Changes at Elmas

The Harshman's grandson stands in the old storage room with a bouquet of flowers to show what "it's going to be" as he looks up at the bird's nest where some enterprising bird had made its home.

For quite some time, hammering, the sound of saws and smell of paint has emanated from Elma's Dress and Flower Shop. The Flower Shop has moved back where the storage room used to be. The women's apparel has been moved to where the Flower Shop used to be and a brand new line of men's wear and department store items are in the front part of the store.

This Saturday is Open House at the Flower Shop.

NOW

Figurines, vases and other accessories line the walls of the new Flower Shop.

Christmas Bazaar

The Episcopal Church Bazaar is over and appears to have been a grand success. Almost everything was sold and about $450 was made. Beverly Gunderson won the door prize. Over 100 were served at the luncheon which was provided.

The Jim Thomsons had their children home, not for Thanksgiving as they were all working, but for the weekend. Coming from Portland were Miss Bernice Thomson and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Thomson.

COWBELLES PLAN CHRISTMAS COFFEE

The president of Oregon Cowbelles Bev Leonnig will be here for the Cowbelles' Christmas Coffee and Style Show to be held Dec. 8 at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Ned Clark of Heppner was elected 2nd vice president of the district at the state convention in Medford recently. There will be no charge for the coffee and style show. All members are urged to attend, pay dues and bring prospective members as guests.

The Cowbelles are concentrating on an increase in membership in order to promote their slogan "Eat More Beef".

Mrs. James Connolly national Cowbelle president says "Numbers count when it comes to getting results. Each new membership means dollars to promote our programs in Beef Education and Consumer Relations on local, state and national levels."

Recently Morrow County Home Ec classes saw the film, the Story of Beef and received certificates totaling $80. for their beef cookery.

This was made possible by Morrow County Cowbelles and Livestock Growers. Mrs. Merlin Hughes, president and Mrs.

Raymond French, chairman of Beef in School visited the high schools in the county to show the film, answer questions and present the certificates.

"The Brand of a Boy" by Dayton Hyde has been placed in the elementary school libraries. It is the story of a young boy on a cattle ranch who raises a steer for market. Ernest Teal, curriculum coordinator for Morrow County Schools reports that this is a popular book with the students.

Cowbelles also want to remind you that beef gift certificates are an ideal Christmas gift.

San Souci Elect New Officers

Sans Souci Rebekah held their last meeting of the month on Nov. 17th with N.G. Alta Stevens presiding. A warm welcome was extended to Merlyn Robinson who had not been with us for some time.

Business taken care of at this meeting included election of officers for the coming year. Elected was: Esther Bergstrom, N.G.; Ola Ruggles, V.G.; Adelle LaTrace, Rec. Sec'y; Betty Road, Treasurer and Opal Cook, Financial Sec'y. These officers along with the appointive officers, will be installed in January when the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs hold their joint public installation ceremonies.

During the evening the Charter was draped in memory of Altha Kirk. Draping in memory of Mattie Green had taken place at a previous meeting. This is a very impressive ceremony in Rebekah work, in which 10 ladies in white formal carry lighted candles and small flower sprays to place on the Altar in loving remembrance of a deceased member.

At this meeting, a donation was made to the Home Endowment fund in memory of the two members, Mrs. Kirk had been a member of Sans Souci for 51 years, having been initiated in Feb. 1921. She had gone thru all the chairs and had been a very active member throughout the years.

Mrs. Green was also an active member, and was initiated in 1938. Both ladies have done much in the promotion of Mr. and Mrs. Pete McMurry were visited last week by Mr. McMurry's sister, Mrs. Mary Andresen of Eugene.

There was my friend who sold some furniture that she'd advertised, the morning the paper came out. Now I ask you what kind of a friend is it who won't let you say which one did what?

HARVEY

The play Harvey was tremendously entertaining. The acting was as good as any we have seen in any place we've been in Portland and twice as much fun as we knew the actors.

Beside that most of us have a "Harvey" maybe not a 6-foot rabbit but a pooka of some other kind.

Two-Ways

I was kinda amused at some of our good Morrow County friends. They were sure this was the first time a lot of those people from across the mountains here for the Alsea-Ione game had ever been in south Morrow County.

I am equally sure that a lot of Morrow County didn't know where Alsea was and weren't pronouncing it right. It came out Alsea.

Not that I'm so smart but the last time we came from the coast we came up the Alsea River and its gotta be the most fished in river in Ore. Never have we seen so many fishermen in one river. We stopped at Alsea to see Linda Carper, the High School librarian. We knew her in Joseph when she taught there. No. 66 was her son. Alsea is about 20 miles out of Philomath.

Gesture

It would have been a nice gesture for Heppner to have offered to join forces with the Ione band to have had a super band performance at the championship game.

ONE FINN TO ANOTHER

Judy Lake whose ancestors came from Finland visited in Finland last year as an IFYE. She was in Morrow County recently to tell about her visit.

While Finland is north like Alaska the climate is much milder and much like western Oregon. Part of the charm of being an IFYE is learning to know the grass-roots of the country they visit. She stayed for three weeks with each of seven families in different parts of the country. While there she learned conversational Finnish. She helped them process the wool, spin it into yarn and did hand weaving on the looms. The looms were also used to weave mats (rugs) from strips of cotton cloth similar to that used in our country in making rag rugs.

The men used tractors in the fields. Their society moves at a much slower pace.

It snows in winter. Skiing is all cross-country as they have no mountains.

"America has much more influence than you can imagine". They want frequent assurance that they are doing things "just like in America." They like TV and new clothes but they are slow to change from their traditions. They have electricity but they still bake their bread 10 - 12 loaves at a time in a big brick oven.
