

West meets East at Soroptimists

SUSAN FRENCH, Queen of the 1972 Fair and Rodeo, presents a Fair Button to P.S.

Program Chairman Justine Weatherford presided over the Soroptimist luncheon meeting Thursday, due to the absence of both the president and the vice-president. The group outlined their schedule for working in their Sidewalk Bazaar booth and discussed briefly the parade float.

Special guests were the '72 Fair and Rodeo Court, Queen Susan French and Princesses Kerry Coppock, Debbie McCoy, Anne Hoskins and Patty Luciani. Each member of the court told about some event they have attended. Queen Susie told of the groups tour of Pendleton. Among others, the princesses told about their first public appearance together at the Arlington Rodeo, and winning the Grand Championship for Mounted Courts at the Condon Fourth of July celebration.

The court's mothers, Mrs. Ray French, Mrs. Darrell Coppock, Mrs. Warren McCoy, Mrs. Robert Hoskins and Mrs. George Luciani, and their chaperones, Mrs. Bob Peterson and Mrs. Clista Venard were also guests.

Three visitors to this area from India told the group a little about their country: Dharmendra Rao from Truzafarpur (Bihar), India; P.S. Swamy, Mandy (Mysore); and Swamy, a visitor to this area from India. Looking on are Dharmendra Rao and Vinayak Vinayak Somalwar, Lagpur (Maharashtra). All three men are Extension Service personnel. The Extension Service in India is much like the one in the United States; it was patterned after it. India is a very agricultural land. Much of the area is used to grow rice and sugar. Coffee, and tea and black pepper are also important crops. Sugar cane, potatoes, oranges and grapes are good crops in India because they bring in large sums of money for the farmer. Each farmer in India owns only small portions of land, but if he can irrigate and raise one of these crops, he is considered a rich man because they bring in much more money than crops raised on drier land.

After 15 years of age the girls are known as women and begin wearing long gowns, with their faces covered. Their hair is very long, but they wear it tied up under their "hats." Up until the girls reach 15 years of age they are allowed to wear normal clothes to make themselves more attractive. When it comes time for marriage, the bride's parents chose the man; their choice depends a great deal on his wealth, as well as the wealth of his family. This way, they can insure that their daughter will have a good life-a high standard of living.

The women and men work on an equal basis, and although the women do work outside the home sometimes, the men feel the place for the woman is in the home devoting the maximum amount of time possible to the children. The women run the home, and do not allow the men to cook. The women do work in schools, though. Mr. Somalwar told the group, because that is a good job for the women to have. India is very proud of the fact that it is one of the largest nations in the world that has a woman prime minister.

Men are allowed to have more than one wife for some reason the first one is not up to what she needs to be. (For example if she's unable to bear children or too sick to care for children or the home, he can marry another, but he cannot desert the first one as he has pledged to take care of her and remain with her until they die.)

In India the children take care of their parents in their old age; the parents are to feel no loneliness.

After all the guests had finished speaking, Queen Susie presented the men from India with "buttons" and invited them to this year's Fair and Rodeo.

Mrs. Hunt goes to Carmel for granddaughters wedding

Mrs. Otillie Hunt of Heppner accompanied her daughter, Mrs. Jack Smith of Hermiston to Carmel for Mrs. Smith's daughter's wedding.

Judith Smith Walters was married to James D. Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Reed of Phoenix, Arizona on July 22 in the Highland Inn Chapel of the Sea at Carmel, Calif. Mrs. Randy Borine was matron of honor and best man was the bridegroom's father. Judy was given in marriage by her brother, Tim Smith, for her parents. Mr. Smith was not able to go down from Hermiston for the wedding. The Rev. Fischer performed the ceremony.

The bride wore white lace over yellow satin and a white picture hat with yellow streamers. She carried a bouquet of white roses and daisies. The Matron of Honor wore a dress of yellow organza with a white picture hat. She carried yellow daisies.

FRIENDS AND RELATIVES are cordially invited to attend the wedding of Cindy Ekstrom and Bill Greenup July 29 at 2:30 p.m. in St. Patrick's Catholic Church, Heppner.

HOLLY REBEKAH LODGE members are pleased with the $35.00 they made from the Sidewalk Bazaar. They opened on Saturday and were sold out with their Homemade Goodies in two hours.

MR. & MRS. LINDSAY KINCAID, Margaret and Mary went to Warm Springs Indian-resort, Kah-Neeta after the Little League All Star games at Madras. They recommend the resort and said the pool was beautiful.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Turner and family were also at Kah-Neeta.

DAN McQUARRIE is now living in the Portland area and we understand he plans to work in a supermarket there.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Smith wore pink lace and the bridegroom's mother wore turquoise lace. The bride is a graduate of Hermiston High School and graduated from Boise State. The young couple will be at home at San Jose where the bridegroom has a men's shop. The new Mrs. Reed is also employed at San Jose.

Judy Cecil married at Spray

Judy Cecil and Wilbur Alford were united in marriage in a candle light ceremony June 17 at the Spray Assembly of God Church. The Rev. George Ingersoll read the double ring ceremony. Billy Caldera of Fossil and Brad Wallawine of Yakima were candle lighters.

The young couple repeated vows under an arch entwined with pink and blue flowers flanked by two picture basket arrangements of pink and blue flowers. The array of plastic flowers were made by Mrs. Al Buell of Spray.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents. She wore a satin floor-length wedding gown with sheer sleeves in a morning ceremony on July 1, Marla Jeanne McNary became the bride of Robert Burns Bailey. The double ring ceremony was held in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. George Hansom, Milton-Freewater. The Rev. McLeod of the La Grande Presbyterian Church read the service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McNary of Ione and the bride-her sister. Bridesmaids were Carol Skellenger of Colfax, Wa. and Charlotte Cecil, cousin of the bride, from Baker. The three wore identical floor length dresses of chiffon over lace. They carried a single long stemmed white rose. They wore matching veils. The matron of honor wore pink and the two bridesmaids wore blue.

Flower girls were Cindy and Shelley Stroeber, nieces of the bride who wore pink dresses and carried pink baskets of petals.

Mrs. Jim Bowler and Mrs. George Ingersoll of Spray sang "I Love You Because" and "Where Thou Goest I Will Go" with organ accomgroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Burns Bailey of Ione City.

The bride chose a silk organza dress with a flowing skirt. The bodice was trimmed with lace and had long full sleeves. She wore a silk organza hat trimmed in lace with a waist length veil.

The music was furnished by Polly Goshorn and Ann Miller accompanied by Steve Anderson on the guitar. Polly and Ann sang, "You've got a Friend."

Gayle McNary, sister of the bride was in charge of the guest book.

RECEPTION FOLLOWS

A reception was held after the ceremony. The cake was served by Mrs. Art Falkerson, the coffee by Mrs. Don Hammer and the punch by Mrs. Steve Anderson.

After a trip to the coast, the couple is at home in La Grande.

The bridegroom plays bass guitar with the Rock Creek Roll Band which was to play in Sun Valley shortly after the wedding. He graduated in June from EOC.

The bride attended one year at SOC and three at EOC.

Dave Green says "Contest will be tough"

MADRAS — Dave Green, republican candidate for district 55 state representative, told about 60 supporters at a campaign kickoff polluck at Kah-nee-la Resort Saturday that the contest is going "to be a tough one."

"It's going to be people like you, working for me, who will win the election", he said. Green is vying for the house seat with democratic candidate, Jack Sumner, Heppner rancher.

"We'll have to win by a lot of hard work and with little money", Green told local republicans and democrats gathered to back him. Also present to endorse Green's candidacy were Senators Victor Atiyeh, Wallace Carson, Jr., Representatives

Roger Martin, and Gordon McPherson, and Dorothea Moore, Moro, republican national committeewoman and delegate to the republican convention.

Green, 37-year-old Madras insurance broker, began his bid for the house seat in October 1971 when he filed for the office almost eight months before the primary election. At the beginning of his uncontested bid to represent his party at the November general election, Green campaigned to become acquainted with people throughout the 100-by-180-mile district. Green said Saturday that he plans to continue this policy of getting to know and discuss issues with people on a person to person basis.

Court Places First

The Morrow County Fair and Rodeo Court placed first out of 12 courts at the Elgin Stampede Parade Sunday, July 23. This was the second first place for the group.

Two Pennant Bearers, Sherry Kemp and Patty Daly, rode with the court, consisting of Queen Susan French and Princesses Patty Luciani, Debbie McCoy, Anne Hoskins and Kerry Coppock. After the parade, the court was guest of Elgin's Stampede Court for lunch. Saturday night after the dance, the court was overnight guests at the home of one of their chaperones, Clista Venard.

All the court's parents except Mrs. George Luciani, were at Elgin. Also attending were Charlie Daly and Stan Kemp, the Pennant Bearer's fathers, and Howard Denton, the Queen's uncle.

Gene graduated from Heppner High in 1963 and is currently serving with the Seabees at Davisville, R.I. in Mobile Construction Battalion 71. A fall wedding is planned.

Scott Barratt Married in Spokane Ceremony

Miss Jeneen Dee Calkins and Army Lt. Scott Barratt were married in a floral setting of white glammellias, salmon-toned gladioli, Majestic daisies and gypsophila at St. Augustine Roman Catholic Church June 30 in Spokane. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Lysle Calkins and Mr. and Mrs. William Franklin Barratt, all of Spokane.

The Rev. R. Leroy Weeks of St. Augustine's and the Rev. John Hay of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church officiated.

The bride wore a gown of ivory organza. Pearl-and-crystal etched Alencon lace appliques enhanced the scoop neckline, short bishop sleeves and empire bodice. The A-line skirt was detailed with a wide band of Alencon lace at the hemline. Her long mantilla was edged with matching lace. She carried a cascade of salmon gladioli bouquets with Tropicana roses, white carnations and ivy.

Dr. Sally Calkins was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Miss Jamie Calkins, also a sister and Mrs. Kenneth Moland, sister of the bridegroom. Their gowns were fashioned of white voile embossed with salmon-toned daisies and cummerbunds. They wore large brimmed hats to match their gowns and carried colonial bouquets of white daisies and salmon-toned glammellias.

Kenneth Moland served as best man. Ushers were Ronald Moland and Dwight L. Calkins Jr., brother of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Burke and family of White Fish, Mont. Ed and Ethel Livingston of Bend, Paul Breeding of Caldwell, Id., Mr. and Mrs. Max Breeding and family of Gresham, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Den-paniment by Laurel Kelsey of Spray.

The three-tier square pink and blue cake was topped by a bride and groom. Mrs. Don Troxell and Mrs. Larry Brisbois, both of Spray cut the cake. Mrs. Don Rardin, also of Spray served the punch and Mrs. Jerry Dougherty of Heppner served the coffee. Fairy Caldera of Coos Bay was at the gift table and Mrs. Dick Gorham was in charge of the gift book.

After a honeymoon trip to Reno and California points, the young couple is at home at Lexington. Web is employed at Grieb Ranches and Judy is a beautician at Renes.

NICK MARICK of Ione left recently for Angell Center for a Job Corps program. He expects to receive training and develop special skills there.

The three girls riding on the Heppner float at Fort Dalles Days expressed the desire for meeting Senator Hatfield. This was arranged. The Senator is a past master at remembering names and faces. When he met Kellie Kilkenny, he asked her if she was related to Judge Kilkenny, "yes". Then he met Marie Van Marter and the name Van Marter struck a bell not only through Elks but Republicans also. When it was Tricia Prock's turn to meet him.....she said "I'm just Tricia Prock". This made a hit with everyone!

I'm sure that if I were to meet Senator Hatfield he would say as he has said several times, "It's the newspaper gal with the polaroid." It seemed like I attended a great many functions for Governor Hatfield in those years at Milton-Freewater. He was Governor Hatfield then. He remembers well.
