Carnation Club plans barbecue

Carnation Club members of the Degree of Honor Protective Ass'n. held their June meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Haguewood. Future improvements of the newly purchased building were discussed. A work night is planned after the 4th of July. The group voted to sell pie and coffee and sandwiches at rodeo time.

At the last meeting Mrs. Ed Hunt hosted a fun meeting where each member was to come dressed as a hobo. Mrs. Hunt served a large pot of stew, home made French bread, and frozen juices in pop cans. Mrs. Ed Gonty was chosen best dressed Hobo and Mrs. Majeske received the door prize.

On July 11 there will be a barbecue at Gonty's. Each member and guest is to bring their choice of meat, a potluck dish and own table service.

A PARTY honoring Miss Opal Briggs, celebrating her 84 birthday, was held June 27 at the home of Mrs. Mary Bailey, hostess, assisted by Mrs. Effie Johnson.

The group enjoyed cake and ice cream during the afternoon.

Others attending were Mrs. Emma Hager, Mrs. Emma Drake, Mrs. Carrie Becket, Mrs. Mary Nikander, Mrs. Amanda Duvall, Mrs. Mattie Green, and Mrs. Loa Taylor.

Mrs. Ida Farra and Mrs. Sylvia McDaniel were unable to attend, but sent cards and helped furnish refreshments for the party.

HOMEBUILDERS, subcontractors and others are required to register according to a law passed by the Oregon 1971 legislature. This should have been done by July 1, when the new law became effective. This is the first such law in Oregon, and the state has joined 33 other states in requiring builders to register. The legislative act also created a five member builders board to administer the law.

It is estimated that between six to seven thousand individuals and firms are affected. The law includes specialty subcontractors and remodeling contractors. The Extension Service at Oregon State University has a new bulletin, EC 810, "Facts on the New Oregon Builder and Subcontractors Registration Law." This is available free at county Extension offices.

Canning Open Class Canning has many types of prizes. The entries and rules and prize money is listed on page 30 of the Fair Premium Book.

Mrs. Riley Munkers and Mrs. Omar Huston are superintendents. Prize money is divided 2.50, 1.50, .75 cents. You can enter everything from soup to nuts, peaches to lamb, venison to sauerkraut, venison to sauerkraut, soup to nuts, peaches to lamb, venison to sauerkraut.

Other prizes are given by Ball Brothers. These total 9 dozen "sculptured glass" canning jars, 8 units of Ball "Quilted Crystal Jelly Jars" and 10 Ball canning books. These go to first and second place winners in Fruits, vegetables, jellies, Sweetstaks and 4-H and/or FHA Division.

Read all about it on pages 30, 31 and 32. Fair Premium Books may be picked up at the Extension office.

Have fun vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Heinrich and Paula vacationed in Seattle. Mrs. Heinrich is less than thrilled with high places so Paula and her dad went to the top of the Space Needle by themselves. After doing Seattle sight-seeing, they went on to Vancouver, BC. They were surprised at the number of hippies they saw hitchhiking and in Stanley Park. There were lots of bicyclists. They went across to Nanaimo and then drove onto Victoria. As with everyone who sees them, they were thrilled with the Buchart Gardens as well as the tourist attractions, the Wax Museum, the Under Sea Gardens.

After crossing to Port Angeles, they drove down Hood Canal and over to the coast. They stopped to have coffee at West Port with Millie Evans. At Bay City near Garibaldi, they visited with the Jay Husons. They had a grand trip.

Kathy Keene wins plaudit

Kathy Keene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Keene of Ione, has recently been named Secretary of the Year for the Dunhill Personnel System. Dunhill is a national personnel organization with 80 offices in the United States and Canada.

Kathy, who has been with the Dunhill System for two years was chosen along with two other secretaries from Dunhill offices on the East Coast for this honor. She lives and works in Portland.

MRS. DICK SCHLICHTING was in Council Bluffs, Iowa recently caring for her auntie. She was joined for her last 9 days there by Mr. Schlichting.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Scott, Heppner, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Jill, to Earl Struckmeier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Struckmeier, Boardman.

Mr. Struckmeier is a 1968 graduate of Heppner High School. Jill will be a senior at Prineville High School next year.

An August 5 wedding in Heppner is being planned.

At Double Wedding

Arnie Pieper of Hermiston accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Erda Pieper, went to Springfield June 24 for the wedding of his son. It was a double wedding with the brides as sisters. Teresa King became the bride of Rick Pieper and Marilyn King of Donald Berry. Rick will be remembered here as he lived here and has spent lots of time on the Pieper ranch. The young people will be at home in Eugene.

Musicians attend Camp

Four Heppner students attended the Oregon State Music Camp at Camp Colton, Ore. June 25 through July 1. The camp was under the direction of Jim Douglas, head of the Oregon State Music Dept.

Attending were Anita Davidson, tenor sax, first chair; David Campbell, baritone, first chair; Allen Burkenbine, trombone, second chair; and Brian Boner, trumpet, who played second part.

A total of 105 students attended the combined voice and instrumental music camp. As part of the training, everyone in the camp sang in the chorus, which met for practice sessions each day. There were two twenty-piece stage bands.

4-H Poise Parties July 7

All 4-H clothing, knitting and crochet members are invited to attend a "Poise Party" (or style revue training) Friday, July 7th. To make the training available to all girls in the county, two trainings are scheduled.

South Morrow County girls will receive training Friday, 9:30 a.m., Fairgrounds, Heppner. North Morrow County girls are invited to the Francine Evans home, Irrigon, at 2:30 p.m. for a similar training.

It's a Boy!

Richard Lynn is the name given to a boy born June 15 at Good Shepherd Hospital, Hermiston, to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Girard, Heppner. He weighed eight pounds, nine ounces and 20 inches long. He has no brothers or sisters.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Clark, Pendleton. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Girard, also of Pendleton, are the paternal grandparents. Great-grandmothers are Mrs. Arlene Clark and Mrs. Emily Post, both of Pendleton.

SOROPTIMIST FAMILIES and friends will enjoy a barbecue this Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Fairgrounds lawn. Each family is to bring own choice of meat to barbecue, table service and one potluck dish.

Debbie Barker, 4-H Home Economist, will give the training, assisted by Cheri Carlson of Ione.

While the training is fundamentally a style revue training, in preparation for the event at County Fair, grooming, nutrition and other information will also be included.

Any 4-H home ec. member interested, is invited to attend. Leaders are also encouraged to attend the special session.

LINCOLN NASH'S had company recently. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Tostenon and four children of San Jose, Calif. were here June 27th. Mrs. Tostenon is a sister of Mrs. Nash and they had not seen each other for seven years. The group that evening had dinner at the Lee Palmer ranch and the Tostenons stayed overnight there, leaving the next day for North Dakota.

On June 28th Elsie Loudon of Baltimore and her daughter, Cindy, visited Mrs. Nash.

Golfers enjoy Summer

The Willow Creek Country Club is a busy place during the summer, and was especially so Sunday, July 2.

The Mens' Golf was held in the morning with tee-off at 9:00 a.m. Phil Mahoney was in charge of this week's activities. Prizes were awarded to John Sumner and Lowell Gribbles, tie for low gross; Ambrose Chapin, low net; Mike Mills, low on no. 7; La Verne Van Marter Sr., low on the hidden hole; Gary Hunt, least putts; and C.C. Carmichael, most fours.

The second Family Play Day began at 4:30, with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Mahoney, and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Gribble as hosts. After the golfing, the group celebrated Lowell Gribble's birthday. His sons, their wives, and all their grandchildren were present for the occasion.

Prizes were awarded to Mike Mills and Dale Hedman, low in the student section; Juanita Carmichael and Lowell Gribble, low in the adult section, and Clint McQuarrie, low in the men's section.

CLINT GILLIAM and his son, Clinton Gilliam, Berkeley Ca. visited this past week with friends and relatives. They stayed with Clint's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vaughan.

fetching in long skirts at their places of business this spring. Now of course shorter skirts are cooler.

Our oldest Grandboy, Mike Becker is visiting us. He accompanied me to Irrigon to get the Debbie McCoy story. On our way back home we swung off at North Lex to see the peacocks at the Cutsforth Ranch. He volunteered to write the "peacock story". Here it is typed and spelled the way he did it.

On the way back from interviewing the princess we interviewed some peacocks and got some pictures of tracks. The peacocks made funny sounds. It sounds like a cat yowling.

DON'T ASK ME because I don't know what happened to one whole roll of pictures. They came out blank. So I lost my picture of the Giants Little League team, a whole bunch of swimming pictures, the Court pictures taken at the Kick-off dance Barbecue a second try at Jill Scott to get a picture to go with her engagement announcement. My aching back Arnold can't figure out what I did. The roll I began taking Saturday turned out pretty good except the picture we took of the peacock tracks. By the way, they've got BIG FEET.

NOTICE Heppner Cleaners will be CLOSED Wednesday, July 12 thru Saturday, July 29 FOR VACATION

RON & OLIVIA PALMER returned home Sunday from a visit in Corvallis. They saw a new grand daughter, Maddalen Rene, who had been born June 27 to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald B. Palmer, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Pete Grand of Oregon City are the other grand parents. The little Maddalen weighed 7 lbs. 2 1/2 oz.

Mrs. Grand of Oregon City, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Meek of Milton-Freewater are great-grandparents.

urday turned out pretty good except the picture we took of the peacock tracks. By the way, they've got BIG FEET.

We're sorry that Maxine Ayers' mother's name Mrs. Raymond Pettyjohn of Arlington was left from the list of survivors in our story last week. The community was stunned Monday when the news came back that Maxine had died because so many hadn't learned of the accident.

It's hard to call the elementary school and not hear "Heppner Elementary School, Maxine Ayers speaking". She was always most gracious. We'll miss her mightily.

Her concern and interest for Action House, the new home for mentally retarded in Pendleton, was constant. She and Ray were instrumental in doing much of the work on the house as well as providing many of the needs. Their daughter Kathleen makes her home there. Those who wish may still make contributions to the Maxine Ayers Memorial

MRS. NINA CASE, Forrie Burkenbine's mother, returned to her home in Bremerton, Wa. Saturday after a month's visit at the Burkenbine home. She was recuperating from back surgery, and used the time to rest, and visit friends and relatives in the area.

County represented well

Morrow County was represented well this year by the 23 delegates who attended 4-H Summer School at Oregon State University June 12-17. "Our group looked better and acted better than any other group I saw while I was there," Mrs. Bob Davidson, one of the chaperones said.

The delegates had opportunities to participate in classes, craft lessons, and heard several good and interesting speakers during the week. There was time for recreation, too: tennis, singing, and a dance on the last night.

The group was divided up at Summer School, as all groups are, and put in different dorms to allow them an opportunity to meet new friends.

Navy awards Boardman job

The Associated Press reports that a Navy contract was awarded Friday to George D. Ward and Associates, Portland, for soil stabilization trials on the Navy bombing range at Boardman. The initial contract calls for the Portland consulting engineering firm to use processed metropolitan garbage in the form of fibrous materials on a 35-acre plot.

It is 10 miles south of the northern boundary and on the eastern line of the range. Drifting sand at the site of the range covers the bombing range road.

Lawrence E. Wilkinson, director of the nuclear division of the firm, said subcontractors with local contractors will be worked out wherever possible. Engineering work on the project started Friday.

Many varieties of fibrous materials will be worked into the soil this summer. Seeding of several types of range grasses and other indigenous plants will be done in September. This first phase should be completed by spring, Wilkinson said.

George D. Ward and Associates and its client, Columbia Processors Cooperative, has proposed processing all of Portland's domestic wastes into a form suitable for land reclamation.

After six months of using a new bourbon - flavored toothpaste a test group reported they had 43 per cent more cavities, and couldn't care less.

Cutsforth Park

Sherman, Gilliam, and Wheeler county 4-H camp was held at Cutsforth Park this year using the Morrow County 4-H facilities. Approximately 100 young campers and counselors from the three county area enjoyed the camping experience. Agents Martin Zimmerman, Kathy Jamison and Karen Floyd were in charge of the camp.

The 4-H camp facilities will also be the site of an Action for the Handicapped camp under the direction of Iris Howell, counselor from Pendleton and Pat Brindle of the Neighborhood Center in Heppner.

Mrs. Harold Baker, Mrs. Edie Partlow, Boardman; and Mrs. Don Burwell, Heppner will assist as craft instructors at the camp Thursday and Friday, July 6th and 7th.

TOM FRASER of Universal Reality was in Friday. He reported he had sold a modular home to Ocie Lacy that will be placed in Hermiston. He is over every Friday to answer questions anyone might have about building or buying. He will be at Lot's Electric on Fridays.
