Emcee Ron Daniels. Identifiable in the background are Mrs. Garry Tullis, Harold Kerr and Jim Slusher on the right.

Name tags at the Trade Fair carried some distinctive identification for occupations.

Could you guess who wrote "Teach-Preach & Screech"? "Ding-A-Ling"? A particular Minister's wife?

Wouldn't you know...Inez Meador, Merl Cantin and Peggy Johnson?

The little baton twirler was a doll. In true theater spirit, "The show must go on", she did her act even though the record player wasn't functioning. Watch for her, she was good even though slightly flustered and she's only 8 years old! Kristina Farley of Lexington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Farley.

Ron Daniels was a big hit with his dry wit...whatever dry wit is. Ron has it. What he says is also so unexpected that it adds to the hilarity. Like his complaint to Judge Jones that Sadie Parish wouldn't register any Republicans. Sadie said later she registered a total of 16 that evening.

"THINGS I WOULDN'T HAVE KNOWN IF I HADN'T STARTED CLEANING MY DESK."

ED MARTIN from out on the Condon-Ruggs Hwy. says he is more that satisfied with the production of wheat from his double summer fallow fields. He says it is running 55 bu to the acre.

TAD MILLER says he's satisfied with the way his crop ran this year. He had hoped that it would run a little higher and thought it would up until he pulled into the field.

MRS. FRED MARTIN—our what looks good. The quality is good and the production is too.

The punch bowl was a popular place at the 2nd annual Teachers and Newcomers Welcome at Heppner High School Thursday evening. Soroptimists from left are Mrs. Paul Jones, Mrs. Dean Gilman and Mrs. Conley Lanham.

Name tags were deposited in a kettle as guests left for the door prize drawing. Mrs. Earl Papineau of Lexington won a subscription to the Gazette-Times.

They presented Shorty with a power drill and presented Mrs. Hudson a beautiful lavender Mum plant.
