Writing Contest Again Open to Students

The Eastern Oregon Literary Contest will again be open to students in high schools and jumior colleges in the region.

The contest gives a total of eight awards six $25 each to high school students, and two $100 each to junior college writers. Winning authors will receive $10 to defray the cost of travelling to LaGrande to accept an award in public ceremony during the Festival of Fine Arts week at Eastern Oregon College April 23-27, 1973

High school writers may not submit more than three poems and one short story. Manuscripts are due by March 17, 1973

Students Make Prineville She was appointed Own Cameras

Photography students at HHS were required to make year their own cameras this year. as their beginning project.

The type of camera they made is the pin hole type All that's required to build one is a box with an over-lapping top, some brass shim stock needle, and black paint. A small hole is drilled with the needle into the shim stock; the shim stock is placed over the holes drilled in the box; the interior of the box is painted to make it light proof. film is put in place and the camera is ready for operation. Due to the simplicity of the camera. exposure time of film to image about one to three minutes Because of this, it became a challange for the students to find steady objects to place the cameras on but still be able to take an interesting picture, which resulted in an overflow of pictures of parked cars moving on to other types of First in Series' cameras. Photography teacher at Heppner High is Dennis Toney.
