The Kinzua Veneer Plant

Probably the biggest thing to happen in this part of the county in a long time is Kinzua Corporation's brand new veneer plant. Most folks are well aware of Kinzua's belief in the community and county and country by investing more than $2,500,000 dollars in this fine new plant.

Addition of about 80 new jobs here is something very noticeable to the local economy. The impact is something that will very well be felt for a long time to come.

Small towns and many areas of Eastern Oregon have long felt the need of payrolls. Children are reared and educated and for lack of opportunity, have to leave the area to find jobs. The new Kinzua veneer plant is a real good step in the right direction for reversing this trend.

Warmest congratulations are due the Kinzua Corporation for choosing Heppner as their site for the new veneer plant.

Understanding our meat supply

The U. S. has the most abundant meat supply the world has ever known. Per capita meat consumption in the United States over the past 20 years has increased spectacularly, thanks to the availability at fair prices of a steadily rising supply of meat. The meat industry is a perfect example of the pressures of a free market working in a constructive way to encourage an industry to respond most effectively to the needs and preferences of consumers.

This year, one of the meat's oldest industry organizations, the National Live Stock and Meat Board, is observing its 50th Anniversary. In the course of that observance, it has endeavored to tell the public of some of the things that the industry and the Meat Board have done in behalf of consumer, as well as the industry during the past five decades. The Board has consistently followed a program of promotion, education, information and scientific research. It has sought to stimulate the efforts of the meat industry to present a desirable, palatable, high quality and nutritionally acceptable product to the American people, and the industry has done its job well. It has solved its problems without government help, built demand for its products and advanced the cause of independence in agriculture. Success in all of these areas has meant one thing to the consuming public—the availability of a bounteous meat supply, no matter where we may live in our three million square mile nation.

By telling of the achievements of the meat industry during the observation of its Golden Anniversary, the National Live Stock and Meat Board is helping to build public understanding of a vital industry at a time when that understanding is most critically needed.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

CONGRATULATIONS ARE IN ORDER

Charlie and Dorothy Heard, who established the Valley Herald and owned it during its formative years, are now the publishers of the Heppner Gazette-Times.

They have just published a special edition of their Heppner paper which marks that city's 100th anniversary. The edition of 75 pages is complete with many stories of historical value and it will be a valuable reference in the future for those interested in Heppner's and Morrow county's past.

A job of this size is a tremendous undertaking for the staff of a small weekly paper. No doubt the Heards labored long and hard to complete this excellent edition of their paper and the effectiveness of their efforts is reflected in an outstanding result.

The Heards are to be complimented on the centennial edition of the Heppner Gazette-Times.

(From Milton-Freewater Valley Herald)

GOOD JOB

The Heppner Gazette-Times must be complimented for publishing a most attractive special edition marking the city's 100th birthday. It was quite an undertaking for the staff of a weekly newspaper.

Historians will find it a valuable reference in years to come. In going through it they will be puzzled, we anticipate, by a small section at the back of the newspaper. Much of it is devoted to attacking rodeo as a sport that is cruel to animals. It was paid for by persons who hold that conviction. Elsewhere in the paper the rodeo that is a central feature of the Morrow County Fair is extolled.

Only comment we can offer is that the publishers of the Gazette-Times, Charles and Dorothy Heard, are committed to presenting both sides of an issue and that's good journalism. (East Oregonian) to run out of time, space, have a broken arm and other complications too numerous to mention that some stories didn't get finished in time for the Centennial issue.

A most important one that should have been in was the story of pioneer photographer Mr. Sigbee. The early pictorial record of Heppner and it's pioneers would never have been recorded if it hadn't been for him. Evidence of his marvelous craftsmanship is to be seen in most every business place and office in Heppner. His sweeping landscapes were taken long before the wide angle lens. They were taken with the camera that made a sweep from one side of the view to the other.

The Sigbee story, the Gilliam family weather story as well as the history of the famous Gilliam and Bisbee Hardware Store, the old Depot story and many other families are yet to be told. Any family that has an account of the arrival of their family in Morrow County and some of those early incidents recorded are urged to write them up and bring them in for future printing. This is still the Centennial year.

STEPHENS, MINN., MESSENGER: "We might send this one in to some of the government bureaus which are constantly seeking ways to spend our money. It seems that a research director of a major government agency was ordered to study about fleas. He obtained a flea with a high IQ, placed it on his desk and finally succeeded in training it to jump over his finger on spoken command. Then he removed two of the flea's legs. 'Jump' he ordered, and the flea still jumped. Two more legs were removed. Again the flea responded to command. At last the final two legs were removed. 'Jump' the research director commanded, but the flea didn't move. The director then wrote a lengthy report on the project, concluding that: 'When a flea loses all six legs, it becomes deaf.'"

A pious and venerable man, having lived a long and useful life, died and went to his reward. Years later his old friend also died and upon arriving on the other side went searching for his old friend. To his delight, he found him sitting on a large fluffy cloud with a beautiful blonde on his lap. "Wow!" shouted the friend, "you sure have been given you reward!" "Reward, nothing," replied the old man, "I'm her punishment." Didja hear about the preacher who doubled his congregation by putting the following on the front lawn notice board — "Sacred Agent 007."

Kathleen at State Fair

PREPARING ingredients for her main dish in the 4-H section of the State Fair is Kathleen McElhott of Ione, who served beef as her main dish. In this event, members served four while they are judged on such items as work habits and how good the food tastes.

Episcopal Church School Starts

Church School at All Saints Episcopal Church will begin the fall schedule this Sunday. Mrs. John Gochnauer is superintendent. Classes for children from three years old through the 8th grade will be held during the 10 o'clock worship service.

County To Get Forest Money

Oregon and Washington counties with National Forest lands will receive $41.6 million in receipts from National Forest earnings in fiscal year 1972, an increase of $12 million from the previous year.

Future Citizens

Allan James, 3, and Julie Renee, 10 mos., children of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Gerking, Heppner.

Michelle Lynne, 6 mos., old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Beck, Ione.

Nazarene Church Has New Pastors

Rev. and Mrs. Forest Godin have moved to Heppner to assume the Position as new pastors of the Church of the Nazarene.

They have recently graduated from the Nazarene Bible College in Colorado Springs, Colo. prior to pastoring in Arnold, Neb.

They have received a warm welcome in Heppner and are already enjoying the city. The Godins have one daughter, Sherry, in the third grade, and three children still at home—Greg, Gwen, and Sandra.

"We are very happy to be located here in Heppner and anticipate a wonderful ministry here," said Rev. Godin.

Rev. and Mrs. Forest Godin, new Nazarene pastors here are shown with their family.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

DEAR EDITORS:

The Centennial is really "Tops". So good in fact I hate to "lay it down". I am astounded at the research I got so carried away I called Ann Roberts Holzschuk who lives here, telling her she should order some copies for herself and family. She did.

Ann is the daughter of the late Frank Roberts who at one time owned what is now known as Murray's Drugs The Telephone Office and The Gazette-Times building. Ann's cousin, Gladys Potter Bouvy, also lives here. They are granddaughters of the Ellis Minors, owners of Heppner's first hotel, The City Hotel, shown in Section 3 of The Centennial.

I also told the headgardener at Dunway Park, Don Jessop, about this edition. Don's family lived for years as neighbors of the Sutherland family and it turns out the mother is Hazel Morrow Sutherland for whose family the county was named, "Morrow".

Don and Hazel's son, Bill Sutherland, entered the service together in World War 11 and were in the Medical Corps. Bill later took Officer's Training and Don stayed in the regular Corps.

I suggested Don let Bill Sutherland know about this since there is so much about the Morrow family in The Centennial and I am sure he would want some copies.

And also working in Dunway Park is Ed Linde, who with his brother, William worked during harvest in the lone wheat fields at one time. He remembers Verner Troedson, Carl Troedson, Art Stefan among others. He also mentioned the late Biz Engelman.

Ed remembers the hot summer harvests in the Gooseberry district, the old header boxes and other features of "Ye olde harvesting crew" east of the mountains.

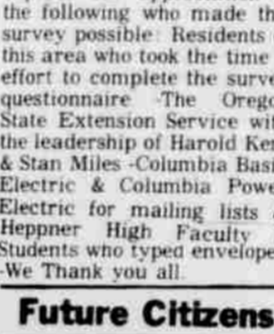

Ed also remembers moving wheat sacks and there underneath in the cool shade would be a rattlesnake, only Ed didn't wait around.

Congratulations on a job well done. Josephine Mahoney Baker Terwilliger Plaza Portland, 97201

To The Editor:

The results of the business survey conducted this past summer by the Morrow Chamber of Commerce are completed & available to all at the County Extension Office. We would at this time like to express our appreciation to the following who made this survey possible: Residents of this area who took the time & effort to complete the survey questionnaire. The Oregon State Extension Service with the leadership of Harold Kerr & Stan Miles—Columbia Basin Electric & Columbia Power Electric for mailing lists & Heppner High Faculty & Students who typed envelopes — We Thank you all.

Future Citizens

Cheryle Ann, 13; Lori Marie, 11; Melissa Jean, 4; and Sandra Lee, 15 mos., daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Turner, Heppner.

Ralph, 9; Diann, 7; Roger, 6; Keith, 2; and Linda, 7 mos., children of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Morter, Ione.

G-T WANT ADS PAY

Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Garlick of Portland were here last week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ruggles and Mrs. Ola Ruggles. Mrs. Garlick is Ola's sister-in-law.

TO THE EDITOR:

I recently attended the Morrow County Rodeo and as usual enjoyed the many fun activities offered throughout the weekend.

My congratulations to Tom Currin and his committee for putting together a fast moving and interesting rodeo program.

The Saturday morning Parade was blighted with past Rodeo Queens, and the Centennial Band truly deserved the encore it took by marching and playing up Main Street a second time.

However, one recent Morrow County celebrity was noticeably absent from the parade line-up: Cheri Carlson, As Miss Teenage Oregon, she brought home one of the most prestigious honors available to young women in the state. Honors of this standing do not come to Morrow County residents all that frequently, and I think that this parade would have been a most appropriate time and place to show Mrs. Carlson our support for her outstanding efforts.

I do hope there is a valid excuse for her absence. Tass Morrison Beckham Rt. 1 Box 3306 Corvallis, Oregon 97330

Dear friends: Enclosed is $1.05 for which please send Centennial copies to the following: Sincerely yours, Olive B. Hughes, Sutherland, Or.

Dear Editors: Enclosed please find $1.00 for copy of the wonderful Centennial Edition to be mailed to... Very Sincerely, Shirley A. Holdaway, Scappoose, Or.

Dear Mrs.: Enclosed is 50c. We would like a copy of your special edition marking Heppner's 100th birthday. Yours truly, Alex D. Hardie Condon, Or.

Please send 4 copies of the Centennial Edition of the G-T to addresses below. Enclosed is $1.40. Sincerely, Mrs. J.B. Coxen, Salem, Oregon.

Please send 8 copies of the Centennial Edition of the Heppner-Gazette-Times to... Thank you, Elna Corbin Portland.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Heard: Enclosed please find 35c for a copy of the Centennial Edition. I enjoyed reading my sister-in-law, Virginia Turner's copy very much and I would like to have a copy of my own.

It is still my home town as I was born and raised there. My parents, Robert and May Turner were pioneers, coming to Heppner in 1884.

I didn't find anything about the Turners. Frank is still living there and Jesse was Mayor and later in the Legislature at Salem.

I met you at Frank's 85th birthday party. Sincerely, Mrs. W.L. LaDusire Eugene

Anita at State Fair

READY to serve the meatball sandwiches and salad in the 4-H intermediate luncheon contest at the 1972 Oregon State Fair is Anita Davidson, Lexington. In this event, 4-H members prepare and serve a luncheon for four people. They are judged on their work habits and cost as well as how good the food tastes.

End of Tussock Moth Seen

After completing a preliminary contract for experimental and research work, Nutrilite Products, Incorporated, has been awarded a contract for the production of a virus insecticide that will kill the Douglas Fir tussock moth, known officially as Virus (BV strain) Hemerocampa Pseudotsugata McD.

The contract has been awarded by the United States Department of Agriculture Forestry Service, Region 6, with headquarters in Portland, Oregon.

According to Edward B. Westall, Nutrilite's vice president, the company has a year in which to produce the quantity of material ordered.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Turner, Kim and Kisha were here last week to visit their folks, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Winchester and other relatives and friends.

COUSINS ON DUTY

Sue Ellen Greenup and Sheridan Tarnasky, both RN's, were on duty at the Rodeo Saturday and Sunday. The girls are cousins. Sue Ellen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Greenup and Sheridan is the daughter of Mrs. Irene Wyman.

VICKI STEAGALL and Dick Hynd were up from Portland to visit her folks, Mr. and Mrs. George Steagall and to see the rodeo. They especially enjoyed the dances they saw so many old school friends.

NONA SOWELL recently returned from a vacation trip to Alaska. She went both ways by jet flights, spent time visiting in Anchorage. She was thrilled by an Alaska Rail road trip down to Valdez, enjoying much breathtaking scenery.
