projects discussed were for a booth at the Fair, plans to improve the Fountain at the Fair Grounds gate and a spring flower show.

Mrs. Gar Swanson gave the program on preserving flowers in dry sand. She uses "Boardman" sand. She says to put about 2" of sand on the bottom of a box and then cover the blossom only. Set the box in a warm place for about two weeks. It is amazing how the colors are retained by the flowers. She makes her arrangements in wet sand in her containers. She says the pastel colors stay truer than the darker ones. She announced the annual Ione Garden Club Plant Sale on April 28. The May meeting on the 8th will be held at the Dr. Wolff home. There will be installation of officers and the program will be on Iris.

Spring Luncheon Will Honor Girl Graduates

Girls who will graduate from the three county high schools, Riverside, Ione, and Heppner, will be honored at a spring luncheon in the All Saints Episcopal Church parish hall on Friday, May 19, by the Soroptimist Club.

A graduate of Heppner High school, Mrs. William T. Hall, the former Mary Jo Stewart, Corvallis, will be guest speaker.

In past years the Heppner Soroptimist Club has arranged a Mother's Day mother and daughter tea for girl graduates. This year it was decided to have an affair that might be more enjoyable and perhaps more challenging for all the senior girls of the county and their advisors.

Prindles Home From Big Trip

Milo and Zella Prindle are home from a 15 day trip to Europe and North Africa. It was a six hour jet trip from New York, alighting in Lisbon. They said the Iberia Airline allowed little leg room. The return by Pan Am was much more comfortable.

They took a ferry boat trip to Morocco, passing close to Gibraltar. The so-called romantic casbah in Tetuan, a busy, noisy market place had lots of wares displayed but was might untidy and dirty.

Their favorite place was in Portugal. There they saw a bullfight where the bull is not killed. The one they saw in Spain proved fatal for the bull. They saw many ancient castles, museums, and churches. Most of the tourists they saw were from European countries.

Three Attend District Day

The Spring District Recognition Day for TOPS clubs in Condon drew Mrs. Dave Springer, Mrs. Vernon Wilson and Mrs. JoAnn D. Wells from Heppner. Along with members of six other clubs they enjoyed the evening's program.

A low calorie dinner was followed by skits, songs, words of encouragement and the presentation of awards. It came as quite a shock to all the women participants to find out that the new Men's TOPS Club No. 629 in Condon which is only 2 1/2 months old has lost more weight than any of the women's clubs did in the past 6 months.

On Wed. this week Leader Karen Springer left for the State Recognition Day at Coos Bay. Karen will return next week.

I had delayed recognition a couple of weeks ago. I'd been to Boardman to take some pictures and got a picture of Debbie McCoy jumping the hurdles. Cute and cooperative, she was fun to work with....and never ends a sentence with a preposition! AFTER I got back to the shop it struck me like a bolt of lightning....Debbie is one of the Fair Princesses.

A couple of hundred apologies to Harley Sager. I got a wrong head on his story last week on the deposits and loans at First National. Deposits were up. Now that Harley knows I can't subtract he'll never give me a job at his bank!

All of Sarah Adkins' friends know how full of hustle and bustle she is. Last Sat., she went to Pendleton to help her son and his wife move into an apartment there. Then she came rushing back to attend the Nichols wedding at Ione where she presided at the coffee urn at the reception. That evening she won high at the Rebekah card party here in Heppner. I am surprised that she didn't work in a bit of fishing somewhere along the way!

Bon Voyage For Lowes

Kinfolk visited Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lowe this weekend as a sort of Bon Voyage for their trip to England they will be making this spring.

Overlapping their visit on Sunday were two other sisters, Mrs. C.H. Herburger of Mt. Vernon and Mrs. Ray Stratton of Unity.

Bridge Group Honors Fay

A bridge luncheon and going away party in honor of Mrs. Gene Ferguson was held at the Claude Graham residence last week. The ladies with whom Fay has played bridge presented her with an oversized handbag.
