

Ione Worthy Advisor crowned by father

Teena Stefani was installed as Worthy Advisor of Ruth Assembly No. 89 of the International Order of Rainbow for Girls at ceremonies held May 28 at the Ione Masonic Lodge Hall. She was crowned by her father, Art.

Installing officers were: Melanie Ball, Worthy Advisor; Cindy Ekstrom, Marshall; Cathy Cannon, Chaplin; Christina Lindstrom, Recorder; and Mrs. Roy Lindstrom, Musician.

Teena chose the colors yellow, pink and green for her installation, and the theme "Today, Tomorrow, and Always." Her brother Dennis handed out the programs.

Also installed were Cheryl Hams, Worthy Associate Advisor; Donna Flack, Charity; Cassey Chapel, Hope; Jan

Ekstrom, Faith; Christina Lindstrom, Recorder; Cathy Cannon, Treasurer; Rene Flack, Chaplin; Cindi Martin, Drill Leader; Cindy Ekstrom, Love; Melanie Ball, Religion; Arlene Cannon, Nature; Cindy Connor, Immortality; Laurie Childers, Fidelity; Doreen Flack, Patriotism; Dee Ann Barnett, Service; Sherry Wilson, Confidential Advisor; Cathy Gilbert, Outer Observer; and Mrs. Lewis Halvorsen, Mother Advisor.

A reception was held after the ceremonies. Teena's grandmother, Mrs. Art Stefani, poured the punch. Mrs. Roland Bergstrom, aunt, served the coffee. Mrs. Jerry Martin cut the cake, and one of Teena's classmates, Nancy Pettyjohn, attended the guest book.

Ione to host Double Header

The Braves are still leading the Willow Creek Little League, with an undefeated season. They have won nine consecutive games. The Braves beat the Indians June 1, a score 11-0. The game was tied until the last inning when the winning run was scored. Three home runs helped lead the Braves to victory: two by Dennis Peck and one by Jerry Cutsforth. Tom Wilson and Glen Ward are the coaches.

The Giants are in second place with a season record of four-wins, five-losses. They beat the Dodgers June 2 after a long game. The score was tied at the end of the sixth inning. The Dodgers had to retire their pitcher, since each pitcher can only pitch six innings per week. That was the Giants' lucky break: the game ended 12-

3. Dan McBride and Larry Heath coach the Giants. The Indians are in third place with a 3-6 record. They have beaten the Giants all three times they have played them. Coaches are Lindsay Kincaid and Dale LaRue.

The fourth place team is the Dodgers with a record of two-wins, seven-losses. The Giants beat the Dodgers May 31, 12-7. The team is coached by Harley Sager and Marv Sumner.

Saturday, Ione will host a double-header. The Dodgers will play the Giants at 2:00 p.m. and the Indians and Braves will go at 4:00 p.m. "we've worked hard getting the field ready," said Coach Kincaid, "and we're hoping for a good turnout on Saturday."

Ione BARBECUE AND AUCTION

The clanging of cow bells began the ninth annual auction and barbecue at the Ione Willows Grange Hall June 3, sponsored by the Ione United Church of Christ. A large crowd helped to make this the most successful auction and barbecue that has been held.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Kincaid were chairmen of the event, and were aided by many area chairmen. Mary Arthur, wife of Pastor William Arthur, was in charge of ticket sales for the barbecue, which was prepared by the Deaconess Group from the church, under the direction of Helen McCabe, Deaconess Group.

Over 500 people were served at the barbecue, and Mrs. Arthur labeled that "... more than have ever been served before." Tickets for the barbecue were sold early by students in the third through sixth grade from the church. Each child was given an envelope with $25 worth of tickets, which was his share to sell for the lunch. There was much activity upstairs. The room was called the "Country Store" and was divided into different areas. Mrs. Larry Prock was in charge of the "New-to-You" store, a place where used merchandise was sold. She was aided by Gladys Drake. "It went real well," said Mrs. Drake about the store.

Donna Fetsch supervised the "Kiddie Corner" a place where used toys and children's things were sold. There was a "Leathercraft Booth" where belts were made to order. Dode Krebs did the name engraving on belts that she had already made. "Crafts" was another area of the Country Store. There were homemade articles of different types; aprons, pillow cases, ironing board covers, crocheted articles, and painted objects that were all for sale. The Baked Food Sale was under the supervision of Norma and Judy Rea. There were lots of yeast goods, and "...the food went real fast," said Judy. The food was donated and then sold.

The "Fish Pond" was also upstairs, and the favorite spot of many of the children. Lorene Griffith was in charge of the "pond".

An "Antique Sale" was also upstairs; Diane Kincaid and Janet Lindstrom were responsible for getting the merchandise for the sale.

Outside, both the auction and the silent auction were going on. Don Wink of Hermiston was the auctioneer and an enthusiastic crowd helped make the auction one of the best. Laurel Cannon was in charge of the Silent Auction, where shoppers placed bids on articles by writing them down. The article goes to the highest bidder.

The Snack Shack was also a successful part of the day. Pastor Arthur helped keep the shack running smoothly, and he was aided by the high school students from the church.

Over $4500 was taken in this year, much more than last year, and net profit is expected to be around $3500.

Mrs. Darrel James was in charge of publicity for this year's activities.

Fair Books

Premium Books are out now recently being printed at the Gazette-Times. The cover is rich-looking tan, printed in brown, with the centennial emblem on the front. The parade theme, "Centennial Reflections" is at the bottom.

The book is full of the schedule for this year's fair, as well as the usual rules for displaying and entering. The 4-H activities, times, and places are right inside the cover.

The fair is scheduled for August 22-25, and the rodeo will be August 26 and 27.
