4-H Camp launches Dream Boats

By Frances Rose Wilson
Irrigon and Boardman 4-H boys and girls in the 9-12 year age bracket, attended a 4 day Camp at Cutsforth Park last week. The weather was good and a good time was had by all. The meals cooked by Gladys Hobbs of Irrigon and her helpers were delicious.

There were many different projects to keep the young 4-ber's busy. The first day they had a poster contest and decorated the dining hall with their posters. There were tie dye classes and natural food classes. A representative of the Game Commission showed how to construct a bird house out of a flower pot. Other classes made candles. The Ecology class made a Penland Prairie tour and they hiked to the fossil beds.

The last night of camp the youngsters divided into groups, made a dream boat, out of things found in the forest. A candle was placed on each boat and set adrift in the lake. As the story goes, the boats that reach the other shore will have their wish come true.

4-H CAMP NEWS

"The Whole Thing" theme for 4-H camp encompassed a great variety of activities for campers. Seventy-six excited campers accompanied by sixteen counselors and staff were trucked to the 4-H camp at Cutsforth Park for outdoor living, education and fun. Counselors selected television commercials to name each tent in the "4-H Tent City".

Camp classes and instructors were: Tie-dye-Virginia Grieb; Game Commission - Bill Noll; natural foods and edible weeds - Delta Huber; Flower pot crafts - Ardith Hunt; and sand candles and leather crafting - Kristin Nelson; Macramae - Peggy Schlichting; Fishing - David McLeod; Forest and fossil beds and soils - Harold Kerr; trail blazing and tall tales - Barb and Orville Cutsforth; a plastic craft, - Cassy Chapel. Forest Service trip to Penland Prairie - Marv Chitty, posters and assorted nature crafts, Mildred Baker and Birdine Tullis.

Counselors were in charge of ceremonies, recreation and events at camp, assisted with crafts and other classes. College students Dee Pettyjohn, Kristin Nelson and Chuck Nelson served as special assistants with ceremonies and evening events.

Counselors were Cheri Carlson, Susan Healy, Judy Bennett, Peggy Schlichting, Karen Richards, Pam Schmeder, Kathleen McElligott, Rhonda Sargent, Jan Ekstrom, Cassy Chapel, Pam Hug, Patricia Van Schoelack, Sherry Kemp, Phil Carlson, David Richards and Rick Peterson. Camp directors were Birdine Tullis, Aide; and Don Stangel, 4-H agent.

The weather was great, and all campers and staff agreed the camping session seemed far too short.
