

Princess Debbie will be honor guest at dance

Princess Debbie McCoy likes to do many things and does them well. One of the best things about being princess she says, "is meeting people." Her favorite people are little ones. After graduation from Riverside High School next spring she anticipates attending Oregon State taking education working with small children eventually with the disturbed child.

Her grandma McCoy who lives next door to the Warren McCoy family on the Columbia side of Irrigon, beams her pride and says "With all her patience she should be good."

Princess Debbie has had her full share of honors already for high school. She is in Who's Who in High School Track. She likes all sports and ran the hurdles and relay in Riverside High School track. She likes to swim and has been swimming in the Columbia about a block from her home since she was 4 years old.

She is in Who's Who for Outstanding High School students. She has been cheer leader for six years, student body treasurer, secretary of National Honor Society of name a few. She sings in a 5-church young girls choir. She has three interesting observations on being princess this particular year. On the Court with her sister Susan in 1965 was Karla Luciani. On the court this year with Princess Debbie is another Luciani, Patty. In 1965 the suits were purple as they are this year. Susan's horse was Cinnamon and Debbie's horse, Pepsi, is Cinnamon's colt.

At home with the sewing machine as she is with horses, she sews up a storm with no fuss or fury.

Debbie shows off the pretty sleeve on the lavender blouse worn with their work outfits.

Pepsi munches on an apple just fed to him by his owner and rider, Princess Debbie McCoy.

The Princess from Irrigon sews beautifully but her sister says, "she is a lousy cook". She is no stranger to work. She is working this year every morning, except Court days, as hotel maid at Dodge City. She has helped with buying for her dad who not only has a lot of his own hay to bale but does custom baling. She has worked in the melon fields and hoed the melon fruit stands.

Pendleton trailed Debbie's horse for her to the various shows. Debbie is sponsored by the Tillicum Club of Boardman. As the sponsoring organization, they provide her with her Court outfits and host a luncheon in her honor with the other members of the court and their mothers as guests. They give the Princess Debbie Dance that will be held this Saturday evening at the Fairgrounds Pavilion.

electricity

environment

Electricity has a special role in protecting your environment. And that role will grow in the years ahead.

Today, electricity performs many tasks to provide cleanliness and comfort. Electric heating, air conditioning, humidifiers and de-humidifiers enable you to live in cleaner, more comfortable indoor environment. A variety of air cleaning devices, such as filters in heating and air cleaning systems and electronic air cleaners, remove smoke, dirt, pollen and other impurities from the air you breathe.

Exciting new electrical uses offer valuable benefits in protecting our natural resources by reducing pollution. In the future, electric automobiles and electrified rapid transit systems may remove much of the pollution now created by internal combustion motors.

Many other exciting new uses for electricity are on the drawing boards or in the experimental stage. In the near future, electric energy may be increasingly used to dispose of waste, re-cycle waste, remove salt from sea water, and treat sewage. Electric heat and climate control devices may be the means to stimulate the abundant, year-round crop growth needed to feed our growing world population.

To continue its present contributions to a cleaner planet and fulfill its future responsibilities, the electric industry will have many technical problems to solve, and research efforts must be stepped up. Electric generating plants must be built which more efficiently deal with adverse effects of discharging heat, gases, liquids and particulates to air and water. And, new technology to transmit and distribute power will be needed in the years ahead, if we are to satisfactorily solve environmental problems.

With careful planning and determined efforts, clean electric energy will be a positive force in protecting and enhancing environment today and for generations to come.
