TAX FACTS QUESTION:

My house is situated on a hill and in February of 1972 the yard began slipping and a portion of the lot dropped three feet. Although cracks are appearing in the basement area we have not vacated the house. We applied for a reduction in the value of our house under ORS 308.425. The assessor denied our application on the basis that the residence was not destroyed. Was he correct in doing this?
ANSWER:
The assessor was correct because "destruction" clearly means making the property no longer suitable for residential purposes. The assessor will probably revalue your house as of January 1, 1973, because of the slippage which has affected the market value of the property.

A bum approached a man and asked for a dime. The man told him he didn't have a dime but he'd be glad to buy his breakfast.
"Man" the bum said, "I've had three breakfasts now, trying to get a dime."

"Turn around and scowl!"
