

OSU to Dedicate New Horse Center

Oregon State University's new $450,000 Horse Center will be dedicated Saturday, Oct. 21, during the 17th annual OSU Horsemen's short course.

The center includes a horse barn, research laboratory, feed storage building and an arena. It is anticipated that a building for OSU's vocational farrier's school (horse shoeing) and a stud barn will be added.

The two-day short course, sponsored by the Oregon Horseman's Association and the OSU Department of Animal Science, will open at 9 a.m. in Withycombe Hall. Fee for the course will be $10.

Dr. Scott Jackson, Chino, Calif., chairman of the equine division of the Morris Foundation, will lecture on disease problems of light horses. Dr. Larry Slade, who heads the horse teaching and research program at Colorado State University, Fort Collins, will discuss light horse feeding and nutrition.

Student clubs will serve lunch at the Horse Center, off NW Harrison Boulevard and NW 53rd Avenue, where dedication ceremonies open to the public will begin at 1:30 p.m. Speakers will include Tom Hartung, Washington County Senator; Richard Wagner, president of the Oregon Horseman's Association, Oregon City; and OSU President Robert MacVicar.

Animal science department staff will lead tours of the horse barn which can house 48 horses and equipment; the arena, which includes a 100x200-foot riding area; and other facilities.

At 2:30, the short course will resume when C. Clell Laird, Coos Bay horse trainer, will discuss the training of Western pleasure and trail horses. Lee McDaniel, who heads the farrier school, will join the speakers for a panel discussion on horse problems, research and equipment.

After a no-host dinner, a horse show will be presented at 7 p.m. at the Horse Center Arena. Admission will be charged.

The course will continue on Sunday with judging demonstration at 9 a.m. at the Horse Center. Judges will be Laird, quarter horse; Phillip Morrison, Grants Pass, Morgan and pony; and Robert Martin, Hillsboro, Arabian.

The judges will review results of the previous night's horse show. After lunch at the Arena, Ray West, Philomath, and Cliff Larkin, Corvallis, will give a horse training demonstration.

Olive Hughes Writes

A recent note from Olive Hughes tells us about a family gathering she had enjoyed at the home of her son, Bill Hughes at Sutherlin. Besides the Bill Hughes and three children, Scott, Richard and Marsha there were Mrs. K.S. Marshall and Barbara of Albany, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Marshall of Eugene. Keith is a senior at the University of Oregon after four years in the Air Force.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Roberts, Jennifer and Craig of Portland. (Mrs. Roberts was Julie Lee Marshall).

Mr. and Mrs. T.J. Hughes and twin sons, Michael and David and two of their friends from Monroe. Their oldest son, Tommy was at SOC practicing with the football team so could not attend. Their daughter Pam who is Mrs. Jim Strodo was not able to attend either.

Gov. Tom McCall presents statement proclaiming Horse Appreciation Week to Richard Wagner and John Rosebrook, President and Vice President of the Oregon Horsemen's Association.

Oregon State University's new $450,000 Horse Center dedicated last Saturday.

Report on Church Banquet

The Stewardship program of the lone United Church of Christ got off to a good beginning on Sunday evening by means of the annual stewardship banquet. This year the banquet featured Mr. and Mrs. Darrell James with special music and Mrs. Walter Bishop, Moderator of the Oregon Conference of the United Church of Christ, as speaker.

Fredrick Martin, church moderator, was the master of ceremonies. Don Bristow, stewardship chairman, presented the financial goals of the church and a packet of materials designed to assist the members in deciding upon their fair share for the support of the church. Bill Rietmann, chairman of the Board of Trustees, presented the 1973 budget and Pastor Arthur closed the meeting with a few comments and led the unison prayer.

A special feature of the evening was the presentation of a painting of the church done by the late Carl Troedson in 1970. The church appreciated the thoughtfulness of the family in making this gift to the church as a living memorial of Mr. Troedson's interest in the life of this congregation.

The stewardship committee, composed of Don Bristow, Mark Rietmann, and Pastor Arthur, was helped in the preparation and serving of the dinner by the Deacons Board who coordinated the meal, the Women's Fellowship who did the decorating and the Trustees who served the coffee and punch.

There was a good turnout and many people felt that this was one of the best banquets which the church has held. Members and friends of the church are urged to bring their pledge cards to church on November 5 or to mail them to the church financial secretary, Bob Rietmann.

TWO SNOWS HERE

Jodi and Jeri Snow were home from Eugene last weekend. Both are attending the University of Oregon and like it very much. They get homesick for Heppner so they had their grandmother, Mrs. Harry Smith, come in and subscribe to the Gazette-Times for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Jose Busto and sons, of Portland, were visitors at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Pummel in Irrigon.

AAUW Installation To Follow Sat. Luncheon

The American Association of University Women will hold their installation of officers this Saturday, in Ione. The luncheon and program are scheduled to begin at noon in the Masonic Hall. All members are invited.

The AAUW has planned their tentative agenda for the year. Meetings will include talks on consumerism, long range planning in Morrow County Schools, a music program, group dynamics and travel.

Study groups are now being formed on topics of interest to the community. The AAUW invites all women to join. Groups will meet periodically in afternoons or evenings.

Topics for these groups are "A Dollar's Worth - Consumerism", "This Beleaguered Earth", "The Crisis in Public Education", "We the People", "Getting to Know Yourself and Others", "Adding a Bit of Culture", "Shakespeare at Ashland", "Do it Yourself Crafts" and "The Galloping Gourmets".

If you are interested in any of these topics please contact Mrs. Gene Rietmann at

We'll care for Gary Timm just like we care for our other 499,999 members.

Half a million people in Oregon and southwest Washington are now members of Blue Cross. We're the largest prepaid health care plan in the area. The reason? We like to think it's because people feel Blue Cross does more for them than any other health plan. We're proud of our growth. And the recent addition of Mr. Timm as our 500,000th member has made us even more aware of our broad responsibility to our members—not only to give them the most effective selection of benefits at the most reasonable cost but also to help make sure that people and facilities are available to provide care when and where it is needed.

That's why Blue Cross of Oregon has been doing much more than just paying bills. We are currently involved in a wide variety of programs designed to help us meet all of our responsibilities to Gary Timm and our other members, as well as benefiting the rest of the people in our area. In the coming months we'll be discussing some of the programs we're working on which will be important for you because they can affect the quality and cost of your health care. They're important to us because your good health is the only reason we're in business. We care for people.

Blue Cross of Oregon's 500,000th member: Mr. Gary Timm, with his wife Sharon and his children, Cara, 6, and Mattie, 2. Mr. Timm is employed as a Juvenile Parole Officer by the State Children's Services Division in Eugene.

Home office: 100 S.W. Market Street, Portland, Oregon 97201. District offices in Salem, Eugene, Medford, and Pendleton.
