DATE SET FOR KNIT JACKET WORKSHOP
 Kathy Jamieson, Gilliam County Extension Agent will teach a workshop in Morrow County on making knit jackets. Leader-teachers are needed to take the training and "pass it on" to others by conducting similar workshops after learning techniques of jacket construction.
 Kathy will teach a class of not more than twelve women. Participants may make a man's jacket of 100 per cent polyester (or a blend) or a woman's blazer.

Preliminary session is scheduled to be held at the Dorm, Heppner, Wednesday, November 15, at 10 a.m. Dates and time of remaining sessions will be determined at this meeting.
 Leaders are needed from all areas of the county. Please call 676-9642 (Morrow Extension Office) to pre-register, or for further information on the workshop.

MRS. J.D. COULTER of Salem came to Heppner with her son-in-law, Herman Winter on Saturday. She is visiting with the Winters this week.

KNIT PANTS TEACHER-TRAINING COMPLETED
 Women from Morrow & Umatilla counties are completing the Extension sponsored workshop sessions on making women's knit pants and will be teaching similar workshops in several areas of Morrow County.

Final session of the workshop will be a style show and evaluation session. Women attending have been enthusiastic about instruction and information received in the workshop. Debbie Barker was the instructor.
 Leaders from this area are Mrs. Roland Bergstrom, Ione; Mrs. Gary Grieb, Lexington and Mrs. Weldon Witherrite, Pine City area; and Mrs. Don Baker, Boardman.
 Workshops given locally by these women are open to all interested in learning the techniques of constructing well fitted knit pants. Pre-enroll for classes by calling 676-9642 or leaders directly.

4-SECTION HOMEMAKING STUDY

Homemakers who wish to lighten their housekeeping load will want to enroll in a new non credit correspondence course, "Work Smarter-Not Harder". Extension home economist Molly Saul states that this course is especially geared to the young or new homemaker, but is helpful to homemakers of any age or experience. The course is being offered through the Umatilla-Morrow county Extension Service, and will be handled by Mrs. Saul.

The course is divided into four sections, each designed by Home Economics specialists at Oregon State University. Each section of the course will have information for the homemaker to read and discuss with friends, a practical application assignment, and an assignment to be returned to the county Extension office. These assignments are not graded, but each one is read by Mrs. Saul and comments are made by her to help each homemaker.

Sections of the course include subjects such as "You the Household Manager", "You Versus Clutter", "You Versus the Clock", and "Down with Dirt".

A week will be given for each person to complete each section of the correspondence course. When one lesson is finished and returned the next one will be sent.

There is a $1 charge for the course, to cover the cost of the notebook and publications sent to each enrollee. The fee may be paid at the time of pre-registration, or when the first assignment is mailed in.

Enrollment is now underway. The deadline to enroll is Monday October 30. To enroll, just send or telephone your name and address to the county Extension office; Gilliam & Bisbee Building, P.O. Box 397, Heppner, 676-9642.

TOPS PLAN DRD HERE ON 26th

A Fall DRD (District Recognition Day) is scheduled for St. Patrick's Church here on Thursday Oct. 26.

Members of six TOPS Clubs-Heppner, Lexington, Ione, Condon(2) and Fossil-will gather for dinner being put on by the Morrow County Clubs at 6:00.

A miscellaneous goods sale, KOPS graduation, and various skits will be included as parts of the evening's program.

The theme for the evening is "Autumn's In-Think Thin" and the committee at work is made up of club leaders, Mrs. William J. Doherty, Lex., Mrs. Richard Sherer, Ione, and Mrs. David Springer.

Bookworms Reactivate

After a summer recess of three months, the Bookworm members were happily reunited for their September organizational meeting at the George Currin home on Little Butler Creek.

President Mrs. Ted Smith conducted the meeting which saw new officers elected: Mrs. Jerry Brosnan became president; Mrs. Harold Erwin vice-president; Mrs. Bill Weatherford secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Ted Smith book-checker.

A schedule of meetings was planned to include exchange meetings with the Ione Topic Club next spring. A memorial for Mrs. Sara Morrow, a recently deceased Bookworm, was agreed upon. The group purchased the large pictorial book "Arizona" as a gift to the public library in her name.

TRAVEL TALKS
 Summer travelogues were given by Mrs. James Thomson who had a most pleasant visit with her daughter and family in California and by the hostess Helen Currin and Justine Weatherford who recalled experiences they shared traveling to southern California and Arizona.

Mrs. Currin served Kahlua sundies, assorted cookies, mints, nuts, and coffee and tea to her guests.
"EVERY OTHER INCH A LADY"
 The Bookworms' first regular bookreview meeting was at the Harold Erwin home Oct. 10. Mrs. Herman Winter presented a delightful review of Beatrice Lillie's delightful recent autobiography "Every Other Inch A Lady". This 1972 publication came from Doubleday & Co., Garden City, N.Y.

With the irrepressible and disarming candor that endeared her to hundreds of thousands of fans, Beatrice Lillie has recounted the ups and downs of her life; her childhood in Toronto and youthful performances in the backwoods of Ontario; her early success in London and New York in Andre Charlot's revues; her marriage to Sir Robert Peel and the tragic loss of her only son during World War II; her widely acclaimed shows and films, and her deserved reputation as "the funniest woman in the world."

In a series of delightful anecdotes Bea tells of experiences with some of her famous friends, acquaintances, and co-workers, including Noel Coward, Gertrude Lawrence, Michael Arlen, Julie Andrews, Marc Connelly, Fanny Brice, Charlie Chaplin, Ethel Barrymore, Bert Lahr, Alexander Woolcott, Helen Hayes, the Duke of Windsor (in his earlier days as the Prince of Wales), Elsa Maxwell, and many others.

The book includes 61 black-and-white photographs which reveal some of Bea's historic theatrical experiences as well as give a look into her personal life. Some show her as Lady Peel surrounded by British royalty others show her with members of her family or with famous friends and co-workers.

In the last chapter she writes of her dogs—a series of Pekingese that were so important in her life. She pleads for a relaxation of the severe British dog quarantine laws by the British Ministry of Agriculture that bans the importation of all dogs without a six-month quarantine and two rabies shots.

Beatrice Lillie closes with an attempt to express her

Frank Lovgren Wins His Dolphins

Periodically Jeanne Lovgren Hansen receives a letter packed with the events that have taken place on the USS Salmon from the Commanding Officer. Frank Lovgren is aboard.

Prior to his recent leave Frank received the coveted "Dolphins" after six months of rigorous training. A hand written note at the close of a recent news letter read, "Just a note to let you know that I am proud of the work your son has been doing in our engine-rooms. He has qualified as a throtleman which makes him philosophy "Have faith in the good in life, and don't brood on the bad. Always look for the best."

Any reader should enjoy this book, but it will be especially pleasing to readers interested in the theater and in the life and experiences of this "balmy" British star of stage and screen.

Kinzua

BRIDAL SHOWER

Mrs. Betty Benson and Miss Marlene Lewis traveled to Monument Tuesday evening to attend a bridal shower for Marlene.

Miss Marlene Lewis was the honored guest, Wednesday evening at a bridal shower held at the home of Mrs. Stan Benson. Seventeen guests were present. Marlene opened her gifts and then cake, ice cream, and coffee were served. Among those present were Mrs. Janet Lewis, mother of Marlene and Marlene's aunt, Mrs. Pat Engle of Monument. Mrs. Stan Benson was the hostess.

New residents of Kinzua are Mr. and Mrs. DaWayne Zulauf who are from John Day, formerly of Homedale, Idaho.

The regular safety meeting was held at the Camp Five office with Chairman Mike Todd in charge. There was a review of the accidents and then a discussion was held on how to prevent future accidents. 1,000 Green stamps were presented to Carol Norris for attending twelve meetings.

Sunday, Guy VanArsdale went to Bend where he is taking flying lessons and had his solo flight.

completely responsible for two huge diesel engines, two air compressors and two water tills all vital to our success."

The news letter follows the format of a diary. The six days in Pearl Harbor was filled with escape training for the neophytes and job related training for every crew member and a host of briefings.

Their sister ship "Sailfish" were gracious hosts for a wardrobe beach party complete with a night volleyball game on the sandy beach and a beer ball game one afternoon.

At Yokosuka several of the crew visited Tokyo and Mt. Fuji. The Japanese railway system is superb. The trip from Yoko to Tokyo is three hours by auto but only 75 minutes and 75 cents by train.

The had just been through a severe storm and they left Yokosuka in a driving rain. Excitement started when the lookout spotted a yellow life raft in the 10-12 foot seas. A cold 30 knot wind was blowing. The commander writes: "I knew the Norwegian merchant also in the area with his high freeboard (tall sides) and single propeller would be very difficult to maneuver in the winds and seas. The helicopter in the area did not have a rescue sling extended so Salmon, with her low profile and two propellers, plus our many hours of practice 'man overboards' was best equipped to accomplish the rescue and we proceeded to recover the 5 merchant seamen."

No one spoke Japanese but drawing pictures with matchstick figures, it was determined that all survivors had been recovered.

The Japanese press, cameras and flash bulbs greeted them on their return to Yokosuka. No one understood a word of the interviews conducted in Japanese but the crewmen had a special feeling of satisfaction in a job well done.

The commander wrote further in his newsletter that they were having a series of colored slides of the rescue and will have a set for each crewmember who wanted one.

In closing he thanks the people on the home front for their terrific support. The wivesand sweetherts had shipped the crew 1,481 cookies individually wrapped.
