MR & MRS. OREN BRACE and Doris went up to Indian Lake to spend Memorial Day. This is the Lake out of Pilot Rock whose name has come into so much discussion. Mr. Brace didn't do any fishing because he didn't have an Indian permit but people were getting some good catches. They said it was real nice up there.

Opal Cook receives State Award

The Sans Souci Rebekah Lodge held their regular meeting June 3. A short business meeting was held, and a donation was mailed to the Pasedema Rose Parade Committee. Opal Cook, delegate to the State Convention in Tillamook May 14-19, gave her report.
 While she was there, Opal received the Decoration of Chivalry, one of the highest state honors that can be given to a Rebekah.
 Mrs. Cook used four of her dolls to show the ladies at the meeting what kind of dresses were worn at the State Convention. One doll showed what the Assembly Officers wore, what the ladies who seated the officers wore, what the state drill team looked like, and what the dress the lady who opened the Bible looked like.
 The Heppner Rebekahs won a special award, too. Mattie Green received the Community Service award for the group. Refreshments were served by Shirley Connor.

MRS. SADIE PARRISH dressed in the "pioneer spirit" for the Pioneer Memorial Picnic.

Forestry Forum Covers Much Ground

There were 50 or so attending the first forum type meeting held in Pendleton last Thursday conducted by the Umatilla National Forest. In the earlier hearings on the undeveloped areas, the supervisor felt the format of the meeting was so rigid that people were not able to ask questions pertaining to other Forestry practices. This informal meeting was called to become more fully aware of public opinion and perhaps re-establish priorities to meet current demands.
 Those attending from Morrow County were Del Piper, Bill Weatherford, Jack Meland, Wayne Hams and Marvin Chitty.

Judge Kaye closes case

On May 25th, Judge Henry Kaye signed an order sustaining the demurrers of each defendant in the Schlichting vs. Joyce Ritch Bergstrom, assessor, Paul W. Jones, county judge and Homer Hughes and Walter Hayes, commissioners, without leave to the plaintiff to plead further.
 Mr. Schlichting was seeking damages and re-instatement to his position of county appraiser. He claimed he had been wrongfully fired.
 Circuit Court will be held in Morrow County on June 20 in the case of Orville Cutsforth Jr., representative of the estate of Gene Cutsforth vs. Kinzua Corp. Plaintiff seeks $150,000 damages plus $1600 funeral expenses as the result of an accident Sept. 10 in which Gene Cutsforth was killed when his car hit a log loader crossing Highway 207 at the Heppner Kinzua Plant.
 In a counter-suit Kinzua is asking for $8,801 for damage to the log loader. Circuit Court will be held in Morrow County June 27 for the Seger vs. Cutsforth trial.

LEGION HAS 100 MEMBERSHIP

One hundred percent membership awards were presented to Don Munkers, commander of the Heppner Legion post, Jerry Rood and Frank Hamlin at the dinner-meeting Monday evening.

Mrs. Riley Munkers was presented with a gift of appreciation by the Auxiliary for her term as president. Mrs. Jerry Rood gave the Poppy report in the absence of the Poppy chairman, Mrs. C.J.D. Bauman. Very close to last year's proceeds, the Auxiliary made $238.09 on the poppy sale. The cost of the poppies and 40 percent goes into Department. The balance $88.05 is kept in the local treasury in a restricted fund that may be used for disabled veterans and their families.

This was the last meeting of the two groups until fall. Plans have been completed for delegates to attend the

DARRELL JAMES MOVES TO TURNER

Darrell James has accepted director of choral music at Cascade Union High School at Turner. He will be teaching the High School with an enrollment of 550 and the Junior High of 600. He expects to attend school this summer. He has had the music program at Lone High School since 1967.

Mr. and Mrs. James have been most unselfish with their musical talents for school and church and community affairs. They have two sons, Jeff and Joel. Mrs. James formerly taught Home Ec. English and Girls PE at Lone. She has been active with 4-H since she left teaching.

Department Convention in Medford, Girls State and Boys State delegates will be going to Salem and Corvallis this next weekend.

Special guests at the dinner were Mrs. Esther Van den Biessen and Al Saniti from the Heppner Hotel and Grace Langholz from Canby who is here visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Hamlin and Mr. Hamlin.

County Judge On The Move

Judge Paul Jones, president of the Association of Oregon Counties, attended a meeting recently in Roseburg where they met with the Association of General Contractors. The two groups discussed items of joint interest, possible legislative proposals and common misunderstandings.
 Two points of view are held on the construction of county roads. Road Departments may consider contracting certain jobs instead of county crews doing the work.
 At another meeting held at Canyon City by the five counties of the so-called District No. 12, the major determination was to proceed with the requirement of the HUD to develop a comprehensive water and sewer plan for the 5-county area. Each county has a planning department and part of the work of planning at the county level will be contracted back to the counties.

 A $30,000 grant for the employment of a secretary and planner for the district may be available. This planner would work with the cities and counties as coordinator within the district for the comprehensive plan.
 There are three river basins within the 5 counties to be studied. Those of the John Day, Umatilla, and Columbia.

Services held for Carl Allyn

Funeral services were held June 3 at the Lexington Christian Church for Carl Allyn, who passed away May 31 at Bess Keiser Hospital in Portland. He was 72.

Mr. Allyn was born July 26, 1899 in Lexington. He was the son of George M. Allyn and Cora B. Russell Allyn. He grew up there, and during his lifetime operated barber shops in Lexington, Lone and the Imperial Hotel in Portland.

Officiating at the services was Rev. Don Johnson. Casket bearers were Al Bergstrom, Laurence Becket, Gerald Bergstrom, Ellwayne Bergstrom, Jim Farley, and Bob Bergstrom. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Marquardt sang "In the Garden," accompanied by Mrs. Marquardt at the piano.
 Concluding services were at the Heppner Masonic Cemetery. A ritualistic service was conducted by the Elks Lodge. Sweeney Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Allyn was a member of the Heppner BPOE Elks Lodge No. 356. He was preceded by his wife in death in 1969. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Maxine Gower; brother Melvin Lyle Allyn, Lexington; and sister Mrs. Elsie Fox, Wenatchee, Wn.

MR. & MRS. JOHN PRIVETT of Paul, Idaho came down for a visit and to pick up their children, Kim and Karen, who had been visiting their grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.H. Privett here.

Cathy Keene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Keene of Lone, and a friend Lloyd Eckert, both from Portland were visitors over graduation weekend.

GEORGE, the pro

George Duncan is back to golf in the sunshine county of Morrow. He is a pro who improved the golfing scores of Heppnerites last summer. He has signed up to give instruction at the Boardman's new Wilsons Willow Run Golf Course and Heppner's Willow Creek Country Club course and anticipate a teaching job at Condon.

Last winter he was at the Spring Brook Golf and Country Club at Riverside, Ca. It has been extremely dry. They had eight months of no rain and the smog from LA was bad. He says he's glad to be back in the good air and is feeling much better already.

He made an attempt to qualify for the US Open on the Waverly Country Club course in Portland. He missed by one stroke. He was extremely tired having just driven up from LA and the 36 hole grind was played in a rain-wind storm.

MRS. A.G. PIEPER enjoyed a houseful of company for the Memorial Day weekend. Her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hall and Jodi came from Portland and Mrs. Pieper's grandson, Gary Dick was up with them. Another grandson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Holliday, Clinton and Troy came from Aloha.

Others who stopped by to visit were Mr. and Mrs. Leland McGill of Cecil, Diane Dick and her friend from Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pieper and Lori from Hermiston.

LONE ROCK
 Mr. and Mrs. Jim Heidegger and friends, Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Davis and children from Genesee Idaho and many from Condon. A number of other people decorated graves at the cemetery on Monday.

Mrs. Hattie Lee has been a patient at the Heppner Memorial Hospital for several weeks and is now improving. Emmett Davis is also a patient at the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Hopkins are on a vacation trip to Bend and several valley towns.

The Heppner Elementary fifth graders, and their teachers Mr. Cliff Williams and Miss Marguerite Glavey, made a conservation tour in May. The group toured different conservation areas around Heppner and Lone. One of the highlights of the trip were the bird guzzlers they got to see. In the center of the picture is conservation man Dale Boner.

JUNE IS BIG MONTH

Around 2,400 new family units will probably be formed in Oregon as wedding vows are exchanged in June, the most popular month for marriages.

Mrs. Roberta C. Frasier, Extension family life specialist at Oregon State University, points out that the vast majority of these couples will be married in a religious ceremony although the percentage who have a formal church wedding may be small.

Based on the statistics of previous years, nearly one-fourth of the brides and grooms will be making their second trip to the altar. Nearly 50 percent of the brides being married for the first time will be under twenty years of age and 44 percent will be 20-24 years of age. The husband is likely to be about two years older than his bride.

If these couples are to develop satisfying marriage relationships, each must say the marriage vows with a real commitment to put love, time and effort into making the marriage work, says Mrs. Frasier. Learning to meet the needs of one another as well as meeting one's own individual needs requires maturity and a willingness to develop understanding.

In addition marriage requires the development of certain homemaking skills. Young Couples marrying this year may be more willing to share homemaking tasks and work together in developing their skills. Around 80 percent of the brides will probably work out of the home until the first baby arrives. It's likely parenthood may be delayed a few years until the couple have worked out their relationship together.

The first years of marriage are critical in establishing a pattern for the future, Mrs. Frasier emphasizes. She urges newlyweds to seek help early in marriage if they find difficulty in working out a satisfying marriage.

The cost of living is lower. Effective immediately.
