Irrigon to Get New Trailer Court

By FRANCES ROSE WILSON

A special joint meeting of the Irrigon Planning Commission and the City Council was held Oct. 24. A variance of the zoning ordinance was granted to Fred Walker for property in the utility lot R.R.3, which has less than the required footage for the District.

A request and plans made by Ted Wilson for construction of a mobile home and overnight Trailer Court, with accompanying facilities, was approved by the commission and endorsed by the Council. Construction is expected to start on the project about the first of the year, according to Wilson, who was present to answer questions. The trailer court will be located just South of Highway 730 and West of Ordinance Road.
