

Bob Hagers
Buy Western Auto

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hager have purchased the Western Auto Store here from Mr. and Mrs. John Pfeiffer who have owned the business for 18 years. The Pfeiffers are retiring and plan to continue living in Heppner.

Mr. and Mrs. Hager plan to add several new lines of merchandise, furniture and appliances.

Bob Hager is a native son of Heppner and has been employed for a number of years by Hager's Dairy here.

Portraits Will Be Taken Monday

The color portraits will be taken Monday here at the Gazette-Times office. The photographer will be in the office from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. The company is to make appointments by mail and phone. However, anyone who has a different time than the appointment is welcome to come any time between 1 p.m. and 9 p.m., next Monday, Nov. 13th. Proofs will be shown about two weeks later.

Car and Lady Collide Here

Friday shortly after one p.m. a car and a woman collided on Main St. Alice McCabe crossing the street from Central Market was knocked to the pavement by Joe Delameter as he was backing his older model pickup from the curb. Mrs. McCabe was taken to the hospital by ambulance. She received bruises and scratches but no bones were broken. Her car was parked next to Mr. Delameters.

The City patrolman who investigated said "Heppner probably has more jaywalking than any other town in eastern Oregon".

SUCCESS

Mrs. Don Cole reported both toy trains they advertised last week were sold the day the paper came out. You, too, may want to dispose of some surplus or unneeded items with a Gazette-Times want ad.

Lions Club Broom & Bulb Sale Next Week

The Ione Lions Club will hold their annual broom and light bulb sale the evening of Nov. 14th in Ione.

President Ray Boyce said the annual sale will begin after the 6:30 dinner and meeting at the Thel's next Tuesday.

Proceeds go to the Lions Club Aid To The Blind Fund.

Harvey Crew at Full Speed

With only a little over two weeks until the first curtain opening, the cast and crew of "Harvey" are working at full speed to get everything in order for opening night. The set is being planned, costumes being set and lines being learned on the proper cues.

"Harvey" will be the first production of the Heppner Community Drama Club for the year, and will be staged Nov. 24 and 25 on the HHS stage. The play is the well-known story about a man who owns a six-foot rabbit, visible to only him, and the problems it causes around his home.

Fire Shower For Eng Family

Holly Rebekah Lodge of Lexington is spearheading a Fire Shower for Mr. and Mrs. Tic Eng and six month old baby whose home was burned to the ground last week. The IOOF hall will be open all day Friday so that persons may leave articles for the Eng's. The young family will be moving into a mobile home. They are very much in need of household articles, sheets, towels, cooking utensils and personal effects.

Mrs. Eng wears a 36 blouse, 10-12 dress and 29 waist-32 length pants. Mr. Eng wears a medium shirt and 29 waist-32 length pants. The baby is six months old but is chubby and wears 9 months to a year old clothes. The baby has received quite enough clothes but the next size clothes will be welcome.

The Holly Rebekah members plan to serve coffee and cookies during the evening.

IONE CLINCHES BIG SKY CHAMPIONSHIP

Undeclared Ione beat Wheeler County 50-36 Friday to assure themselves a date in the state A-B football playoffs.

Ione will host the District 4 title Saturday, Nov. 18, in a state semifinal game. A likely opponent is Huntington, 8-man football state title last four years. Huntington plays Crane this weekend to determine who plays Ione on the 18th.

"We're not afraid of those ridiculous scores they've been piling up. If they think they're impressing anyone in this league, they're not," said Ione Coach Gordon Meyers. Huntington scored more than 100 points in each of two recent games.

Ione's Kent Gutierrez ran 11 times for 236 yards and four touchdowns against Wheeler. Coach Meyers credited the blocking of his linemen and backs for springing Gutierrez loose.

Wheeler finished the season with a 4-5 record overall. Ione is 9-0.

John Rietmann's National Award

The James E. Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation has announced John Rietmann of Ione High School as the second place winner in the National Grand Awards category of the Lincoln School Shop Awards. These awards are given for the best written entries describing arc welding school shop programs. This contest is open to all full time shop students enrolled in the high school, technical or trade schools located in the United States and is approved by the National Association of Secondary School Principals. Second place in this national contest brings $400.00 to John and $200.00 to the Ione High School shop program.

JACK WINS! National Scholarship to Kirk Robinson

Kirk L. Robinson, Rte 2, Heppner, was one of the more than 36 high school graduates receiving Central Exchange Foundation scholarships this year as part of a continuing education program.

Objectives of the scholarship program are to aid rural youth in obtaining trades and skills that will serve agriculture through cooperative agribusiness; to encourage cooperative agri-business employers to look to vocational-technical training programs as resources for development of skilled technicians trained to serve farmers.

Over $21,000 in scholarships was made available for distribution this past fall to students in states served by Central Exchange.

"The new program is open to students who have applied for enrollment in an agri-business related program at a recognized vocational technical school or junior college and is open to anyone," John McKay, Farmers Union Central Exchange president said.

Individual scholarships last the length of the course with a maximum of $600 payable over two years.

A non-profit association, the Central Exchange Foundation was established under Minnesota laws in 1947. It is governed by the Central

Mc Elligott Homestead Burns To The Ground

The old homestead home on the McElligott ranch was burned to the ground Thursday night. It was thought perhaps a faulty flue was the cause of the blaze. This is where the Charles McElligott raised their family and where there were many happy memories for three generations.

Lee Holboke known to all the McElligotts as Uncle Lee made his home there. He was a brother to Mrs. Charles McElligott, mother of Don and Dick. The family is grateful that he had gone to Dons for supper that evening and wasn't in the house at the time the fire started. He is sad to have lost his many precious books and his Bible.

The wind had died down and no other buildings caught fire. The hoses were kept on the other McElligott homes.

Close call for Shorty Peck

Harold Shorty Peck narrowly escaped serious injury last Saturday just at dark when his tractor brakes failed and he jumped from the moving tractor as it raced to the bottom of the canyon.

He had been seeding and had disengaged his drill and was going up the hill. As he shifted into 5th gear, he missed the gear and the tractor started moving backwards. His brakes went out.

The jar of the tractor as it picked up speed broke the windows and Shorty jumped out through the window.

Shortly after he left the machine, there were 10 feet where the tractor was off the ground. It cleared the fence at the bottom of the field and was air-borne for 30 feet. It landed rightside up and the next day, he started it up and drove it out of the canyon. Bruised and bleeding, he had to walk a mile to his pickup. He came into town to have a few stitches and he reports a stiff back and a lot of bruises.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Patients who received medical care from Pioneer Memorial Hospital and were dismissed were Lolita Marquardt, Lexington; Douglas Johnson, Heppner; Robert Mullivan, Forest Grove; Alice McCabe, Heppner and David Curtis, Spray.
